AMENDMENTS

TO THE

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

AMENDMENT 14

1. * * * [Same as parent volume.]

2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for president and vice-president of the United States, representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a state, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such state, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such state.

3 to 5. * * * [Same as parent volume.]

Compiler's Notes

Section 2 of Amendment 14 is printed above to correct a typographical error in the parent volume by substituting "excluding" for "including" in the first sentence.

AMENDMENT 23

1. The district constituting the seat of government of the United States shall appoint in such manner as the congress may direct:

A number of electors of president and vice-president equal to the whole number of senators and representatives in congress to which the district would be entitled if it were a state, but in no event more than the least populous state; they shall be in addition to those appointed by the states, but they shall be considered, for the purposes of the election of president and vice-president, to be electors appointed by a state; and they shall meet in the district and perform such duties as provided by the twelfth article of amendment.

2. The congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

The twenty-third amendment was submitted by Congress on June 16, 1960, declared in force April 3, 1961.

AMENDMENT 24

1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote in any primary or other election for president or vice-president, for electors for president or vice-president, or for senator or representative in congress, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state by reason of failure to pay any poll tax or other tax.

2. The congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

The twenty-fourth amendment was submitted by Congress on January 10, 1962, declared in force February 4, 1964.

AMENDMENT 25

1. In case of the removal of the president from office or of his death or resignation, the vice-president shall become president.

2. Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of the vice-president, the president shall nominate a vice-president who shall take office upon confirmation by a majority vote of both houses of congress.

3. Whenever the president transmits to the president pro tempore of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives his written declaration that he is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, and until he transmits to them a written declaration to the contrary, such powers and duties shall be discharged by the vice-president as acting president.

4. Whenever the vice-president and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive departments or of such other body as congress may by law provide, transmit to the president pro tempore of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives their written declaration that the president is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the vice-president shall immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as acting president.

Thereafter, when the president transmits to the president pro tempore of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives his written declaration that no inability exists, he shall resume the powers and duties of his office unless the vice-president and a majority of either the principal officers of the executive department or of such other body as congress may by law provide, transmit within four days to the president pro tempore of the senate and the speaker of the house of representatives their written declaration that the president is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office. Thereupon congress shall decide the issue, assembling within forty-eight hours for that purpose if not in session. If the congress, within twenty-one days after receipt of the latter written declaration, or, if congress is not in session, within twenty-one days after congress is required to assemble, determines by two-thirds vote of both houses that the president is unable to discharge the powers and duties of his office, the vice-president shall continue to discharge the same as acting president; otherwise, the president shall resume the powers and duties of his office.

The twenty-fifth amendment was submitted by Congress on July 7, 1965, declared in force February 23, 1967.

AMENDMENT 26

1. The right of citizens of the United States, who are eighteen years of age or older, to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of age.

2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

The twenty-sixth amendment was submitted by Congress on January 21, 1971, declared in force July 5, 1971.

Crime on Indian Reservation

Conviction of non-Indian for killing two bull elk on Crow Indian Reservation during season closed by state fish and game laws was not in conflict with act of Congress providing penalty for trespass to possessory rights of reservation Indians nor in conflict with Montana Enabling Act providing that Indian lands shall remain under the absolute jurisdiction and control of Congress of United States. State v. Danielson, 149 M 438, 427 P 2d 689.

§ 11. That all lands granted by this act shall be disposed of only at public sale after advertising—tillable lands capable of producing agricultural crops for not less than ten dollars ($10.00) per acre, and lands principally valuable for grazing purposes for not less than five dollars ($5.00) per acre. Any of the said lands may be exchanged for other lands, public or private, of equal value and as near as may be of equal area, but if any of the said lands are exchanged with the United States such exchange shall be limited to surveyed, nonmineral, unreserved public lands of the United States within the state.

Except as otherwise provided herein, the said lands may be leased under such regulations as the legislature may prescribe. Leases for the production of minerals, including leases for exploration for oil, gas, and other hydrocarbons, and the extraction thereof, shall be for such term of years and on such conditions as may be from time to time provided by the legislatures of the respective states; leases for grazing and agricultural purposes shall be for a term not longer than ten years; and leases for development of hydroelectric power shall be for a term not longer than fifty years.

The state may also, upon such terms as it may prescribe grant such easements or rights in any of the lands granted by this act, as may be acquired in privately owned lands through proceedings in eminent domain; provided, however, that none of such lands, nor any estate or interest therein, shall ever be disposed of except in pursuance of general laws providing for such disposition, nor unless the full market value of the estate or interest disposed of, to be ascertained in such manner as may be provided by law, has been paid or safely secured to the state.

With the exception of the lands granted for public buildings, the proceeds from the sale and other permanent disposition of any of the said lands and from every part thereof, shall constitute permanent funds for the support and maintenance of the public schools and the various state institutions for which the lands have been granted. Rentals on leased land, proceeds from the sale of timber and other crops, interest on deferred payments on land sold, interest on funds arising from these lands, and all other actual income, shall be available for the acquisition and construction of facilities, including the retirement of bonds authorized by law for such purposes, and for the maintenance and support of such schools and institutions. Any state may, however, in its discretion, add a portion of the annual income to the permanent funds.

The lands hereby granted shall not be subject to pre-emption, homestead entry, or any other entry under the land laws of the United States, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, but shall be reserved for the purposes for which they have been granted.

NOTE. — This section given as last amended by an act of Congress, June 30, 1967, 81 Stat. at L. 106.

Leasing for Underground Storage

The law authorizing the lease of state lands for underground storage of natural gas does not violate this section. State ex rel. Hughes v. State Board of Land Commrs., 137 M 510, 353 P 2d 331, 335.

§ 25. * * *

Compiler's Note

A note under this section in the parent volume refers to an act of congress, ch. 183, 62 Stat. at L. 170. The correct date of the act is April 13, 1948, not 1949 as shown in the parent volume.

CONSTITUTION

STATE OF MONTANA

[Replaced by the 1972 Constitution, effective July 1, 1973]

ARTICLE III—A DECLARATION OF RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA

Sec. 2.

References

Cited in Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907, 909, 912.

Sec. 3.

Gasoline Tax Refund

Motorboat operator could not raise due process or equal protection objections to gasoline tax statute making no provision for nonhighway use refund since statute made gasoline dealer taxpayer, rather than consumer, and consumer, as motorboat operator, was not proper representative of all nonhighway users. Harvey v. Blewett, 151 M 427, 443 P 2d 902.

Statutes Invalid under This Provision

Sections 3 and 27 of this article serve to inhibit the police power in this state, and chapter 153 of the session laws of Montana, 1961, which discriminatorily restrained the use of trading stamps or other redeemable devices in retail business by imposing an unreasonably high and prohibitive tax was unconstitutional under these sections. Garden Spot Market, Inc. v. Byrne, 141 M 382, 378 P 2d 220.

Chapter 277, Laws of 1965, providing for nonresident contractors' license fees, was invalid under this section since, by imposing a one per cent tax on gross receipts, rather than on profits, it could have deprived contractors of their right to engage in business as protected by the provisions of this section. State ex rel. Schultz-Lindsay Constr. Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 145 M 380, 403 P 2d 635.

Sections 1-829 to 1-832, imposing a tax on each passenger enplaning on an air common carrier at a Montana airport, are repugnant to this section in creating an unreasonable and undue discrimination. Northwest Airlines, Inc. v. Joint City-County Airport Board, 154 M 352, 463 P 2d 470.

Sec. 4.

Corporate License Tax on Organization of Church Society

The corporate license tax imposed under R. C. M. 1947, section 84-1501 et seq., on the agricultural activities of a religious society formed for the purposes of farming, stock growing, and other branches of agriculture does not conflict with constitutional provisions relating to religious freedom. State v. King Colony Ranch, 137 M 145, 350 P 2d 841.

Sec. 6.

References

State ex rel. Peery v. District Court, 145 M 287, 400 P 2d 648; Tooker v. State, 147 M 207, 410 P 2d 923.

Sec. 7.

Description in Search Warrant

Evidence obtained in a search of defendant's home was properly used to convict the defendant of grand larceny, even though the items seized were not specifically described in the search warrant pursuant to which the search and seizure was conducted. State v. Gray, 152 M 145, 447 P 2d 475.

Probable Cause

Where affidavit for search warrant merely stated that affiant had knowledge and believed that designated articles taken in burglary were located on the premises but contained no facts for judicial determination, probable cause was not established. Application of Gray, 155 M 510, 473 P 2d 532.

Where affidavit for search warrant did not establish probable cause, the search warrant was illegally issued and void, and the admission as evidence of the fruits of the search was prejudicial error. Application of Gray, 155 M 510, 473 P 2d 532.

Sufficiency of Affidavit

Additional information besides that contained in affidavit for search warrant could not be used to uphold its issuance, since the affidavit itself is required to provide exclusive support for issuance of search warrant. Application of Gray, 155 M 510, 473 P 2d 532.

Telephone Communications

It was a violation of the right of privacy guaranteed by this section for wife's sister to listen on an extension, unknown to husband, to telephone conversation between husband and wife, and sister's testimony as to threat made by husband during the conversation was inadmissible in prosecution of husband for wife's murder. State v. Brecht, 157 M 264, 485 P 2d 47.

When Rights May Be Waived

Where defendant admitted a sheriff, a deputy sheriff, and two livestock inspectors onto his ranch on three separate occasions to inspect his calves, and helped them to corral the animals, he waived his constitutional right against unreasonable search and seizure by consenting to the actions of the state authorities. State v. Peters, 146 M 188, 405 P 2d 642.

Constitutional rights of defendant convicted of grand larceny of cattle were not violated by evidence of worked-over brands given by witnesses privileged to travel on open range on which defendant had mere nonexclusive license to graze cattle and further evidence obtained while removing cattle in vicinity of defendant's home with defendant's consent. State v. Johnson, 149 M 173, 424 P 2d 728.

Sec. 8.

Necessity for Indictment

Charges made by information filed after hearing before magistrate, or by leave of district court are sanctioned by statute and constitution and defendant may be held to answer, even for capital crime, without presentment or indictment by grand jury. State v. Corliss, 150 M 40, 430 P 2d 632, certiorari denied, 390 US 961, 88 S Ct 1063.

Complaint in a justice court, rather than indictment, was proper on charge of misdemeanor of obtaining money by false pretenses. Petition of Brown, 150 M 483, 436 P 2d 693.

Preliminary Hearing

Grant of leave to file information directly, without preliminary hearing, was neither error nor abuse of statutory privilege to bypass preliminary hearing, where motion to file directly was supported by affidavit and where preliminary hearing would have served no purpose. State v. Johnson, 149 M 173, 424 P 2d 728.

City of Bozeman v. Ramsey, 139 M 148, 362 P 2d 206, 211; Petition of Jones, 146 M 305, 405 P 2d 978; Petition of Evans, 146 M 405, 409 P 2d 456; Tooker v. State, 147 M 207, 410 P 2d 923.

Sec. 9.

Forfeiture of Estate

Prohibiting wife who plead guilty to voluntary manslaughter in death of her husband from taking of his estate by intestate succession or dower, and from taking his share of jointly owned property, and making her a constructive trustee of that property for the benefit of beneficiaries and devisees under her husband's will, did not violate this section. Sikora v. Sikora, — M —, 499 P 2d 808.

Sec. 10.

Freedom of Speech

Bank president's statement that he was displeased with verdict against bank and that jurors could not expect to do business with bank was valid exercise of free speech under this section, since statement was made 22 days after final disposition of case and since court of which jury is a part is not above individual criticism after case is disposed of. State ex rel. Polish v. District Court of Third Judicial District in and for County of Powell, 156 M 220, 478 P 2d 270.

Sec. 11.

Ex Post Facto Application

A parole and probation statute which had not been in effect at the time prisoner began serving his sentence but was in effect following a new trial in which prisoner was reconvicted and began again serving a ten-year sentence, which had the effect of increasing prisoner's time by allowing less time off for good behavior than did the prior probation law, was ex post facto as to that prisoner. State ex rel. Nelson v. Ellsworth, 142 M 14, 380 P 2d 886.

General saving clause, section 43-514, interpreted so as to preserve for prosecution all criminal offenses committed prior to repeal, absent an express legislative intent to contrary contained in repealing act, does not violate this section as constituting ex post facto legislation. State ex rel. Huffman v. District Court, 154 M 201, 461 P 2d 847.

Laws Not Violating This Provision

Statute amending initiative act providing for honorarium for World War II veterans eligible to receive honorariums did not violate this section. Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907, 918.

The provisions of former section 32-1625, relating to the costs of relocating utility facilities, do not violate this section. Jones v. Burns, 138 M 268, 357 P 2d 22, 35.

Sec. 14.

Acts Not Violating This Provision

The requirements of subsection 9 of section 11-602, R. C. M. 1947, that a portion of platted subdivisions be dedicated to public park purposes are not an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to city and county authorities, nor is the enforcement of these requirements a confiscation of private property without compensation or an invalid extension of the police power. Billings Properties, Inc. v. Yellowstone County, 144 M 25, 394 P 2d 182.

Damages Comprehended by This Provision

Where plaintiff's property was within the announced route of proposed interstate highway and he was therefore unable to sell, lease, develop or finance said property for a period of five years after the announcement, he was allowed no recovery under this section as no property was actually taken or damaged by the state. Bakken v. State Highway Commission, 142 M 166, 382 P 2d 550.

Easement as Property

A ditch is an easement, is property as used in this section, and may not be taken for public purpose without just compensation. Colarchik v. Watkins, 144 M 17, 393 P 2d 786.

Just Compensation

In eminent domain proceedings, the jury findings will generally not be disturbed on appeal unless they are so obviously and palpably out of proportion to the injury done as to be in excess of just compensation provided by this section. State v. Peterson 134 M 52, 328 P 2d 617, 620.

An owner may testify as to the reasonable value of the property for the general use to which he is putting it, but to go beyond that field, in estimating its worth, he must possess the qualifications required of a general witness as to value. Alexander v. State Highway Commission, 142 M 93, 381 P 2d 780, distinguished in 142 M 256, 260, 384 P 2d 770; State Highway Commission v. Keneally, 142 M 256, 384 P 2d 770.

Where there was conflicting testimony as to amount of damage to plaintiff's land after condemnation by state of part of that land, jury's finding as to amount of damage for the injury done was not so excessive as to be a violation of this section providing for just compensation. State Highway Commission v. Biastoch Meats, Inc., 145 M 261, 400 P 2d 274.

In eminent domain proceedings the findings of the district court will generally not be disturbed on appeal unless they are so obviously and palpably out of proportion to the injury done as to be in excess of just compensation provided for by this section. State Highway Commission v. Woodcock, 147 M 291, 411 P 2d 357.

Where condemnee's house was between fifty and sixty years old and had been converted into a multiple family dwelling, court did not err in excluding evidence of reconstruction costs or comparable sales elsewhere in determining value of the property since there was no way of determining depreciation of the old house in arriving at reconstruction cost figures, nor were there sufficient comparable sales in the area. State Highway Commission v. Tubbs, 147 M 296, 411 P 2d 739.

Where amount of just compensation as determined by jury is based on credible evidence as to market value of highest and best use for which land is available, the verdict and judgment will not be set aside. State Highway Commission v. Vaughan, 155 M 277, 470 P 2d 967.

Municipal Property

Property held by city is defined by sec. 93-9904 as private property and, when, taken by state for more necessary public use, must be paid for in same manner as if taken from a private owner. City of Three Forks v. State Highway Commission, 156 M 392, 480 P 2d 826.

Payment or Tender of Compensation

Where party sued the state for damages and just compensation, the action was treated as any other damage action and on appeal plaintiff could not claim it to be an inverse condemnation action and require the state to pay into court the amount of damages prayed for in the complaint. State ex rel. State Highway Commission v. District Court, 142 M 198, 383 P 2d 481.

Trespass Damages

Where state took city property without first paying just compensation, it waived its sovereign immunity, and measure of damages properly included trespass damages. City of Three Forks v. State Highway Commission, 156 M 392, 480 P 2d 826.

Cited or applied in Neil v. Lewis and Clark County, 133 M 323, 323 P 2d 270, 273.

Sec. 15.

Previously Acquired Rights

Mandamus to compel fish pond licensee, in compliance with later statute, to construct fish ladder on diversion dam installed seven years before with approval of commission would be denied on theory that individuals who have put water to beneficial use should not have their rights arbitrarily diluted under claim of sovereign right. Paradise Rainbows v. Fish and Game Commission, 148 M 412, 421 P 2d 717.

Rights-of-Way of Necessity

There can be implied reservations or implied grants of easement by necessity in Montana. Thisted v. Country Club Tower Corp., 146 M 87, 103, 405 P 2d 432, overruling Herrin v. Sieben, 46 M 226, 127 P 323; Violet v. Martin, 62 M 335, 205 P 221 and Simonson v. McDonald, 131 M 494, 311 P 2d 982, 984.

Sec. 16.

Competency of Court-appointed Counsel

Failure of court-appointed counsel to object to certain remarks by the prosecutor was not alone sufficient to deprive defendant of due process under this section in the absence of a showing that counsel displayed such a lack of diligence and competence as to reduce the trial to a "farce or a sham." State v. Noller, 142 M 35, 381 P 2d 293.

Discharge of Court-appointed Counsel

Where court-appointed counsel failed to advise clerk's office as to what would be required for record on appeal from conviction of burglary and there was no record before the supreme court, defendant had been denied his right to effective representation by counsel on his appeal under former section 94-4806 and the cause was remanded to the district court for revocation of appointment of counsel and appointment of competent and effective counsel to prosecute the appeal properly. State v. Bubnash, 139 M 517, 366 P 2d 155, 158.

Where defendant charged with burglary was granted the services of court-appointed counsel under former section 94-4806, he did not have the right to discharge such counsel unless he was able to provide counsel at his own expense or desired to undertake his own defense. However, upon a proper showing, such counsel could be discharged by the trial court. Peters v. State, 139 M 634, 366 P 2d 158.

Impartial Jury

District court did not abuse its discretion in denying defendant's motion for change of venue with leave to renew after trial jury was selected, where affidavits and testimony were inconclusive as to existence of county-wide bias and prejudice against defendant, and where motion was not renewed at time jury was finally selected. State v. Logan, 156 M 48, 473 P 2d 833.

Refusal of trial court to permit voir dire examination of prospective jurors on subjects related to defense of insanity, for which defendant had given notice, and denial to defendant of opportunity to make opening statement until after presentation of prosecution's case was improper interference with defendant's right to have jury consider his defense. State v. Olson, 156 M 339, 480 P 2d 822.

Section 95-1506, subsection (d), which authorizes judges to consider and to determine validity of prior conviction before imposing sentence under increased sentence law does not unconstitutionally deprive accused of right to jury trial. Newman v. Estelle, 156 M 502, 484 P 2d 276, certiorari denied, 404 US 966, 30 L Ed 2d 285, 92 S Ct 341.

Perfection of Appeal

Even though supreme court dismissed appeal in criminal case because court-appointed counsel was late in filing notice of appeal, the court considered the questions presented on appeal because defendant had no voice in the appointment of counsel. State v. Frodsham, 139 M 222, 362 P 2d 413, 418.

Presumption of Innocence

Instruction that while mere unexplained possession of stolen property was not sufficient to justify conviction, one found in possession of property that may have been stolen must explain such possession in order to remove effect of that fact as circumstance to be considered with other evidence pointing to guilt, did not deprive defendant of presumption of innocence. State v. Gray, 152 M 145, 447 P 2d 475.

Right of Accused To Meet Witnesses against Him Face to Face

Where defendant pleaded guilty to grand larceny, the extent of his punishment should have been determined under former section 94-2706 by the exercise of a sound discretion on the part of the trial judge after the circumstances had been "presented by the testimony of witnesses examined in open court." Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347.

The right to confrontation is not an absolute one, and may be circumscribed by the right to take depositions as provided for in section 17, article III of the Montana constitution. Tooker v. State, 147 M 207, 410 P 2d 923.

Right To Appear and Defend in Person

A defendant's constitutional and statutory right to be present at trial does not encompass proceedings before the court involving matters of law, but only where the jury is hearing his cause or where his presence is essential to a fair and just determination of a substantial issue. State v. Peters, 146 M 188, 405 P 2d 642.

This provision and former section 94-7004, requiring the presence of a defendant at trial, do not require that the defendant be present at a hearing on a motion for a new trial because such a hearing is held after the verdict has been rendered and is not part of the trial. State v. Peters, 146 M 188, 405 P 2d 642.

Right to Counsel

his choice; unless there is good cause shown why the court's appointment should not have been made, indigent defendant must accept attorney selected by court or waive right to be represented by counsel. State v. Forsness, — M —, 495 P 2d 176.

Where counsel appointed by court with defendant's approval effectively represented defendant for several weeks before trial, including securing postponements and filing of several motions, then defendant sought to discharge counsel the day before trial and have new counsel appointed, there was no denial of right to counsel in court's refusal to permit counsel to withdraw, thus forcing defendant to proceed to trial with appointed counsel. State v. Forsness, — M —, 495 P 2d 176.

Right to Introduce Evidence

In a murder prosecution the court properly refused to permit the defendant to introduce the results of a lie-detector test given five and one-half months after the crime to which it referred. State v. Hollywood, 138 M 561, 358 P 2d 437, 444.

Right to Speedy Trial

Convicted forger's right to a speedy trial was not violated by delaying the trial until the defendant had been paroled from the state prison. State v. Mielke, 148 M 320, 420 P 2d 155, 157.

In determining whether right to speedy trial had been violated for purposes of constitution and statute requiring dismissal of action if not brought to trial within six months after filing of information, court would count only days of delay which had not been caused by defendants, sum total of which was less than six months, notwithstanding that more than six months had passed since filing of information. State ex rel. Thomas v. District Court, Thirteenth Judicial District, 151 M 1, 438 P 2d 554.

Sec. 17.

Right To Confront Witnesses

This provision, allowing for the taking of depositions, does not violate section 16, article III of the Montana constitution, which provides for the right to confrontation, and depositions taken under authority of this provision are admissible at trial upon a showing that the witness is either dead or not within the jurisdiction. Tooker v. State, 147 M 207, 410 P 2d 923.

Sec. 18.

Double or Former Jeopardy

Defendant charged with sale of intoxicating liquor to a minor was not placed in former jeopardy in violation of this section, by a dismissal of the complaint upon his demurrer in justice court without any further proceedings. State v. Moore, 138 M 379, 357 P 2d 346, 347.

Where the defendant was charged with twenty-two counts of statutory rape, conviction on one or more of those counts could not be imposed as a bar to a prosecution for any of the other offenses charged, and where they were set forth separately in the information, there was no violation of state or federal constitutional prohibitions. State v. Boe, 143 M 141, 388 P 2d 372.

Imprisonment imposed as a punishment under a valid judgment and sentence in a criminal prosecution places the defendant once in jeopardy within the ambit of this section. In re Williams' Petition, 145 M 45, 399 P 2d 732.

Jeopardy, as applied to double punishment in the constitutional sense, requires punishment imposed as such and for that purpose and has no application to probationary rules placing reasonable restraints on a person's actions and conduct for the purpose of his rehabilitation. In re Williams' Petition, 145 M 45, 399 P 2d 732.

Information in five counts, three of which alleged larceny of more than one cow, did not violate former jeopardy provision in that each count stated separate offense under grand larceny statute making theft of each animal separate and distinct offense and in view of further statute permitting information to charge more than one offense in separate counts. State v. Johnson, 149 M 173, 424 P 2d 728.

Statute providing for a penalty of $1,000 for any excess freight weight over 25,000 pounds is penalty in addition to other penalties provided by statute and violates neither double jeopardy provision of Constitution nor statute providing that when action is punishable under different provisions of Code, punishment may be had under only one of them. State ex rel. Oleson v. District Court, Eleventh Judicial District, 151 M 12, 438 P 2d 560.

Information charging drug offense was insufficient where it contained neither identity of informer nor specific facts concerning the offense and identity of time and place to protect accused from double jeopardy. State ex rel. Offerdahl v. District Court, 156 M 432, 481 P 2d 338.

Defendant who had been acquitted on directed verdict in federal court of charge of assaulting FBI agent could not subsequently be prosecuted in state court for assault arising out of same transaction, even though basis for federal acquittal was failure to prove that victim was acting in performance of duties. State v. LeCoure, — M —, 491 P 2d 1228.

Self-Incrimination

A disbarment proceeding is not a criminal prosecution, but a special proceeding of a civil nature, and the court is not therefore precluded under former section 94-8803, from taking into consideration the accused's failure to be sworn in his own behalf. In re Wellcome, 23 M 450, 468, 59 P 445.

An instruction, submitted to the jury in a criminal case, embodying the provisions of former section 94-8803, which prohibited comment on defendant's failure to testify, was not open to the objection that it practically deprived accused of the presumption of innocence. State v. Farnham, 35 M 375, 89 P 728.

While it is the general rule that a court ought not in its instructions single out a particular witness and direct the attention of the jury to his testimony, former section 94-8803 made an exception to the rule, and the court could properly instruct that the jury, in judging the credibility of one on trial for a crime and the weight to be given to his testimony, could take into consideration the fact that he was the defendant, and the nature and enormity of the crime of which he stood charged. State v. De Lea, 36 M 531, 93 P 814.

Where defendant did not testify in his own behalf, an instruction in the words of former section 94-8803 that if defendant did testify, the jury, in judging of the credibility and weight of his testimony, could take into consideration the fact that he was the defendant and the nature and enormity of the crime, though unnecessary, was harmless. State v. Stevens, 60 M 390, 199 P 256; State v. Kessler, 74 M 166, 239 P 1000.

In a prosecution for grand larceny, an instruction which had the effect of placing a burden on the defendant to explain his possession of stolen property was erroneous. Such a burden deprives defendant of his cloak of innocence and forces him to testify. The cases of State v. Sparks, 40 M 82, 105 P 87 and State v. Willette, 46 M 326, 127 P 1013, to the extent they impose a burden to explain or testify concerning any charge of possessing stolen goods are overruled. State v. Greeno, 135 M 580, 342 P 2d 1052.

In prosecution for second-degree assault, court did not err in giving general instruction which prescribed standard by which jury might judge defendant's credibility as authorized by former section 94-8803. State v. Manning, 149 M 517, 429 P 2d 625.

Instruction that mere unexplained possession of stolen property was not sufficient to justify conviction but that one found in possession of property that may have been stolen must explain such possession in order to remove effect of that fact as circumstance to be considered with other evidence pointing to guilt did not deprive defendant of his right to remain silent. State v. Gray, 152 M 145, 447 P 2d 475.

Conviction of petty larceny was reversed and new trial granted where prosecutor in final argument to jury made comment to jury which could only have been construed as reflecting prejudicially on defendant's failure to take stand and testify. State v. Hart, 154 M 310, 462 P 2d 885.

Portion of trial court's instruction to jury which stated that failure of defendant to explain his possession of stolen property pointed to his guilt did not amount to forbidden comment on defendant's failure to testify since such explanation could have been given by defendant, by having another person testify, or by introducing real evidence. State v. Branch, 155 M 22, 465 P 2d 821.

Prosecutor's statement to jury on voir dire that rape case has only two witnesses, the people involved, and that jury must weigh their respective testimony if defendant chooses to testify did not prejudice defendant's case by compelling him to testify contrary to his rights under this section. State v. Anderson, 156 M 122, 476 P 2d 780.

Involuntary nature of defendant's confession was not established under pre-Miranda criteria by findings that defendant was sixteen years old at the time, that the confession was made during in-custody interrogation, and that defendant was advised, before making any admissions, that he could have a lawyer and did not have to say anything. State v. White, — M —, 490 P 2d 720.

Admission of evidence of crime discovered by lawful search incident to arrest for which there was probable cause did not compel defendant to be a witness against himself. State v. Harris, — M —, 498 P 2d 1222.

Sec. 19.

Amount of Bail

The amount of bail which the judge may fix is within his sound legal discretion, and is always to be a reasonable amount. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407.

The trial judge in determining the amount of bail to be fixed, should take into consideration the enormity of the crime charged; the maximum penalty which the law authorizes; the pecuniary condition of the defendant; the probability of the defendant's flight to avoid punishment; his general character and reputation; the apparent nature and strength of the proof as bearing upon the probability of his conviction; and other matters bearing upon the particular case. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407.

Court did not err in refusing defendant's motion to reduce bail which was initially set at $25,000, where the person assaulted was in a very precarious condition and it was not known whether he would live or die. When the judge was advised that the victim would probably live, he reduced the bail to $7,500 which was a very reasonable amount. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407, 408.

Capital Offenses

First-degree murder is a bailable capital offense except in cases where it has been shown that the proof is evident or the presumption great. State v. Zachmeier, 153 M 64, 453 P 2d 783.

Trial court abused its discretion in denying bail after reversal of conviction for first-degree murder and remand for new trial, where defendant offered evidence of good conduct while in prison, appeared for sentencing after release on bail for two weeks after guilty verdict in the first trial, made proof as to an amount of bail and its availability, and was not a security risk; transcript of first trial did not establish presumption of guilt sufficient to deny bail where conviction had been reversed for error committed without discussion of several issues, including sufficiency of the evidence. State ex rel. Warwick v. District Court, — M —, 500 P 2d 800.

Sec. 20.

Cruel and Unusual Punishment

Fourteen-year prison sentence with four years suspended, was not cruel and unusual punishment under this section or the eighth amendment to the United States Constitution on conviction of first-degree burglary where maximum prison sentence provided by statute was fifteen years. State v. Harris, — M —, 498 P 2d 1222.

Tax Penalty

The double penalty provided for in the income tax statute (84-4924, subd. 2, before the 1955 amendment) did not violate this section. State ex rel. Hardy v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 43, 319 P 2d 1061, 1063.

Sec. 23.

Declaratory Judgment

A party has a right to a jury trial on demand where the suit is for a declaratory judgment and there are triable issues of fact. Mahan v. Hardland, 147 M 78, 410 P 2d 156.

Deliberations of Jury

Trial court did not err in denying plaintiff's motion for a new trial, on the ground of misconduct of the jury during its deliberations, supported by affidavits of four jurors indicating that the irregularity was not on a material matter in dispute, where plaintiff was probably not prejudiced by juror's misconduct in improperly referring to prior litigation in which plaintiff had been involved, the poll of the jury showing an eight to four verdict for the plaintiff. Schmoyer v. Bourdeau, 148 M 340, 420 P 2d 316, 317.

When the jury retires to the jury room it should be concerned only with the evidence and the law; the verdict, thus, is the result of a fair expression of opinion by all the jurors. Schmoyer v Bourdeau, 148 M 340, 420 P 2d 316, 317.

Equitable Actions

In action to foreclose mortgage securing promissory notes, defendant was not entitled to jury trial as matter of right on his cross-complaint and counterclaim for damages, since actions for mortgage foreclosures are equitable and triable by court without jury and cannot be transformed into actions at law merely by raising an issue of law in answer. Citizens State Bank v. Duus, 154 M 18, 459 P 2d 696.

Sec. 24.

Penalty Assessment on Forfeited Bail and Fines

In so far as statute provided for penalty assessment on forfeited bail and on fines, it was void as violation of constitutional provision that laws for punishment of crime should be founded on principles of reformation and prevention. State ex rel. Sanders v. City of Butte, 151 M 171, 441 P 2d 190.

Sec. 27.

Arbitrary Exercise of Licensing Power

The arrest of a person for operating a dry cleaning call office within the city without a license, where city's licensing ordinance did not cover such a business, violated the provisions against the taking of property without due process of law. State ex rel. Willumsen v. City of Butte, 135 M 350, 340 P 2d 535.

Criminal Appeals

Dismissal of a criminal appeal for failure to file timely notice of appeal is not a denial of due process, even though the failure was that of court-appointed counsel in whose appointment defendant had no voice. State v. Frodsham, 139 M 222, 362 P 2d 413, 419.

Destruction of Property Without a Trial or Hearing

Proceedings for the destruction of property in many cases must necessarily be summary and without a previous trial or hearing in such cases, and such proceedings are due process. Ruona v. City of Billings, 136 M 554, 323 P 2d 29, 31.

Discriminatory Tax

Sections 1-829 to 1-832, imposing a tax on each passenger emplaning on an air common carrier at a Montana airport, are repugnant to this section in creating an unreasonable and undue discrimination. Northwest Airlines, Inc. v. Joint City-County Airport Board, 154 M 352, 463 P 2d 470.

Fundamental Rights

"Due process of law" refers to and means certain fundamental rights which our system of jurisprudence has always recognized, that is, of requiring notice to be given and a hearing had before the property may be taken, or impressed with a lien, giving to the owner thereof these constitutional prerogatives. Great Northern Railway Co. v. Roosevelt County, 134 M 355, 332 P 2d 501, 505, distinguished in 138 M 69, 354 P 2d 1056, 1058, and in 146 M 425, 407 P 2d 703, 706.

Gasoline Tax Refund

Motorboat operator could not raise due process or equal protection objections to gasoline tax statute making no provision for nonhighway use refund since statute made gasoline dealer taxpayer, rather than consumer, and consumer, as motorboat operator, was not proper representative of all nonhighway users. Harvey v. Blewett, 151 M 427, 443 P 2d 902.

Hearings by Public Service Commission

Where audit had been requested in utility rate increase case by opponents of increase, both sides were given ample time to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses, opponents were permitted to go into utility books with expert witnesses, and the public service commission hired independent rate experts, opponents were not denied a full and fair hearing because of posthearing audit made by the employees of the commission. Cascade County Consumers Assn. v. Public Service Commission, 144 M 169, 394 P 2d 856, 869, certiorari denied, 380 US 909, 85 S Ct 891. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 169, 394 P 2d 856, 875.)

Although section 70-104 authorizes an informal hearing by public service commission in proceedings to set aside rate increases, fundamentals of fair hearing were denied parties opposing rate increase when a hearing was held by the public service commission when the opponents were not present, and when the testimony of that hearing was not spread on the record. Cascade County Consumers Assn. v. Public Service Commission, 144 M 169, 394 P 2d 856, 864, certiorari denied, 380 US 909, 85 S Ct 891. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 169, 394 P 2d 856, 875.)

Insanity Determination

Commitment of patient to state hospital in civil proceeding, without a jury trial or benefit of counsel in face of protest to jurisdiction of judge on basis that he had previously sentenced patient to five-year prison sentence did not constitute violation of due process since patient had neither mentioned nor requested counsel or jury trial at time of hearing and since determination of sanity question was made by medical jurors and not by judge. Petition of Brown, 151 M 440, 444 P 2d 304.

Jury Trial

Refusal of trial court to permit voir dire examination of prospective jurors on subjects related to defense of insanity for which defendant had given notice, and denial to defendant of opportunity to make opening statement until after presentation of prosecution's case was improper interference with defendant's right to have jury consider his defense. State v. Olson, 156 M 339, 480 P 2d 822.

Laws Not Violating This Provision

Statute amending initiative act providing for honorarium for World War II veterans so as to make Korean veterans eligible to receive honorariums did not violate this section. Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907, 918.

The former health district law (69-801 et seq.) does not violate this section. Bacus v. Lake County, 138 M 69, 354 P 2d 1056, 1058.

Milk Control Act

The price-fixing provisions of the Milk Control Act (27-401 et seq.) withstand the due process test. Montana Milk Control Board v. Rehberg, 141 M 149, 376 P 2d 508, 514.

Municipal Ordinances

A city ordinance which imposed a storm sewer service charge applicable to premises within the city limits did not violate this section. City of Billings v. Nore, 148 M 96, 417 P 2d 458, 465.

Penalty Assessment on Bail

Statute providing for penalty assessment on bail violated due process clause in that assessment amounted to tax on right to bail, revenue being earmarked for high school driver education. State ex rel. Sanders v. City of Butte, 151 M 171, 441 P 2d 190.

Peremptory Writ

Peremptory writ of mandamus, issued after petitioners were unable to find respondent for service of an alternative writ, commanding the sheriff to bring respondent into court and to seize and deliver to the court certain books of account in respondent's possession, was void for lack of procedural due process or fundamental fairness. State ex rel. Nybo v. District Court, — M —, 492 P 2d 1395.

Right to Counsel

Petitioner was not denied his constitutional right to counsel under this section in that he was intoxicated when he received Miranda warning at time of arrest, since morning following his arrest he recalled having been warned of his rights upon arrest. Petition of Fitzpatrick, 154 M 512, 464 P 2d 507.

Right to Engage in Business

In Montana, every person has a right to operate a business, subject to the applicable laws of the state and ordinances of the city, and he may not be deprived of such property right without due process of law as guaranteed by this provision. State ex rel. Bennett v. Stow, 144 M 599, 399 P 2d 221.

Rural Fire Districts Law

Rural fire districts law, section 11-2008, before 1957 amendment, was unconstitutional as being in direct conflict with this section. Great Northern Railway Co. v. Roosevelt County, 134 M 355, 332 P 2d 501, 502, 505, 506, distinguished in 138 M 69, 354 P 2d 1058.

Statutes and Proceedings Held Valid Under This Provision

A city, the chief of police, and police officers were not liable to a dog owner for damages, where the owner's dog was killed by officers acting under an emergency quarantine measure which was passed to meet a threatening situation involving rabies. Ruona v. City of Billings, 136 M 554, 323 P 2d 29.

A rule made by a board of health which has a relation to securing protection from bites of animals which may be rabid is a proper exercise of its functions, and determination of the means of meeting a threatening situation has been vested in the board of health, and not in the courts. Ruona v. City of Billings, 136 M 554, 323 P 2d 29, 31.

Sections 3 and 27 of this article serve to inhibit the police power in this state, and chapter 153 of the session laws of Montana, 1961, which discriminatorily restrained the use of trading stamps or other redeemable devices in retail business by imposing an unreasonably high and prohibitive tax was unconstitutional under these sections. Garden Spot Market, Inc. v. Byrne, 141 M 382, 378 P 2d 220.

Where developers of trailer park had complied with state and city ordinances and had been granted a state license to operate the park, denial of a license by the city council for matters not contained in, nor required to be observed by the city health ordinance, thereby applying a different standard than that applied to others engaged in the same line of business, deprived developers of a property right without due process. State ex rel. Bennett v. Stow, 144 M 599, 399 P 2d 221.

Act providing for nonresident contractor's license fee (chapter 277, Laws of 1965), imposing a tax of one per cent of gross receipts in addition to a $25 license fee, was arbitrary and unreasonably discriminatory in that it taxed on the basis of gross receipts rather than on profits. State ex rel. Schultz-Lindsay Constr. Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 145 M 380, 403 P 2d 635.

Where several jury members read newspaper article in jury room that defendant had pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge arising out of the same events upon which the present suit for damages was brought, even though it was uncertain whether prejudicial or not and not read until after the verdict was rendered but before damages were established, error was inherently prejudicial and new trial was ordered. Putro v. Baker, 147 M 139, 410 P 2d 717.

Grazing district bylaw providing for an assessment against members owning or in control of livestock trespassing on district land did not violate this section where member at all times received timely notice of trespasses from district board, member was represented by counsel throughout hearing before district board and before state grass commission, and a complete record was made of all testimony and exhibits offered. Appeal of Two Crow Ranch, Inc., — M —, 494 P 2d 915.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where medical testimony pertaining to defendant's antisocial nature and difficulty in controlling his sexual impulses may have established the defendant as a sexual deviate who should be confined for the protection of society, but was not sufficient to sustain the charge of attempting to commit a lewd and lascivious act upon a child, it was reversible error to convict the defendant of the felony. State v. Green, 143 M 234, 388 P 2d 362.

Tax Penalty

The double penalty provided for in the income tax statute (84-4924, subd. (2), before the 1955 amendment) did not violate this section. State ex rel. Hardy v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 43, 319 P 2d 1061, 1064.

Sec. 29.

Taxation

The "unless" clause of this section operates in the area of taxation and Art. XII, section 1a, authorizing an income tax, is merely permissive. State v. Toomey, 135 M 35, 335 P 2d 1051.

ARTICLE IV—DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS

Sec. 1.

Counties

Counties are administrative or executive bodies of the state and the same rules apply as apply to any state agency in so far as this section is concerned. Plath v. Hi-Ball Contractors, Inc., 139 M 263, 362 P 2d 1021, 1024.

Delegation of Powers by the Legislature

Former section 69-809 and the provisions of former section 69-813, relating to rules and regulations by health districts, violate this section by delegating legislative power to a board. Baeus v. Lake County, 138 M 69, 354 P 2d 1056, 1063.

Chapter 41 of Title 16, giving the county commissioners power to establish zoning districts and to create a commission, contains sufficient guidelines so that it is not an invalid delegation of legislative powers. City of Missoula v. Missoula County, 139 M 256, 362 P 2d 539, 542, explained in 362 P 2d 1021, 1023; Doull v. Wohlschlager, 139 M 274, 362 P 2d 542, 543.

The provisions of section 11-3801 et seq., granting zoning powers to city-county planning boards and to county commissioners, are invalid as an unauthorized delegation of legislative power to counties. Plath v. Hi-Ball Contractors, Inc., 139 M 263, 362 P 2d 1021, 1025.

Statutes Held Not To Violate This Provision

Section 93-901, dealing with disqualification of judges, does not violate the separation of powers provision of this section in that it does not impinge upon the existence or supremacy of the judicial system nor alter its jurisdiction or duties, but is a reasonable manner of providing a fair trial for all litigants. State ex rel. Peery v. District Court, 145 M 287, 400 P 2d 648.

Sec. 4.

Repeal

This section was repealed by Ch. 273, Laws 1965, adopted at the general election of November 8, 1966, effective under governor's proclamation, December 6, 1966.

Constitutionality

The portion of this provision which states that "there shall be no more than one senator from each county" is void and unconstitutional in that it violates the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States. Herweg v. Thirty Ninth Legislative Assembly of State of Montana, 246 F Supp 454.

Sec. 7.

Constitutional Convention Delegates

Members of the legislature may not serve as delegates to state constitutional convention, since a delegate holds a civil office under the state. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330.

Delegates to the 1972 constitutional convention are considered as representatives who are prohibited by this section from holding any other state office during the term for which elected. Mahoney v. Murray, — M —, 496 P 2d 1120.

The term of office of delegates to the 1972 constitutional convention extended to June 30, 1973, the date of repeal of the enabling act, despite the prior adjournment sine die of the convention, especially since the convention, when it adjourned, constituted a committee to carry on many of the functions of the convention. the appointing power, do not violate this section. State ex rel. MacGilvra v. District Court of the First Judicial District, 148 M 182, 418 P 2d 874, 876.

Acts Not Violating this Provision

Laws of 1955, chapter 204, amending section 84-4502 and carrying a title which is practically identical with the heading of this section as stated in the 1947 Codes and properly including additional requirements for bringing actions to recover taxes paid under protest, does not violate this constitutional provision. Van Tighem v. Linnane, 136 M 547, 349 P 2d 569, 571.

The title of the County Water District Act (16-4501 to 16-4534) does not violate this section. Parker v. County of Yellowstone, 140 M 538, 374 P 2d 328, 334.

The title of the Minimum Wage Act (41-2301 to 41-2307) conforms to this section. City of Billings v. Smith, — M —, 490 P 2d 221.

Deceptive Title

Where title to appropriation bill described an appropriation to carry out provision of specific statutory law and then proceeded to nullify and defeat mandatory and all-inclusive character of that specific statutory law without reference thereto in title, latter provision was deceptive and misleading in violation of this section and therefore void. City of Helena v. Omholt, 155 M 212, 468 P 2d 764.

Effect of Subsequent Codification on Defect

Section 91-4321 as it is now written was enacted in 1943, and was carried forward in our Codes of 1947 without change. The 1947 Codes were regularly adopted by the legislature with this act incorporated therein without reference to its original title. Any defect in title was cured by its adoption into the 1947 Code. State v. Rice, 134 M 265, 329 P 2d 451, 453.

Incomplete Title

Dredge Mining Regulation and Land Preservation Act (former secs. 50-1101 to 50-1114) was repugnant to this section, in that it purported to regulate sluice washing without mentioning sluice washing in its title. Sigety v. State Board of Health, 157 M 48, 482 P 2d 574, distinguished in — M —, 490 P 2d 221, 226.

The 1971 amendment of section 11-1202 was void in so far as it appeared to delete a final paragraph excluding certain types of contracts from the bidding requirements of that section, because the title described the amendment as only an "Increase of Dollar Limitations on Bid Requirements." Morrison-Maierle, Inc. v. City of Forsyth, — M —, 500 P 2d 395.

Initiative Measure Unconstitutional

Proposed initiative measure no. 63, which would legalize lotteries and repeal sections 94-3001 to 94-3011, containing more than one subject, violated this section. State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 764.

Penalty Assessment on Bail

In so far as statute provided for penalty assessment on forfeited bail and on fines it was void as a violation of the constitutional provision that no bill shall be passed containing more than one subject which shall be clearly expressed in its title. State ex rel. Sanders v. City of Butte, 151 M 171, 441 P 2d 190.

Divorce Proceedings

Proceedings for divorce undoubtedly are statutory, but jurisdiction in matters of divorce is constitutional and may not be abridged. Trudgen v. Trudgen, 134 M 174, 329 P 2d 225, 232.

Interest on Retail Installment Sales Contracts

In a diversity action to recover the balance due on a note and conditional sales contract executed and delivered by defendants to a North Dakota corporation and assigned by it to plaintiff, where defendants contended that the rate of interest charged them pursuant to the Montana Retail Installment Sales Act, section 74-608 was 16.3%, which exceeded the maximum rate of 10% permitted by section 47-125 and constituted a special law regulating the rate of interest on money, proscribed by this section, the federal court applied the abstention doctrine and postponed further action until the issue was determined by the supreme court of Montana. B-W Acceptance Corp. v. Torgerson, 234 F Supp 214, 216.

Operation and Effect in General

Chapter 34, Laws of 1957 (43-709 to 43-715), creating the legislative council, does not violate this section. State ex rel. James v. Aronson, 132 M 120, 314 P 2d 849, overruling State ex rel. Mitchell v. Holmes, 128 M 275, 274 P 2d 611.

Special or Local Laws Forbidden

(Deduction of workmen's compensation benefits in determining retirement pay of public employee.) The provision in section 68-901, subd. (h), requiring the deduction of workmen's compensation benefits in determining the retirement pay of a public employee who is receiving workmen's compensation for a total disability is unconstitutionally discriminatory in treating totally disabled employees less favorably than those only partially disabled. State ex rel. Morgan v. White, 136 M 470, 348 P 2d 991.

Small Tract Financing Act's three-acre classification was not special legislation favoring rural landowners; it was reasonable in that it fostered development of state, added to its prosperity and treated all those within class equally. Great Falls Nat. Bank v. McCormick, 152 M 319, 448 P 2d 991.

License Tax

Bills imposing tax or license fee to enforce policing regulation are not revenue raising measures. Morgan v. Murray, 134 M 92, 328 P 2d 644, 648.

Local Taxes

Laws delegating authority to local governmental units to levy and collect taxes for local purposes are not bills for "raising revenue" within the meaning of this section. Morgan v. Murray, 134 M 92, 328 P 2d 644, 649.

Operation and Effect

Chapter 197, Laws of 1957, authorizing indebtedness to be incurred by state for construction of educational facilities is illegal, unconstitutional and void, for the reason that it was a revenue bill which originated in the senate, contrary to the interdiction of this section. Morgan v. Murray, 134 M 92, 328 P 2d 644, 654.

Sec. 34.

Laws Not Violating This Provision

Veterans' Welfare Commission v. Department of Montana, Veterans of Foreign Wars, 141 M 500, 379 P 2d 107.

Voter Education

Any power and authority a constitutional convention may possess to receive and expend public funds for voter education purposes must be exercised by the convention itself and may not be delegated to a committee. State ex rel. Kvaalen v. Graybill, — M —, 496 P 2d 1127.

Sec. 36.

Laws Not Violating This Provision

Section 27 of the County Water District Act (16-4527) does not violate this section by delegating to a corporation the power to tax for the general health, safety, and welfare of property owners without regard to benefits to the property so taxed. (1) To provide for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of elected and appointed public officers who are killed or incapacitated.

Compiler's Notes

This constitutes the new section added to the constitution by act approved March 9, 1965 (Ch. 243, Laws 1965), adopted at the general election of November 8, 1966, effective under governor's proclamation, December 6, 1966.

ARTICLE VI—APPORTIONMENT AND REPRESENTATION

Sec. 1.

Reapportionment

Congressional districting under chapter 44 of the Laws of 1917 (43-107) was unconstitutional where legislature had failed in three successive sessions following the 1960 census to redistrict and where the two districts then existing showed a disparity in population of 126,332 persons. Roberts v. Babcock, 246 F Supp 396.

Sec. 2. (1) The senate and house of representatives of the legislative assembly each shall be apportioned on the basis of population.

(2) The legislative assembly following each census made by the authority of the United States, shall revise and adjust the apportionment for representatives and senators on the basis of such census.

(3) At such time as the constitution of the United States is amended or interpreted to permit apportionment of one house of a state legislative assembly on factors other than population, the senate of the legislative assembly shall be apportioned on the basis of one senator for each county.

Compiler's Notes

This constitutes sec. 2 of article VI as amended by act approved March 9, 1965 (Ch. 273, Laws 1965), adopted at the general election of November 8, 1966, effective under governor's proclamation, December 6, 1966. The amendment added paragraphs (1) and (3) and eliminated a provision for a state census.

Constitutional Convention

The 1972 constitutional convention had to be apportioned on basis of 1970 census applicable to apportionment of house of representatives to be elected in November 1972. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330.

Reapportionment

Where legislature failed to reapportion congressional districts in three successive sessions following the 1960 census in conformity with this provision and districts under chapter 44 of the Laws of 1917 (43-107) had a disparity in population of 126,332, governor and secretary of state were enjoined from proclaiming, certifying or conducting election of members of the house of representatives and court established new districts for future elections. Roberts v. Babcock, 246 F Supp 396.

Sec. 3. Senatorial and representative districts may be altered from time to time as public convenience may require. When a senatorial or representative district shall be composed of two or more counties, they shall be contiguous, and the districts as compact as may be.

Compiler's Notes

This constitutes sec. 3 of article VI as amended by act approved March 9, 1965 (Ch. 273, Laws 1965), adopted at the general election of November 8, 1966, effective under governor's proclamation, December 6, 1966. The amendment made the section applicable to senatorial districts and eliminated a provision prohibiting the division of counties in the formation of representative districts.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER PROVISIONS

Reapportionment

The provision of former section that "no county shall be divided in the formation of representative districts" was valid since it did not conflict with the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States. Herweg v. Thirty Ninth Legislative Assembly of State of Montana, 246 F Supp 454.

Secs. 4 to 6.

Repeal

These sections were repealed by Ch. 273, Laws 1965, adopted at the general election of November 8, 1966, effective under governor's proclamation, December 6, 1966.

Constitutionality

Sections 4 and 5 are void and unconstitutional in that they violate the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States. Herweg v. Thirty Ninth Legislative Assembly of State of Montana, 246 F Supp 454.

Attorney General—Duties and Powers of except for the office of governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of the state, attorney general, state treasurer, state auditor, and superintendent of public instruction, shall be allocated by law among and within not more than twenty (20) departments by no later than July 1, 1973. Supervisory Control Writ of supervisory control was proper where district court orders required state highway commission to quiet title against all possible lien holders of land subject to condemnation and to use valuation date more than three years beyond the alleged proper date, where orders were not appealable until after final judgment and this would result in extended and needless litigation if district court was wrong. Sec. 3.

District Court Jurisdiction

District judge sitting for disqualified district judge could not review validity of orders on the merits entered by disqualified judge since review amounted to attempt to exercise appellate jurisdiction in violation of constitution. State ex rel. State Highway Commission v. Kinman, 150 M 12, 430 P 2d 110, distinguished in 157 M 310, 486 P 2d 870.

Factual Issues

Order of contempt that failed to specify facts that constituted contempt before the court was deficient under section 93-9803, since it did not provide opportunity for appellate review. State ex rel. Shea v. District Court, 156 M 266, 479 P 2d 281.

Original Jurisdiction

In view of necessity for 1971 legislature to call a constitutional convention pursuant to the voters' mandate in the 1970 election, and in order to prevent delays that might occur if the legislature passed an unconstitutional act, supreme court would consider and answer questions arising during the legislative session with respect to the constitutional convention in an original proceeding for declaratory judgment authorized by act of the 1971 legislature. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330.

Scope of Power to Issue Writs in General

Even if a stay, in a case where a writ of mandate is issued by a district court to compel the issuance of a license, is not provided for in the code, still the supreme court has power under this section to issue a supersedeas, or other appropriate writ, to effectuate its appellate jurisdiction, thus to insure the aggrieved board an appeal that otherwise might be of no value. Gill v. Rafn, 133 M 505, 326 P 2d 974, distinguished in 136 M 453, 456, 348 P 2d 797, 799, 78 ALR 2d 1012.

Stay of Writ

Despite the prohibition in Rule 7 (c), M. R. Civ. App. P., the supreme court has power under this section to stay the execution of a peremptory writ of mandamus issued by the district court when necessary to provide an effective appellate remedy. State ex rel. Bennett v. Dowdall, 157 M 11, 482 P 2d 572.

Supervisory Control—Scope of Power

Writ of supervisory control was necessary and proper to compel district court to dismiss removal petition that could not be granted even if facts alleged were proved. State ex rel. Arnot v. District Court of First Judicial District In and For County of Lewis and Clark, 155 M 344, 472 P 2d 302.

Prohibition—Ministerial Function

He shall have a salary to be fixed by law, one-half of which shall be paid by the state, and the other half by the county for which he is elected, and he shall perform such duties as may be required by law.

Compiler's Note

This constitutes sec. 19 of article VIII as amended by act approved March 6, 1961 (Ch. 164, Laws 1961), adopted at the general election of November, 1962. This amendment increased the county attorneys' term of office from two to four years and eliminated a provision applicable only to the first county attorneys elected under the Constitution.

Compiler's Note

This constitutes sec. 29 of article VIII as amended by act approved February 27, 1963 (Ch. 92, Laws 1963), adopted at the general election of November 3, 1964. This amendment eliminated a provision prohibiting salary increases during terms for which elected, and it also deleted a sentence setting the salaries of the first justices and judges.

Sec. 35.

Constitutional Convention

Justices and judges may not serve as delegates to state constitutional convention, since a delegate holds public office. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330.

ARTICLE IX—RIGHTS OF SUFFRAGE AND QUALIFICATIONS TO HOLD OFFICE

Sec. 2. Every person of the age of nineteen (19) years or over, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all general elections and for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people, and, except as hereinafter provided, upon all questions which may be submitted to the vote of the people or electors: First, he shall be a citizen of the United States; second, he shall have resided in this state one year immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote, and in the town, county or precinct such time as may be prescribed by law. If the question submitted concerns the creation of any levy, debt or liability the person, in addition to possessing the qualifications above mentioned, must also be a taxpayer whose name appears upon the last preceding completed assessment roll, in order to entitle him to vote upon such question. Provided, first, that no person convicted of felony shall have the right to vote unless he has been pardoned or restored to citizenship by the governor; provided, second, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive any person of the right to vote who has such right at the time of the adoption of this constitution; provided, that after the expiration of five years from the time of the adoption of this constitution, no person except citizens of the United States shall have the right to vote.

Compiler's Notes

This constitutes sec. 2 of Article IX as amended by act approved January 31, 1969 (Ch. 14, Laws 1969), adopted at the general election of November 3, 1970, and effective under the governor's proclamation of November 20, 1970. The amendment changed the voting age from 21 to 19 years.

Debt or Liability

This section, in adding the property holding qualification to voting on debts or liabilities, confined the additional qualification to only those debts or liabilities which look to ad valorem taxes for their retirement. Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907, 915, distinguished in — M —, 491 P 2d 868, 871.

This section amended the words "debt or liability" as they appear in section 2, article XIII of the Montana Constitution, and has effectively confined them to debts or liabilities which must be retired out of ad valorem taxes. Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907, 916, distinguished in — M —, 491 P 2d 868, 871.

Since the United States supreme court has held invalid the provisions of this section restricting to taxpayers the right to vote on measures creating a debt or liability, there is no longer any reason to limit the requirement for approval by the voters to debts to be retired from ad valorem taxes; therefore, measures authorizing the issuance of bonds secured by the pledge of portions of the constitutional sources of revenue, including income tax, corporation license tax, cigarette tax and gasoline distributors' license tax, at least create liabilities within the meaning of this section and are invalid unless approved by the electors. State ex rel. Ward v. Anderson, — M —, 491 P 2d 868, distinguishing Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907.

Racial Discrimination Prohibited

Congress is empowered, as it did in the Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, 42 U. S. C. § 1973aa, to prohibit use of literacy tests or other devices used to discriminate against voters on account of their race in all state and national elections. Oregon v. Mitchell, 400 US 112, 27 L Ed 2d 272, 91 S Ct 260.

Residence

As it did in the Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, 42 U. S. C. § 1973aa-1, Congress can prohibit states from disqualifying voters in elections for presidential and vice-presidential electors because they have not met state residency requirements, and can set residency requirements and provide for absentee balloting in presidential and vice-presidential elections. Oregon v. Mitchell, 400 US 112, 27 L Ed 2d 272, 91 S Ct 260.

ARTICLE X—STATE INSTITUTIONS AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Sec. 5.

Indigent Support

Under constitutional provision defining indigency and statute imposing duty upon county to pay for medical aid rendered indigents, fact that supposed indigent had never supported herself and apparently never would was proof of medical indigency in spite of fact she was employable and notwithstanding absence of evidence of reasons for her inabilities to be productive citizen. Montana Deaconness Hospital v. Lewis and Clark County, 149 M 206, 425 P 2d 316.

Although this section places the burden of providing for the aged, infirm and unfortunate upon the counties, in order for the county to be obligated to pay general relief assistance, there must be specific statutory law so directing. Pease v. Hansen, — M —, 494 P 2d 925.

Unreasonable Standard

Where family of ten had earnings in excess of county welfare board's standard minimum income for determining indigency, application of the standard to deny medical assistance became unreasonable where the family had considerable medical expense and a history of indebtedness. Saint Patrick Hospital v. Powell County, 156 M 153, 477 P 2d 340.

ARTICLE XI—EDUCATION

Sec. 1.

Education Fees

A school district may not assess charges for any course or activity offered during the regular academic year as a part of normal school functions which are reasonably related to a recognized academic and educational goal of the particular school system. Granger v. Cascade County School Dist. No. 1, — M —, 499 P 2d 780.

School district's waiver of constitutionally invalid fees for welfare recipients and other cases of economic hardship did not validate the fees. Granger v. Cascade County School Dist. No. 1, — M —, 499 P 2d 780.

Extracurricular Activities

The thorough system of education required by this section includes extracurricular activities sponsored by the schools, and the right to engage in such activities is constitutionally protected. Moran v. School Dist. No. 7, 350 F Supp 1180.

Unclaimed Shares and Dividends

Where corporation was voluntarily dissolved, unclaimed shares and their pro-rata share of unpaid dividends would become abandoned property and subject to escheat to state two years after final distribution of assets. Barnes-King Development Co. v. Corette, 156 M 202, 478 P 2d 868.

Sec. 7.

Age of Entry

The use of the term "all" is not to be taken in its universal and omnibus sense; rather, it was meant to be limited and qualified to conform to good reason to carry out the other purposes of the constitution such as to have a general, uniform and thorough system of public schools. State ex rel. Ronish v. School Dist. No. 1, 136 M 453, 348 P 2d 797, 78 ALR 2d 1012.

A reasonable interpretation of constitutional and statutory provisions specifying that school shall be open to children between the ages of 6 and 21 years, read again in connection with other provisions requiring a thorough education, is that a child must be allowed to enter the first grade sometime during his seventh year, after reaching his sixth birthday. Each local school district has the power to admit children into the first grade who are not yet 6 years of age and each school district may establish a "cut-off" date governing entry into the first grade. State ex rel. Ronish v. School Dist. No. 1, 136 M 453, 348 P 2d 797, 78 ALR 2d 1012.

Equal Protection

School district rule prohibiting extra-curricular activities, including varsity football, to married students denied them the equal protection of the laws with respect to the right granted by this section, and enforcement of the rule would be restrained by preliminary injunction. Moran v. School Dist. No. 7, 350 F Supp 1180.

Sec. 8.

Parochial Schools

This section prohibits public school board from either making a levy for or expending funds for employment of teachers to teach secular subjects in parochial schools. State ex rel. Chambers v. School District No. 10 of County of Deer Lodge, 155 M 422, 472 P 2d 1013, distinguished in 156 M 381, 480 P 2d 181.

Services to Indigents

Payment of public funds to persons providing medical, hospitalization, and foster home care to indigent mothers who have sought or received assistance from private rather than public adoptive agencies does not violate this section. Montana State Welfare Board v. Lutheran Social Services of Montana, 156 M 381, 480 P 2d 181.

Delegation of Powers

The legislature in former sections 75-107 and 75-403 R. C. M. 1947, restricted the board of education in delegation of its powers and this precluded college officials from contracting with teachers and instructors on behalf of the board. Brown v. State Board of Education, 142 M 547, 385 P 2d 643.

ARTICLE XII—REVENUE AND TAXATION

Sec. 1.

Construction with Other Sections

This section and section 11 of article XII of the Montana constitution must be construed together with section 15, which refers specifically to the state board of equalization. Yellowstone Pipe Line Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 603, 358 P 2d 55, 66.

License Tax — Purposes for Which License Tax May Be Levied

It was not the intention in authorizing the legislature to impose a license fee, to differentiate between the license tax, so-called, and the license fee extracted in regulatory matters, but rather to refer the general subject of licenses to the legislature. Montana Milk Control Board v. Maier, 140 M 38, 367 P 2d 305, 306.

Statutes Held Invalid under This Provision

Chapter 153 of the session laws of Montana, 1961, which discriminatorily restrained the use of trading stamps or other redeemable devices in retail business by imposing an unreasonably high and prohibitive tax, was unconstitutional under this section. Garden Spot Market, Inc. v. Byrne, 141 M 382, 378 P 2d 220.

Statutes Violating This Provision

Chapter 277, Laws of 1965, providing for nonresident contractors' license fees, was invalid under this section since, by imposing a one per cent tax on gross receipts rather than on profits, it was arbitrary and unreasonably discriminatory. State ex rel. Schultz-Lindsay Constr. Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 145 M 380, 403 P 2d 635.

Sec. 1a.

Income Tax

The provisions of section 84-4905, before the 1955 amendment, relating to adjusted gross income, did not violate this section. State ex rel. Anderson v. State Board of Equalization, 133 M 8, 319 P 2d 221, 228.

This section does not impose an affirmative duty to replace property taxes entirely with income taxes. State v. Toomey, 135 M 35, 335 P 2d 1051.

The mere fact that the income-tax law does not operate simultaneously upon the incomes of persons, firms, and corporations does not make it invalid. State v. Toomey, 135 M 35, 335 P 2d 1051.

Sec. 1b.

Gasoline Tax Revenues

Deposit of one per cent of gasoline tax revenues into state park fund as provided by statute did not violate antidiversion amendment of constitution in the absence of proof that legislative finding that not less than one per cent of all gasoline sold in state is consumed by motorboats is erroneous and in absence of proof that all motor fuel taxes resulting from use of vehicles on public highways are not expended on public highways. Harvey v. Blewett, 151 M 427, 443 P 2d 902.

Proper Use of Funds

Use, by state, of state highway trust funds derived essentially from motor vehicle license fees and gasoline taxes to pay assessment levied against property owned or leased by state highway commission and located within flood control and drainage district was proper and such use did not violate this section. State Highway Commission v. West Great Falls Flood Control & Drainage Dist., 155 M 157, 468 P 2d 753.

Sec. 2.

Corporate License Tax on Organization of Church Society

The corporate license tax imposed under R. C. M. 1947, section 84-1501 et seq., on the agricultural activities of a religious society formed for the purposes of farming, stock growing, and other branches of agriculture does not conflict with constitutional provisions relating to religious freedom. State v. King Colony Ranch, 137 M 145, 350 P 2d 841.

Educational Purposes

Religious education is exempt as an "educational purpose" and not as "actual religious worship" even though elements of the latter may be present and may serve to strengthen the exemption of all the property. Flathead Lake Methodist Camp v. Webb, 144 M 565, 399 P 2d 90.

The term "educational purposes," as used in this section and section 84-202, exempting property used exclusively for "educational purposes" from taxation, is not defined in terms of common scholastic institutions of grammar school, high school and university or college. Organizations for the social, intellectual, physical, or religious welfare of the children are exempt equally. Flathead Lake Methodist Camp v. Webb, 144 M 565, 399 P 2d 90.

"Exclusive Use" Defined

The words "exclusive use" consistently have been held to mean the primary and inherent use and not the mere secondary or incidental uses of the property. Flathead Lake Methodist Camp v. Webb, 144 M 565, 399 P 2d 90.

Exemption of Church Camp

Where church summer camp, containing twenty-two acres of land and twenty-eight improvements, was "used exclusively for educational purposes" within the meaning of this section and section 84-202, it was exempt from taxation. Flathead Lake Methodist Camp v. Webb, 144 M 565, 399 P 2d 90.

Extent of Exemption

When exempting an institution of charity, sufficient residence and recreation area may also be exempt. Flathead Lake Methodist Camp v. Webb, 144 M 565, 399 P 2d 90.

Home for Aged Persons

Nonprofit foundation operating home for aged was entitled to tax exemption under statute granting a tax exemption to institutions of purely public charity, notwithstanding evidence that the foundation charged fees, imposed admission requirements and maintained a high standard of care, and notwithstanding argument that 1965 amendment to statute, specifically including homes for aged, was unlawful attempt by legislature to expand exemption allowed by constitution. Bozeman Deaconness Foundation v. Ford, 151 M 143, 439 P 2d 915, 37 ALR 3d 558.

Limits of Public Charity

An institution of purely public charity, which is exempt from taxation under this section and section 84-202, may be devoted to bringing people under religious influence, the beneficiaries of the charity may pay a small portion of the cost, and the activity may be limited to a particular class so long as the numbers who may participate remain somewhat indefinite. Flathead Lake Methodist Camp v. Webb, 144 M 565, 399 P 2d 90.

Statutes Held Invalid under This Provision

Chapter 153 of the session laws of Montana, 1961, which discriminatorily restrained the use of trading stamps or other redeemable devices in retail business by imposing an unreasonably high and prohibitive tax for nonpublic purpose, was unconstitutional under this section. Garden Spot Market, Inc. v. Byrne, 141 M 382, 378 P 2d 220.

Trust Property

Provision under section 11-4108 for taxing property in which county or municipality has only a trust interest as opposed to a beneficial interest does not violate this section, since taxation of property is based on its use. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

Sec. 3.

Adverse Possession

One in actual possession of surface land, who owned it in fee simple and paid taxes upon it for over thirty years, could not acquire an undivided one-fourth mineral interest, reserved in a deed and thereby severed entirely from the land, by adverse possession, where the minerals were not and could not be assessed separately for taxation under this section. Johnson v. Unknown Heirs, 140 M 128, 368 P 2d 577, 581.

Annual Net Proceeds Tax

"Average of annual net proceeds" as provided by section 84-5408, as amended in 1959, is not the same as the "annual net proceeds" provided by this section and therefore the law is unconstitutional. State ex rel. Roberts v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 138, 355 P 2d 150, 152.

"Mining Claim"

A "mining claim" is not restricted to a single mining location but may include as many locations as a miner can purchase, and the ground covered by all will constitute a mining claim. United States Gypsum Co. v. Schreiner, 135 M 312, 340 P 2d 548.

Rights of Entry

This section favors the exploration and development of minerals, and a right of entry to explore for and extract minerals created by conveyance from the owner of the fee is not taxable as a separate entity. Cranston v. Musselshell County, 156 M 288, 483 P 2d 289, distinguishing Northern Pacific Ry. Co. v. Musselshell County, 54 M 96, 169 P 53.

Sec. 7.

"Owned or Used"

Property in which county has trust interest, but corporation has the use, will be taxed to corporation and not be exempted as county property under Montana constitution, article XII, section 2. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

Sec. 11.

Classification of Property

Assessment of plaintiff's property based on "market value" rather than upon use of property for agricultural purposes did not violate this section since evidence showed that such property was located within commercial area and its market value far exceeded its value for agricultural purposes. Mohland v. State Board of Equalization, 155 M 49, 466 P 2d 582, certiorari denied, 400 US 940, 91 S Ct 232.

Construction with Other Sections

This section and section 1 of article XII of the Montana constitution must be construed together with section 15, which refers specifically to the state board of equalization. Yellowstone Pipe Line Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 603, 358 P 2d 55, 66.

Discriminatory Enforcement

State board of equalization could enforce statute providing for assessment of property brought into state subsequent to regular assessment date as against trucks and used cars without also enforcing it against every other type of retail inventory and without violating uniformity requirement of constitution. Hardin Auto Co. v. Alley, 149 M 1, 422 P 2d 346.

Sections 1 and 11, of article XII of the Montana constitution must be construed together with this section. Yellowstone Pipe Line Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 603, 358 P 2d 55, 66.

Increased Valuation

State board of equalization's directive to county officials requiring use of certain valuations on grades of farm land for subsequent years, was enforceable by mandamus since the board had not only powers of adjustment, equalization and supervision over assessors under this section and section 84-708, but also the power to issue directives for those purposes. State ex rel. State Board of Equalization v. Koch, 145 M 474, 401 P 2d 765.

Intervention of Court

Court may not intervene where action of board is not arbitrary, fraudulent or contrary to law. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 134 M 128, 328 P 2d 634, 635.

Powers of State Board of Equalization

Board is charged with the duty of adjusting and equalizing the valuation of all taxable property among the several counties and between individual taxpayers. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 134 M 128, 328 P 2d 634, 635.

The state board of equalization has the power to determine what a particular class should include. Yellowstone Pipe Line Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 603, 358 P 2d 55, 67.

Where the board held "show cause hearings" to afford opportunity to protest board's order of uniform county land value reclassification but provided no opportunity to cross-examine witnesses nor hear evidence and no stenographic record was kept of the proceedings, such hearings did not fulfill the requirements of due process and uniformity. State ex rel. State Board of Equalization v. Kovich, 142 M 201, 383 P 2d 818.

That an order of the state board of equalization prescribing a uniform method of appraising timberlands may not have been supported by the evidence adduced at a hearing does not give the counties ground for ignoring the order until such time as the order has been adjudicated invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction. State ex rel. Conrad v. Managhan, 157 M 335, 485 P 2d 948.

Uniformity of Taxation

As long as the state board of equalization treats property of similar nature and productivity the same, it cannot be said that the constitutional mandate of uniformity is not subserved. Yellowstone Pipe Line Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 603, 358 P 2d 55, 67.

Under the Montana constitution the state board of equalization has the power, in adjusting and equalizing taxation between oil pipelines and other properties, i.e., town and city lots, to recognize pipelines as a class in itself, and still not violate the requirement of uniformity. Yellowstone Pipe Line Co. v. State Board of Equalization, 138 M 603, 358 P 2d 55, 67.

Writ of Prohibition

District court acted prematurely in issuing writ prohibiting state board of equalization from proceeding further under section 84-605, holding a public hearing and equalizing or increasing the assessed values of farm lands in county, which prevented board from discharging its constitutional duties. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 134 M 128, 328 P 2d 634, 635.

ARTICLE XIII—PUBLIC INDEBTEDNESS

Sec. 1.

Industrial Development Revenue Bonds

Provision for issuance of revenue bonds pursuant to Industrial Development Project Act (11-4101—11-4110) does not violate this section, since the credit in aid provided for in that act is for public purpose, despite the fact that certain individuals, associations or corporations may benefit from the legislation. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

Laws Violating This Provision

An appropriation to pay for secretarial services of two private veterans' organizations maintaining service offices in Fort Harrison, Montana, which were not under the control of the state, was prohibited by this section even though the legislation was for a public purpose. Relocation of Utilities

The provisions of former section 32-1625, relating to the costs of relocation of utility facilities, do not violate this section. Jones v. Burns, 138 M 268, 357 P 2d 22, 34.

"Debt or Liability"

Section 2, article IX of the Montana constitution amended the words "debt or liability" as they appear in this section and has effectively confined them to debts or liabilities which must be retired out of ad valorem taxes. Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907, 916, distinguished in — M —, 491 P 2d 868, 871.

Since the United States supreme court has held invalid limiting to taxpayers the right to vote on questions of debt or liability, there is no longer any reason to limit the words "debt or liability" as used in this section to debts to be retired out of ad valorem taxes. State ex rel. Ward v. Anderson, — M —, 491 P 2d 868, distinguishing Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907.

Issuance of bonds to be repaid from proceeds of income tax, corporation license tax, tobacco tax and gasoline tax would create a liability, if not a debt, within the meaning of this section, and the bonds must be approved by a vote of the people before they may be issued. State ex rel. Ward v. Anderson, — M —, 491 P 2d 868, distinguishing Cottingham v. State Board of Examiners, 134 M 1, 328 P 2d 907.

State ex rel. Keast v. Krieg, 147 M 164, 410 P 2d 710.

Sec. 6. No city, town, township, school district or high school district shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum (5%) of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by or on behalf of such city, town, township, school district or high school district shall be void; and each school district and each high school district shall have separate and independent bonding capacities within the limitation of this section; provided, however, that the legislative assembly may extend the limit mentioned in this section, by authorizing municipal corporations to submit the question to a vote of the taxpayers affected thereby, when such increase is necessary to construct a sewerage system or to procure a supply of water for such municipality which shall own and control said water supply and devote the revenues derived therefrom to the payment of the debt.

Compiler's Note

This constitutes sec. 6 of article XIII as amended by act approved March 7, 1957 (Ch. 161, Laws of 1957), adopted at the general election of November 1958, effective under governor's proclamation, December 8, 1958. This amendment inserted the words "high school district" each time they appear and inserted the phrase "and each school district and each high school district shall have separate and independent bonding capacities within the limitation of this section."

Combined Bond Issue

Bonds issued pursuant to a plan authorizing high school district and common school district included therein to build grade school and high school in one compact unit sharing common facilities was not an attempt to circumvent debt limits imposed on the districts by the constitution. Long v. School District No. 44, 149 M 220, 425 P 2d 822.

Lease Payments

Under resolution providing that city would convey title to properties to party who would cause to be built on one property a city approved building which the city would rent for an annual rental for a period of three years with option in the city to purchase property together with the building thereon, lease payments were forms of indebtedness within the meaning of this section. Stockholders may contract among themselves with respect to voting their stock and a contract to refrain from cumulative voting is valid. However, an invalid bylaw, attempting to dispense with cumulative voting, was not enforceable as a contract, even among those stockholders assenting to it. Sensabaugh v. Polson Plywood Co., 135 M 562, 342 P 2d 1064.

Acts Not Violating This Provision

The requirements of subsection 9 of section 11-602, R. C. M. 1947, that a portion of platted subdivisions be dedicated to public park purposes is not an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to city and county authorities, nor is the enforcement of these requirements a confiscation of private property without compensation or an invalid extension of the police power. Billings Properties, Inc. v. Yellowstone County, 144 M 25, 394 P 2d 182.

Operation and Effect

Under the guise of police power the state and municipal subdivisions thereof have the power and the duty to do all things necessary to protect the public in matters of the preservation, among other things of the health and well being of the community. Ruona v. City of Billings, 136 M 554, 323 P 2d 29, 30.

Under police power the state can provide for the destruction of diseased animals even though provision for compensation to the owner has not been made. Ruona v. City of Billings, 136 M 554, 323 P 2d 29, 31.

Sec. 13.

Lease of State Lands

The law authorizing the lease of state lands for underground storage of natural gas does not violate this section. State ex rel. Hughes v. State Board of Land Commrs., 137 M 510, 353 P 2d 331, 336.

Fair Trade Act

The Fair Trade Act (now repealed) permitted price-fixing in violation of this section and was therefore invalid. Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. v. Skaggs Drug Center, Inc., 139 M 15, 359 P 2d 644, distinguished in 141 M 149, 159, 376 P 2d 508.

Operation and Effect

The activity proscribed by this section has no relation to police power. Montana Milk Control Board v. Rehberg, 141 M 149, 376 P 2d 508, 514.

Price-Fixing

This section is not only aimed at monopolies but also invalidates all price-fixing contracts, even in situations where there is open competition and no danger of monopoly. Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. v. Skaggs Drug Center, Inc., 139 M 15, 359 P 2d 644.

Leasing for Underground Storage

Market Value

The test of "willing buyer-willing seller" has little applicability in awarding a lease to farm land by the state. A more appropriate test is the value of similar leases in the particular community, coupled with the applicant's ability as a farmer and other variables to be considered by the state in securing as large a return as possible on the land, while preserving its productive capacity. ARTICLE XIX—MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS AND FUTURE AMENDMENTS

Sec. 2.

Initiative Measure Unconstitutional

Proposed initiative measure no. 63 which would legalize lotteries and repeal sections 94-3001 to 94-3011 is unconstitutional. State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 763.

Operation and Effect

The framers of the constitution were seeking to suppress and restrain the spirit of gambling which is cultivated and stimulated by schemes whereby one is induced to hazard his earnings with the hope of large winnings. The statutes which define and prohibit lotteries must therefore be interpreted with this purpose in mind. State v. Cox, 136 M 507, 349 P 2d 104, 106.

The provisions of this section are both mandatory and prohibitory. State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 763.

Valuable Consideration

Where one is required to make an outlay of money in order to participate in a scheme whereby an award is made by chance, the participant pays valuable consideration for the chance to participate, notwithstanding the fact he may also receive merchandise at the same time that the outlay is made. State v. Cox, 136 M 507, 349 P 2d 104. (State ex rel. Stafford v. Fox-Great Falls Theatre Corp., 114 M 52, 132 P 2d 689, distinguished.)

Sec. 4.

Waiver of Exemption

This section establishes public policy in favor of liberal exemption laws, and the enforcement of a clause in an executory contract waiving statutory exemptions is against public policy, even without a statute expressly invalidating such waivers. Anaconda Federal Credit Union, # 4401 v. West, 157 M 175, 483 P 2d 909.

Sec. 8.

Delegates to Convention

Legislators and other officers of the state are ineligible to serve as delegates to a constitutional convention during their term of office. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330, distinguished in — M —, 496 P 2d 1125.

Delegates to the constitutional convention must be elected in the same manner as legislators, including the provisions for partisan elections. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330.

Delegates to the constitutional convention must be elected from districts apportioned according to the 1970 census and to be used for the election of legislators in 1972. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330.

Initiative Measure

Proposed initiative measure no. 63, which would legalize lotteries and repeal sections 94-3001 to 94-3011, could not be considered as an amendment to the Montana constitution where it did not comply with this section or section 9, article XIX. State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 764.

Majority of Electors

"Approval by a majority of the electors voting at the election" means approval by a majority of a total number of electors casting valid ballots on the question of approval or rejection of a new constitution, and does not refer to or include those electors who fail to express an opinion by a vote on that issue. State ex rel. Cashmore v. Anderson, — M —, 500 P 2d 921.

Voter Education

This section does not grant to a constitutional convention the power to expend public funds for voter education with respect to the convention's proposals. State ex rel. Kvaalen v. Graybill, — M —, 496 P 2d 1127.

Sec. 9. Amendments to this constitution may be proposed in either house of the legislative assembly, and if the same shall be voted for by two-thirds of the members elected to each house, such proposed amendments, together with the ayes and nays of each house thereon, shall be entered in full on their respective journals; and the secretary of state shall cause the said amendment or amendments to be published in full in at least one newspaper in each county (if such there be) for three months previous to the next general election for members to the legislative assembly; and at said election the said amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state for their approval or rejection and such as are approved by a majority of those voting thereon shall become part of the constitution. Should more amendments than one (1) be submitted at the same election, they shall be so prepared and distinguished by numbers or otherwise that each can be voted upon separately. Not more than three amendments to this constitution shall be submitted at the same election, except that there may be submitted at each of the general elections held in the years 1972, 1974 and 1976, in addition to the three amendments otherwise authorized by this section, an amendment or amendments providing for the reorganization of the executive department of government which may include the revision or repeal of sections of this constitution relating to any boards, offices, and departments other than legislative and judicial offices. The reorganization of the executive department is a single subject, and an additional amendment relating to that subject authorized by this section may be submitted to the qualified electors of the state in the form of a title clearly expressing its subject.

Compiler's Notes

This constitutes sec. 9 of article XIX as amended by act approved February 21, 1969 (Ch. 66, Laws 1969), adopted at the general election of November 3, 1970, and effective under the governor's proclamation of November 20, 1970. The amendment added to the next to last sentence the exceptions applicable to the elections of 1972, 1974 and 1976, and it added the last sentence to the section.

Initiative Measure

Proposed initiative measure no. 63, which would legalize lotteries and repeal sections 94-3001 to 94-3011, being unconstitutional, could not be considered as an amendment to the Montana constitution where it did not comply with this section or section 8, article XIX. State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 764.

Presentation to Governor

It was a fatal defect for the legislature to ignore the governor, in neglecting and refusing to present proposed constitutional amendments to the governor in full as passed by the house and senate for the governor's approval or disapproval. HISTORICAL NOTE

Chapter 65, Laws of 1969, submitted to the electors a question as to whether a constitutional convention should be called in accordance with section 8, Article XIX of the 1889 Constitution "to revise, alter, or amend" the Constitution. At the general election of November 3, 1970, the electors approved the calling of a constitutional convention by a vote of 133,482 for the convention and 71,643 against.

Pursuant to the mandate of section 8, Article XIX of the 1889 Constitution, the Forty-second Legislative Assembly, by Chapter 296, Laws of 1971, provided for the selection of delegates and for the convening of a constitutional convention. Chapter 296 was amended in some respects by Chapter 1, 1st Extraordinary Session, Laws of 1971.

Delegates to the constitutional convention were nominated on September 14, 1971 and elected on November 2, 1971. Delegates were elected in the same manner and from the same districts as members of the house of representatives, based on section 43-106.7.

After an organizational session on November 29, 1971, the constitutional convention convened in plenary session on January 17, 1972. On March 22, 1972, the convention adopted an entirely new constitution, then adjourned sine die on March 24, 1972.

The proposed constitution was submitted to the electors in a special election of June 6, 1972. The result, as certified by the secretary of state, was 116,415 votes for the new constitution and 113,883 against.

Three alternate propositions were separately submitted to the electors on June 6, 1972. The first would have restated Article V of the new constitution so as to create a unicameral rather than a bicameral legislature. This proposition was defeated with a vote of 95,259 for a unicameral legislature and 122,425 for a bicameral legislature.

A second proposition separately submitted reworded section 9, Article III of the new constitution so as to permit the people or the legislature to authorize gambling. This proposition carried with a vote of 139,382 for and 88,743 against gambling.

The third proposition separately submitted would have added to section 28, Article II of the new constitution a sentence abolishing capital punishment. This proposition was defeated with a vote of 147,023 for the death penalty and 77,733 against.

After the election of June 6, 1972, a question arose as to whether the new constitution had been approved by "a majority of the electors voting at the election," as required by section 8, Article XIX of the 1889 Constitution. An original proceeding for declaratory judgment was brought in the Montana supreme court to determine this question. On August 18, 1972, the supreme court held in a three-to-two decision that the new constitution had been approved by the required majority of the electors and would become effective according to its terms. State ex rel. Cashmore v. Anderson, — M —, 500 P 2d 921. Rehearing was denied on September 25, 1972.

PREAMBLE

We the people of Montana grateful to God for the quiet beauty of our state, the grandeur of our mountains, the vastness of our rolling plains, and desiring to improve the quality of life, equality of opportunity and to secure the blessings of liberty for this and future generations do ordain and establish this constitution.

Convention Notes

Identical to 1889 constitution [Art. IV, sec. 1] except for substitution of the word "branches" for "departments." This distinguishes the three branches of government from the 20 departments in the executive branch.

Decisions under Former Provisions

Section 2. Continuity of government. The seat of government shall be in Helena, except during periods of emergency resulting from disasters or enemy attack. The legislature may enact laws to insure the continuity of government during a period of emergency without regard for other provisions of the constitution. They shall be effective only during the period of emergency that affects a particular office or governmental operation.

Convention Notes

Revises 1889 constitution [Art. X, sec. 3] by removing provision which allowed seat of government to be moved by a vote of 2/3 of the people. No other change except in grammar. [See also 1889 constitution Art. V, sec. 46.]

Cross-References

(2) Initiative petitions must contain the full text of the proposed measure, shall be signed by at least five percent of the qualified electors in each of at least one-third of the legislative representative districts and the total number of signers must be at least five percent of the total qualified electors of the state. Petitions shall be filed with the secretary of state at least three months prior to the election at which the measure will be voted upon.

A referendum shall be held either upon order by the legislature or upon petition signed by at least five percent of the qualified electors in each of at least one-third of the legislative representative districts. The total number of signers must be at least five percent of the qualified electors of the state. A referendum petition shall be filed with the secretary of state no later than six months after adjournment of the legislature which passed the act.

(2) An act referred to the people is in effect until suspended by petitions signed by at least 15 percent of the qualified electors in a majority of the legislative representative districts. If so suspended the act shall become operative only after it is approved at an election, the result of which has been determined and declared as provided by law.

Convention Notes

Revises 1889 constitution [Art. V, sec. 1] by allowing people to vote on any act of the legislature except appropriations and by requiring referendum petitions to be signed by 5% of the electors in 1/3 of the legislative districts instead of 8% of the electors in 2/5 of the counties. (1889 Constitution does not allow referendums on laws "necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety.")

Convention Notes

Revises 1889 constitution [Art. IX, secs. 2, 3, 6, 8, 12]. Provides legislative rather than constitutional requirements for residence and registration. Convicted felon loses voting rights only while incarcerated. (18 is voting age established for ALL elections by 26th amendment to U.S. constitution ratified June 30, 1971).

It may provide for a system of poll booth registration, and shall insure the purity of elections and guard against abuses of the electoral process.

Convention Notes

Revises 1889 constitution [Art. IX, secs. 2, 9]. Provides legislative rather than constitutional establishment of requirements which are often affected by (and sometimes in conflict with) federal law and court decisions. When necessary to comply with federal requirements it is much easier to change the law than to amend the constitution. If the governor fails to nominate within thirty days after receipt of nominees, the chief justice or acting chief justice shall make the nomination. Each nomination shall be confirmed by the senate, but a nomination made while the senate is not in session shall be effective as an appointment until the end of the next session. If the nomination is not confirmed, the office shall be vacant and another selection and nomination shall be made.

(2) If, at the first election after senate confirmation, and at the election before each succeeding term of office, any candidate other than the incumbent justice or district judge files for election to that office, the name of the incumbent shall be placed on the ballot. If there is no election contest for the office, the name of the incumbent shall nevertheless be placed on the general election ballot to allow voters of the state or district to approve or reject him. If an incumbent is rejected, another selection and nomination shall be made.

Unless so submitted and approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon, no such revision, alteration, or amendment shall take effect.

Convention Notes

Only change is removal of requirements in 1889 constitution [Art. XIX, sec. 8] that a convention meet within a certain time after election and that the election on the proposed constitution be held within six months.

Decisions under Former Provisions

For decisions relating to similar provisions in the 1889 Constitution, see annotations following sec. 8, Art. XIX of the 1889 Constitution in bound Volume One, Part 1, and in this supplement.

(3) At that election, the proposed amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors for approval or rejection. If approved by a majority voting thereon, it shall become a part of the constitution effective the first day of July following its approval, unless the amendment provides otherwise.

TRANSITION SCHEDULE

The following provisions shall remain part of this Constitution until their terms have been executed. Once each year the attorney general shall review the following provisions and certify to the secretary of state which, if any, have been executed. Any provisions so certified shall thereafter be removed from this Schedule and no longer published as part of this Constitution.

Section 1. Accelerated Effective Date
Section 2. Delayed Effective Date
Section 3. Prospective Operation of Declaration of Rights
Section 4. Terms of Judiciary
Section 5. Terms of Legislators
Section 6. General Transition

Convention Notes

Provides for an orderly change from the 1889 constitution to the 1972 constitution.

Section 1. Accelerated effective date. Section 6 (SESSIONS) and section 14 (DISTRICTING AND APPORTIONMENT) of Article V, THE LEGISLATURE, shall be effective January 1, 1973.

Compiler's Notes

Section 1 of the Adoption Schedule provided: "This Constitution, if approved by a majority of those voting at the election as provided by the Constitution of 1889, shall take effect on July 1, 1973, except as otherwise provided in sections 1 and 2 of the Transition Schedule. The Constitution of 1889, as amended, shall thereafter be of no effect."

The Adoption Schedule, submitted with the proposed Constitution for limited purposes only, is not reprinted herein since the introduction to the schedule provided that it should not be published as a part of the new Constitution.

Convention Notes

Proposed section on annual legislative sessions and reapportionment of the legislature would be effective January 1, 1973. The reapportionment commission could then be appointed by the 1973 legislature and report its plan to the 1974 legislature.

Section 2. Delayed effective date. The provisions of sections 1, 2, and 3 of Article V, THE LEGISLATURE, shall not become effective until the date the first redistricting and reapportionment plan becomes law.

Convention Notes

Sections on size of legislature, election and terms of its members would become effective when the reapportionment plan becomes law. If this is in 1974 then elections would be held in November 1974 for new members of the legislature to take office January 1, 1975.

Section 3. Prospective operation of declaration of rights. Any rights, procedural or substantive, created for the first time by Article II shall be prospective and not retroactive.

Convention Notes

Any new rights created in Article II take effect only after July 1, 1973. It does not create any rights for past events.

Section 4. Terms of judiciary. Supreme court justices, district court judges, and justices of the peace holding office when this Constitution becomes effective shall serve the terms for which they were elected or appointed.

Convention Notes

Since the proposed constitution changes the length of terms of office of judges this provision makes it clear that all judges may serve to the end of the term for which they were elected.

Section 5. Terms of legislators. (1) The terms of all legislators elected before the effective date of this Constitution shall end on December 31 of the year in which the first redistricting and reapportionment plan becomes law.

(2) The senators first elected under this Constitution shall draw lots to establish a term of two years for one-half of their number.

Convention Notes

(1) If the reapportionment and redistricting plan becomes effective after the 1974 legislative session, the terms of legislators serving in that session would end December 31, 1974. (2) Section 3, Article V provides that senators have four year terms but that one-half are elected every two years. This section provides that one-half of the senators first elected will have only two year terms.

Section 6. General transition. (1) The rights and duties of all public bodies shall remain as if this Constitution had not been adopted with the exception of such changes as are contained in this Constitution. All laws, ordinances, regulations, and rules of court not contrary to, or inconsistent with, the provisions of this Constitution shall remain in force, until they shall expire by their own limitation or shall be altered or repealed pursuant to this Constitution.

(2) The validity of all public and private bonds, debts, and contracts, and of all suits, actions, and rights of action, shall continue as if no change had taken place.

(3) All officers filling any office by election or appointment shall continue the duties thereof, until the end of the terms to which they were appointed or elected, and until their offices shall have been abolished or their successors selected and qualified in accordance with this Constitution or laws enacted pursuant thereto.

Convention Notes

Unless the proposed constitution specifically changes a law it will not affect any rights or duties or the validity of contracts, bonds, etc. All elected officials serve out their present terms.

1-804. (5668.38) Tax levy for establishment and operation of airports. For the purpose of establishing, constructing, equipping, maintaining and operating airports and landing fields under the provisions of this act the county commissioners or the city or town council may each year assess and levy in addition to the annual levy for general administrative purposes or the all-purpose levy authorized by sections 84-4701.1 and 84-4701.2, a tax of not to exceed two (2) mills on the dollar of taxable value of the property of said county, city or town. In the event of a jointly established airport or landing field, the county commissioners and the council or councils involved shall determine in advance the levy necessary for such purposes and the proportion each political subdivision joining in the venture shall pay, provided that no property within any political subdivision shall be subject to a tax pursuant to this section at an annual rate in excess of two (2) mills. Provided, that if it be found that the levy hereby authorized will be insufficient for the purposes herein enumerated, the commissioners and councils acting are hereby authorized and empowered to contract an indebtedness on behalf of such county, city or town, as the case may be, upon the credit thereof by borrowing money or issuing bonds for such purposes, provided that no money may be borrowed and no bonds may be issued for such purpose until the proposition has been submitted to the qualified electors, and a majority vote to be cast therefor, except that for the purpose of establishing a reserve fund to resurface, overlay, or improve existing runways, taxiways and ramps, said governing bodies may set up annual reserve funds in their annual budget, provided said reserve is approved by the governing bodies during the normal budgeting procedure. Provided further that the necessity to resurface or improve said runways by overlays or similar methods every so many years is based upon competent engineering estimates, and provided that said funds are expended at least within each ten (10) year period. Said fund shall not exceed at any time a competent engineering estimate of the cost of resurfacing or overlaying the existing runways, taxiways and ramps, of any one airport for each said fund. The governing body of said airport, if in its judgment deems it advantageous, may invest the fund in any interest-bearing deposits in a state or national bank insured by the F.D.I.C. or obligations of the United States of America, either short-term or long-term. Interest earned from such investments shall be credited to the operations and maintenance budget of said airport governing body. The above provisions, notwithstanding other budget control measures, and due to the uniqueness of the subject matter, are hereby declared necessary in the interests of the public health and safety.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment added the provisions authorizing governing bodies of airports to set up annual reserve funds in their annual budget to resurface, overlay or improve existing runways, taxiways and ramps.

The 1971 amendment substituted "qualified electors" for "taxpayers affected thereby" in the proviso relating to bond elections.

The 1973 amendment inserted "or the all-purpose levy authorized by sections 84-4701.1 and 84-4701.2" in the first sentence; substituted the proviso at the end of the second sentence for "based upon the benefits it is determined each shall derive from the project"; and made a minor change in phraseology.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 122, Laws 1969 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

1-805.1. Validation of previous contracts and tax levies—1971 act. All levies and expenditures heretofore made and engagements entered into by counties, cities, or towns for the purposes contemplated by chapter 8, Title 1, R.C.M. 1947, as amended, and all elections held in counties, cities or towns for the purpose of creating indebtedness for such purposes, wherein a majority of the vote cast was in favor of such indebtedness, whether such counties, cities and towns were acting individually or jointly, under the authority of this act, are hereby validated and declared legally created, entered into and made, and all evidence of such indebtedness is declared to be a legal obligation of the county, city or town wherein such a majority vote has been cast in favor of such indebtedness.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 278, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act validating and declaring legal all levies and expenditures heretofore made and engagements entered into by counties, cities or towns for the purposes of the Municipal Airport Act and all elections held in counties, cities or towns for the purpose of creating indebtedness for such purposes wherein a majority of the vote cast was in favor of such indebtedness; and providing for an effective date.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 278, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 10, 1971.

1-817. Application of airport revenues and sale proceeds.

Allocation of Costs

1-818. Federal and state aid.

Cross-References

Aeronautics commission functions transferred, sec. 82A-903 (1).

1-829 to 1-832. Unconstitutional.

Compiler's Notes

Sections 1-829 to 1-832 (Secs. 1 to 4, Ch. 281, L. 1969), authorizing passenger service charges against passenger air carriers, were held unconstitutional in Northwest Airlines, Inc. v. Joint City-County Airport Board, 154 M 352, 463 P 2d 470. See annotation below.

Constitutionality

This act (1-829 through 1-832) creates an unreasonabe and undue discrimination since imposition of charge based on number of emplaning passengers bears no reasonable relationship to use of airport facilities by carrier and is therefore unconstitutional as repugnant to "equal protection clause" of 14th Amendment of United States Constitution, and violates sections 3 and 27 of article III of Montana constitution. Northwest Airlines, Inc. v. Joint City-County Airport Board, 154 M 352, 463 P 2d 470.

To plan, establish, acquire, develop, construct, purchase, enlarge, improve, maintain, equip, operate, regulate, and protect airports and air navigation facilities, within this state and within any adjoining state, including the acquisition, construction, installation, equipment, maintenance, and operation at such airports or buildings and other facilities for the servicing of aircraft or for comfort and accommodation of air travelers, and the purchase and sale of supplies, goods, and commodities as are incident to the operation of its airport properties. For such purposes an authority may by purchase, gift, devise, lease, eminent domain proceedings or otherwise, acquire property, real or personal, or any interest therein, including easements in airport hazards or land outside the boundaries of an airport or airport site, as are necessary to permit the removal, elimination, obstruction-marking or obstruction-lighting of airport hazards or to prevent the establishment of airport hazards.

4. To establish comprehensive airport zoning regulations in accordance with the laws of this state. For the purpose of this chapter, a regional airport authority shall have the same powers as all other political subdivisions in the adoption and enforcement of comprehensive airport zoning regulations as provided for by the laws of this state.

5. To acquire, by purchase, gift, devise, lease, eminent domain proceedings or otherwise, existing airports and air navigation facilities, provided, however, an authority shall not acquire or take over any airport or air navigation facility owned or controlled by another authority, a municipality, or public agency of this or any other state without the consent of such authority, municipality or public agency.

6. To establish or acquire and maintain airports in, over, and upon any public waters of this state, any submerged lands under such public waters provided that the authority has obtained the approval of the owner or agency that controls the water; and to construct and maintain terminal buildings, landing floats, causeways, roadways, and bridges for approaches to or connecting with any such airport, and landing floats and breakwaters for the protection thereof.

1-910. Eminent domain. In the acquisition of property by eminent domain proceedings authorized by this chapter, an airport authority shall proceed in the manner provided by the laws of this state, and such other laws that may now or hereafter apply to the state or to political subdivisions of this state in exercising the right of eminent domain. The municipality shall not be precluded from abandoning such proceedings in any case where possession of the property has not been taken.

History: En. 1-910 by Sec. 9, Ch. 433, L. 1971.

1-911. Disposal of airport property. Except as may be limited by the terms and conditions of any grant, loan or agreement, authorized by section 1-915 of this chapter, an authority may, by sale, lease, or otherwise, dispose of any airport, air navigation facility or other property, or portion thereof or interest therein, acquired pursuant to this chapter. Such disposal by sale, lease, or otherwise, shall be in accordance with the laws of this state governing the disposition of other public property, except that in the case of disposal to another authority, a municipality or an agency of the state or federal government for use and operation as a public airport, the sale, lease, or other disposal may be effected in such manner and upon such terms as the commissioners of the authority may deem in the best interest of civil aviation.

History: En. 1-911 by Sec. 10, Ch. 433, L. 1971.

1-912. Bonds and other obligations. (1) An authority shall have the power to borrow money for any of its corporate purposes and issue its bonds therefor, including refunding bonds, in such form and upon such terms as it may determine, payable out of any revenues of the authority, including revenues derived from:

(a) an airport or air navigation facility or facilities,

(b) taxes levied pursuant to section 1-916, or other law, for airport purposes,

(c) grants or contributions from the federal government or

(d) other sources.

The bonds may be issued by resolution or resolutions of the authority, without an election, and without any limitation of amount except as follows: No such bonds shall be issued at any time if the total amount of principal and interest to become due in any year on such bonds, and on any then outstanding bonds for which revenues from the same source or sources are pledged, exceeds the amount of such revenues to be received in that year as estimated in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds; and the authority shall be obligated to take all action necessary and possible to impose, maintain and collect rates, charges, rentals and taxes, if any are pledged, sufficient to make the revenues from the pledged source or sources in such year at least equal to the amount of such principal and interest due in that year. They may be sold at public or private sale and shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding ten per centum (10%) per annum. Except as otherwise provided herein, any bonds issued pursuant to this chapter by an authority shall be payable as to principal and interest solely from revenues of the authority, and shall state on their face the applicable limitations or restrictions regarding the source or sources from which such principal and interest are payable.

Bonds issued by an authority or municipality pursuant to the provisions of this chapter are declared to be issued for an essential public and governmental purpose by a political subdivision within the meaning of section 84-4905(2)(a).

For the security of any such bonds, the authority or municipality may by resolution make and enter into any covenant, agreement, or indenture and exercise any additional powers authorized to be made, entered into or exercised by a municipality under Title 11, chapter 24. The sums required from time to time to pay principal and interest and to create and maintain a reserve for the bonds may be made payable from any and all revenues referred to in this chapter, prior to the payment of current costs of operation and maintenance of the facilities.

(2) Subject to the conditions stated in this paragraph (2) the governing body of any municipality having a population in excess of ten thousand (10,000) may, with respect to bonds issued pursuant to this chapter by the municipality or by an authority in which the municipality is included, by resolution covenant that, in the event that at any time all revenues, including taxes, appropriated and theretofore collected for such bonds are insufficient to pay principal or interest then due, it will levy a general tax upon all of the taxable property in the municipality for the payment of such deficiency and may further covenant that at any time a deficiency is likely to occur within one (1) year for the payment of principal and interest due on such bonds, it will levy a general tax upon all the taxable property in the municipality for the payment of such deficiency, and such taxes shall not be subject to any limitation of rate or amount applicable to other municipal taxes but shall be limited to a rate estimated to be sufficient to produce the amount of the deficiency. In the event more than one municipality having a population in excess of ten thousand (10,000) is included in an authority issuing bonds pursuant to this chapter, the municipalities may apportion the obligation to levy taxes for the payment of or in anticipation of a deficiency in the revenues appropriated for such bonds in such manner as the municipalities shall determine. The resolution shall state the principal amount and purpose of the bonds and the substance of the covenant respecting deficiencies. No such resolution shall become effective until the question of its approval has been submitted to the qualified electors of the municipality at a special election called for said purpose by the governing body of the municipality and a majority of the electors voting on the question have voted in favor thereof. The notice and conduct of the election shall be governed, to the extent applicable, by section 11-2308 and 11-2310 for an election called by cities and towns and section 16-202 and 16-2026 for an election called by counties. If a majority of the electors voting thereon vote against approval of the resolution, the municipality shall have no authority to make the covenant or to levy a tax for the payment of deficiencies pursuant to this section, but such municipality or authority may nevertheless issue bonds under this chapter payable solely from the sources referred to in paragraph (1) above.

If so authorized, such proceedings shall be instituted in the names of the constituent public agencies jointly, and the property so acquired shall be held by said public agencies as tenants in common.

d. The joint board shall not dispose of any airport, air navigation facility, or real property under its jurisdiction except with the consent of the governing bodies of its constituent public agencies, provided that the joint board may, without such consent, enter into contracts, leases, or other arrangements contemplated by section 1-913 of this chapter.

5. For the purpose of providing the joint board with moneys for the necessary expenditures in carrying out the provisions of this section, a joint fund shall be created and maintained, into which shall be deposited the share of each of the constituent public agencies as provided by the joint agreement. Any federal, state, or other grants, contributions, or loans, and the revenues obtained from the joint ownership, control, and operation of any airport or air navigation facility under the jurisdiction of the joint board shall be paid into the joint fund. Disbursements from such fund shall be made by order of the board, subject to the limitations prescribed in subsection 4 of this section.

As used in this act: "Passenger air carrier" means a common carrier of passengers for hire by aircraft weighing over twelve thousand five hundred (12,500) pounds on a regular schedule or schedules, and a carrier of passengers for hire by aircraft weighing over twelve thousand five hundred (12,500) pounds on a contract or charter basis.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 427, L. 1973.

Title of Act

An act authorizing cities, counties and airport authorities to impose reasonable passenger service charges for the use of certain public airports to be collected either by passenger air carriers, if they agree to collect the charge on a contract basis, or to be collected by airport personnel; providing for reporting, collection, disposition and use thereof; providing penalties; and providing an effective date.

1-1002. Service charge authorized—collection—audit—deposit in fund. (1) Every city or county or airport authority which constructs, operates or maintains, individually or jointly, a public airport with funds contributed in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, by the state, county, city or other public authority, is authorized and empowered to charge a reasonable service charge not to exceed two dollars ($2) per day, for each passenger enplaning upon every passenger air carrier aircraft at any such public airport as a point of origin for transportation purposes. The charge authorized to be imposed herein is in consideration of the use of the airport and associated airport facilities provided by the public for taking off and landing of commercial passenger aircraft, for providing facilities for the passengers thereof, and to help defray the cost of furnishing, operating, improving, maintaining and protecting the public airport and related facilities and the passengers, crews and equipment. The charge herein provided for is in addition to any other charges that may be required or imposed by the authority for transportation or other services provided. In the alternative, said city, county, or airport authority may collect the charge itself or cause said service charge to be collected directly from the enplaning passenger by its agents or employees.

(2) Each passenger air carrier which agrees by contract to collect said service charge shall:

(a) before the fifteenth of each month, file with the city, county, or airport authority, or responsible board thereof, a return showing the number of passengers for hire enplaning on aircraft of the passenger air carrier at the respective airport during the preceding calendar month;

(b) file with the return, additional other pertinent information required by the respective airport;

(c) remit with the return, the service charges imposed under this act, if, by agreement with the airport board or authority, they have contracted to collect the charge from the enplaning passenger.

(3) Before the first day of the calendar month following that in which a return is filed, the respective airport board or governing authority shall:

(a) audit the return;

(b) make any exceptions to the report in writing to the air carrier. If none is made, the report and remittance will be deemed correct;

(c) in the case of a jointly operated airport, the carrier will remit to the governing board who shall be responsible for its proper disposition as directed by the governing bodies in accordance with the provisions below.

(4) All service charges received by counties and cities under the provisions of this act shall be deposited in the airport fund of the county or city or in the joint airport fund of the city and county and shall be used for construction, improvement, operation, maintenance, protection and repair of its public airport or for the retirement of bonds issued for the construction, improvement or other expenditures of the airport, including the protection of aircraft passengers, crews and air carrier equipment.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 427, L. 1973.

1-1003. Collection of service charge by carrier. Nothing in this act shall prevent a passenger air carrier from collecting, directly or indirectly, the service charge payable for each paying passenger from the passenger, but the air carrier shall collect the service charge only if it enters into a voluntary agreement to do so.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 427, L. 1973.

1-1004. Civil proceedings for collection of charge—misdemeanor. If any person, firm, or corporation subject to the provisions of this act fails or neglects to pay the service charges, the same may be collected through civil proceedings in an appropriate court. Passengers refusing to pay said service charge shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punished accordingly, and, also, they may be refused permission to enplane.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 427, L. 1973.

1-1005. Carrier's fee for collection—restriction on fees paid by passenger. Air carrier may, by contract with the airport board or authority involved, collect the charge from the passenger, and in so doing, be entitled to a fee for doing so. This may be a percentage of said charge. Or, the airport board or authority may collect the charge directly from the enplaning passenger. Provided, however, no passenger shall pay more than one (1) charge during any twenty-four (24) hour period, even though they may board several planes in different Montana cities during that period. In such cases, only the charge, if any, in effect at the first airport used during said twenty-four (24) hour period shall govern. No other charge shall be payable at any other airport by that same passenger during the same twenty-four (24) hour period.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 427, L. 1973.

2-101. (7928) Agency defined.

Factors Determining Existence of Agency

Where service station proprietor was not required to file any written reports to oil company, proprietor could stock any merchandise of his choosing, oil company did not inspect service station and did not require proprietor to wear any particular uniform or to operate station during any particular hours, and only written agreements between oil company and proprietor were equipment leases and truck rental; oil company was not liable for injury sustained by third person on service station premises due to gasoline fire since relationship between oil company and proprietor was not one of actual agency under this section. Elkins v. Husky Oil Co., 153 M 159, 455 P 2d 329.

2-106. (7933) Ostensible agency.

Insufficient Evidence

Fact that service station proprietor displayed signs advertising oil company's products and honored oil company's credit cards, was not sufficient to make proprietor ostensible agent of oil company under this section or section 2-124, and therefore oil company was not liable for injury sustained by third person on service station premises. Elkins v. Husky Oil Co., 153 M 159, 455 P 2d 329.

Pilot was not ostensible agent of aviation service where owner of plane made own arrangements with pilot and plaintiff's decedent did not rely on aviation service's responsibility, even though aviation service had introduced pilot to plane owner, had previously supplied its own employees as pilots, furnished weather information for flight plans, and organized recovery activities after plane had gone down. Calkins v. Oxbow Ranch, Inc., — M —, 495 P 2d 1124.

2-122. (7945) Measure of agent's authority.

Failure To Make Authority Known

Authority of bank to apply funds from check endorsed in blank by debtor and delivered to bank by his wife was not measureable in terms of authority that debtor conferred upon his wife without regard to whether that authority or its limitations were made known to bank. Baker Nat. Bank v. Lestar, 153 M 45, 453 P 2d 774.

2-124. (7947) Ostensible authority defined.

Insufficient Evidence

Fact that service station proprietor displayed signs advertising oil company's products and honored oil company's credit cards, was not sufficient to make proprietor ostensible agent of oil company under this section or section 2-106, and therefore oil company was not liable for injury sustained by third person on service station premises. Elkins v. Husky Oil Co., 153 M 159, 455 P 2d 329.

3-228.2. Licensing of grain merchandisers—fees—exemptions. (1) A person may not merchandise grain without obtaining a license under this act and without obtaining a certificate of authority if that certificate is required under section 15-2363, R.C.M. 1947.

(2) Licenses to engage in the business of merchandising of grains shall be issued by the department to reputable persons who apply in writing, submit the scheduled fee, and set forth under oath the place where the applicant intends to carry on the business for which the license is desired. A separate license is required for each place of business. Each vehicle or vessel used shall be noted on the application.

(3) A person merchandising grain shall before July 1 pay the department a minimum license fee of fifteen dollars ($15) for each year or part of a year, for each place of business owned, operated, or conducted by that person. The department may by rule establish the license fees, which may be graduated according to the volume of business conducted by a licensee

(b) been found guilty of fraud, deceit, dishonesty, forgery, burglary, or larceny;

(b) be executed by a corporate surety authorized to do business in the state and be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the acts and duties required by section 3-229;

(c) be filed with the department before July 1 each year on a form prescribed by the department.

(2) The department may require an additional bond, if the grain business conducted warrants an increase, which shall cover all transactions of merchandising grains.

(3) A person injured by breach of an obligation, for which a bond is given to the department, may take action against the bond in his own name to recover damages caused by the breach.

(4) Liability of the surety upon the bond is limited to the amount of the bond. However, if two (2) or more persons are injured by breach of the obligations for which the bond is given and the damages for violating the conditions of the bond exceed the specified amount of the bond, the recovery on the bond shall be prorated by the surety among all of those injured.

(5) All bonds expire on June 30 each year.

3-228.6. Insurance required of warehouseman. In addition to the bond and license, a public warehouseman shall obtain and maintain insurance approved by the department as adequate to protect the holders of warehouse receipts from loss. All those fees and charges shall be paid to the department and deposited with the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall place all the fees and charges in the earmarked revenue fund. Fees deposited in the earmarked revenue fund may be used to pay all claims for expense incurred in inspecting, grading, weighing and protein-testing of grain, when such claims have been approved as provided by law. No funds of the state shall be used by the department in carrying out such services, except moneys presently appropriated.

(11) "Seed warehouseman" means any person owning, controlling, or operating a public agricultural seed warehouse.

(12) Bin run seed sales from one farmer to another farmer mean buyer beware and are exempt from this act.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 442, L. 1973.

Title of Act

An act providing for regulation of the various phases of the marketing and distribution of agricultural seeds intended for propagation purpose and restricting the methods of disposition of screenings that contain viable prohibited noxious weed seed; and repealing sections 3-301 through 3-309, R. C. M. 1947.

3-311. Licensing — issuance — application — fee — bonding — insurance. (1) All seed processing plants, seed labelers, seed buyers, and public agricultural seed warehouses shall obtain a license from the department before doing business in this state; however, a Montana certified seed grower, when processing or labeling certified seed from his own production is not required to be licensed under this section.

(2) All licenses are issued on a fiscal year basis to expire on June 30 of each year. A license may cover any or as many as all four activities: processing plant, seed labeler, seed buyer, and public agricultural seed warehouse.

(3) Application for license is made in a manner and on forms provided by the department. Any nonresident shall file a written power of attorney designating the secretary of state as the agent of such nonresident person, and such power of attorney shall be so prepared and in such form as to render effective the jurisdiction of the courts of the state of Montana over such nonresident applicant. A nonresident who has a duly appointed resident agent upon whom process may be serviced as provided by law, is not required to designate the secretary of state as such agent. The department shall be furnished with a certified copy of the designation of the secretary of state or of a resident agent.

(4) The department may establish by rule minimum standards for equipment and handling procedures for facilities to be licensed and may carry out inspections during normal business hours to determine that these standards are being adhered to.

(5) Each license costs twenty-five dollars ($25) per year.

(6) Failure on the part of a licensee to comply with the rules issued under the authority of this section is sufficient cause for cancellation of a license by the department provided the licensee is given a reasonable opportunity to correct inadvertent and nonrecurring deficiencies.

(7) The department may by rule establish bonding and insurance requirements for each class of license.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 442, L. 1973.

3-312. Screenings—restrictions on movements. All screenings whether from seed processing plants or other sources represent both a valuable and potentially hazardous product. Their movements are restricted as follows:

(1) The viability of prohibited noxious weed seed as defined in section 3-802.1(4)(b) shall be destroyed before screenings are utilized in feed or in any other way in which they may propagate their kind. However, if these screenings are sold for feed, it shall be the responsibility of the feed buyer to haul under a tarp cover or other tight container until the provisions of this act are met.

(2) The department has authority to issue rules to restrict or exempt from restriction the holding and movement of screenings when the public interest is served by so doing.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 427, L. 1973.

3-313. Dealer's license — exception — fee—application—violation. (1) No person may distribute seed without obtaining a dealer's license for each place of business from the department. No license is required of a person who distributes seeds only in sealed packages of less than one (1) pound, packed by a licensed seed labeler and bearing his name and address. Each dealer's license costs ten dollars ($10) per year and expires on June 30 of each year. Any licensed processing plant, seed labeler, seed buyer, or public agricultural seed warehouse may obtain a dealer's license without additional fee.

(2) Application for a dealer's license shall be made in a manner and on forms provided by the department. Such forms shall require among other things the name of a person domiciled in this state authorized to receive and accept service or legal notices of all kinds.

(3) Violation of provisions of this section or the distribution of agricultural seeds not legally labeled constitutes adequate grounds for canceling a license or denial on the part of the department to license a dealer.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 442, L. 1973.

1. "Prohibited noxious weed seeds" are the seeds of perennial and other serious weeds that not only reproduce by seed but also may spread by underground roots, stems, and other reproductive parts, and which when well established, are highly destructive and difficult to control in this state by ordinary good cultural practice. Prohibited noxious weed seeds shall include the seeds of:

"Controlling the pollination" means to use a method hybridization which will produce pure seed which is at least seventy-five per cent (75%) hybrid seed. Hybrid designations shall be treated as variety names.

(6) The terms "approximate percentage" and "approximate number" shall mean the percentage or number with the variations above or below as allowed according to the tolerance limits defined in the "rules for seed testing" adopted by the Association of Official Seed Analysts.

(7) The term "percentage of germination" shall mean the percentage of seeds which show normal sprouts as evidence of vitality when the seeds are subjected to the proper moisture and temperature conditions with proper aeration for the customary length of time for each specific kind of seed, as specified in the "rules for seed testing" adopted by the Association of Official Seed Analysts.

Title of Act

An act to provide a uniform agricultural seed law defining seeds and regulating the sale and labeling of seeds by amending section 3-803 and by repealing sections 3-801, 3-802, 3-816, 3-817, 3-818, 3-819, R. C. M. 1947.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted carduus arvensis, white top, perennial peppergrass and cardaria pubescens from the list in subdivision (4) (b) 1; substituted "Centaurea repens" for "Centaurea pieris" in subdivision (4) (b) 1; made minor changes in the names of plants listed in paragraphs 1 and 2 of subdivision (4) (b); deleted "of North America" from the ends of subsections (6) and (7); and added subsections (11) and (12).

3-802.2. Labeling of agricultural seeds. The owner, vendor, or person in possession of each and every package, parcel, or lot of agricultural seeds, as defined in the first section [3-802.1] of this act, that contains one (1) pound, or more, of agricultural seeds, whether in package or in bulk, shall before offering the seeds for sale affix in a conspicuous place on the exterior of the container a written or printed label in the English language in legible type or copy and the label shall contain a statement specifying:

(1) A lot number or other distinguishing mark.

(2) Kind. The name of each kind of seed present in excess of five per cent (5%) shall be shown on the label and need not be accompanied by the word "kind." When two or more kinds of seed are named on the label, the name of each kind shall be accompanied by the percentage of each. When only one kind of seed is present in excess of five per cent (5%) and no variety name or type designation is shown, the percentage of that kind may be shown as "pure seed" and such percentage shall apply to seed of the kind named.

Variety. (a) The following kinds of agricultural seeds are generally labeled as to variety and shall be labeled to show the variety name or the words "Variety Not Stated":

Alfalfa
Barley
Bean, field
Beet, field
Brome, smooth
Clover, crimson
Clover, red
Clover, white
Corn, field
Corn, pop
Flax
Millet, foxtail
Oat
Pea, field
Rye
Safflower
Sorghum
Sorghum-Sudan hybrid
Soybean Sudangrass
Sunflower
Trefoil, Birdsfoot
Wheat, common
Wheat, Durum

(b) If the name of the variety is given, the name may be associated with the name of the kind with or without the words "kind and variety." The percentage in this case may be shown as "pure seed" and shall apply only to seed of the variety named. If separate percentages for the kind and the variety or hybrid are shown, the name of the kind and the name of the variety or the term "hybrid" shall be clearly associated with the respective percentages. When two or more varieties are present in excess of five per cent (5%) and are named on the label, the name of each variety shall be accompanied by the percentage of each.

(3) If any one kind or kind and variety of seed present in excess of five per cent (5%) is "hybrid" seed, it shall be designated "hybrid" on the label. The percentage that is hybrid shall be at least ninety-five per cent (95%) of the percentage of pure seed shown unless the percentage of pure seed which is hybrid seed is shown separately. If two or more kinds or varieties are present in excess of five per cent (5%) and are named on the label, each that is hybrid shall be designated as hybrid on the label. Any one kind or kind and variety that has pure seed which is less than ninety-five per cent (95%) but more than seventy-five per cent (75%) hybrid seed as a result of incompletely controlled pollination in a cross shall be labeled to show (a) the percentage of pure seed that is hybrid seed or (b) a statement such as "Contains from seventy-five per cent (75%) to ninety-five per cent (95%) hybrid seed." No one kind or variety of seed shall be labeled as hybrid if the pure seed contains less than seventy-five per cent (75%) hybrid seed.

(4) Origin, state or foreign country if known, of alfalfa, red clover, white clover, native range grasses and field corn other than hybrid. If the origin is unknown, the fact shall be stated.

(5) The approximate percentage of germination of agricultural seed, together with the date of test of germination. In all cases where hard seeds remain at the end of the germination test, the percentage of actual germination and the percentage of hard seeds shall be stated separately; with the provision that any portion or all of the percentage of hard seeds may be added to the percentage of germination, and stated as "total germination and hard seed."

(6) The approximate percentage by weight of pure seed, meaning the freedom of agricultural seeds from inert matter and from other seeds.

(7) The approximate percentage by weight of sand, dirt, broken seeds, sticks, chaff, and other inert matter combined in agricultural seeds.

(8) The approximate total percentage by weight of weed seeds.

(9) The approximate percentage by weight of other crop seeds in agricultural seeds.

(10) The name and approximate number of each kind or species of restricted noxious weed seeds occurring per pound of agricultural, vegetable, or flower seeds.

(11) The full name and address of the seedsman, importer, dealer or agent, other person or persons, or firm or corporation selling the agricultural seed.

(12) In the case of mixtures of agricultural seeds which contain two (2) or more kinds of seed in excess of five per cent (5%) by weight of each, when sold as mixtures:

(a) Name of mixture.

(b) The name and approximate percentage by weight of each kind of agricultural seed present in the mixture in excess of five per cent (5%) by weight of the total mixture.

(c) Approximate percentage by weight of broken seeds and other inert matter in the mixture of agricultural seeds.

(d) Approximate percentage by weight of weed seeds as defined in the first section [3-802.1] of this act.

(e) Approximate percentage by weight of other crop seed in the mixture of agricultural seeds.

(f) The name and approximate number of each kind or species of restricted noxious weed seeds occurring per pound of mixtures of agricultural seeds, subject, however, to restrictions as specified in the fourth section [3-820] of this act.

(g) Approximate percentage of germination of each kind of agricultural seed present in the mixture in excess of five per cent (5%) by weight, together with the month and year the seed was tested. In all cases where hard seeds remain at the end of the germination test, the percentage of actual germination and the percentage of hard seeds shall be stated separately, with the provision that any portion or all of the hard seed may be added to the percentage of germination and stated as "total germination and hard seed."

(h) Full name and address of the vendor of the mixture.

(13) When seed is exchanged or transferred from one seed labeler to another, it shall be accompanied by a shipping document which clearly shows the kind(s) of seed, quantity of each kind, and each container in a lot shall carry appropriate lot number designation, and accompanied by mechanical analysis for each lot so involved.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 361, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 390, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "in excess of nine (9) weed seeds" before "per pound" in subsection (10) and subdivision (12) (f) and added subsection (13).

3-802.3. Labeling of vegetable and flower seeds. Vegetable and flower seeds in packets and in larger containers shall be labeled with the required information as follows:

(b) the product name and any brand name under which the commercial feed is distributed;

(c) the guaranteed analysis stated in terms the department by rule determines are required to advise the user of the composition of the feed or to support claims made in the labeling. The substances or elements guaranteed must be determinable by laboratory methods such as the methods published by the association of official analytical chemists;

(d) the common or usual name of each ingredient used in the manufacture of the commercial feed. The department by rule may permit the use of a collective term for a group of ingredients which perform a similar function, or it may exempt commercial feeds, or any group of them from this requirement of an ingredient statement if it finds that the statement is not required in the interest of consumers;

(e) the name and principal mailing address of the manufacturer or the person responsible for distributing the commercial feed;

(2) A custom-mixed feed shall be accompanied by a label, invoice, delivery slip, or other shipping document containing:

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2029. Misbranded feed. A commercial feed is misbranded if:

(1) its labeling is false or misleading in any particular;

(2) it is distributed under the name of another commercial feed;

(3) it is not labeled as required in section 4 [3-2028] of this act;

(4) it purports to be or is represented as containing a commercial feed ingredient, unless the commercial feed or feed ingredient conforms to any definition prescribed by rule of the department;

(5) any word, statement, or other information required by this act to appear on the label is not prominently placed there with a conspicuousness (as compared with other words, statements, designs or devices in the labeling) and in terms which render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual under customary conditions of purchase and use.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2030. Adulterated feed. (1) A commercial feed is adulterated if:

(a) it contains any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render it injurious to health. However, if the substance is not an added substance, the commercial feed shall not be considered adulterated under this subsection if the quantity of the substance in the commercial feed does not ordinarily render it injurious to health;

(b) it contains any added poisonous, deleterious or nonnutritive substance which is unsafe within the meaning of section 406 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (other than one which is a pesticide chemical in or on a raw agricultural commodity or a food additive);

(c) it is, or it contains any food additive which is unsafe within the meaning of section 409 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(d) it is a raw agricultural commodity and it contains a pesticide chemical which is unsafe within the meaning of section 408 (a) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. However, where a pesticide chemical has been used in or on a raw agricultural commodity in conformity with an exemption granted or a tolerance prescribed under section 408 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and that agricultural commodity has been processed by canning, cooking, freezing, dehydrating or milling, the residue of the pesticide chemical remaining in or on the processed feed shall not be deemed unsafe if such residue in or on the raw agricultural commodity has been removed to the extent possible in good manufacturing practice and the concentration of the residue in the processed feed is not greater than the tolerance prescribed for the raw agricultural commodity, unless the feeding of the processed feed is likely to result in the pesticide residue in the edible product of the animal, which is unsafe within the meaning of section 408 (a) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act;

(e) it is, or contains any color additive which is unsafe within the meaning of section 706 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(2) Any valuable constituents have been in whole or in part omitted or abstracted therefrom or any less valuable substance substituted therefor.

(3) Its composition or quality falls below or differs from that stated on its label.

(4) It contains a drug and the methods used in or the facilities or controls used for its manufacture, processing or packaging do not conform to current good manufacturing practice rules adopted by the department to assure that the drug meets the requirement of this act as to safety and has the identity and strength and meets the quality and purity characteristics which it is represented to possess. In formulating these rules, the department shall adopt the current good manufacturing practice regulations for medicated feed premixes and for medicated feeds established under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, unless it determines that they are not appropriate to the conditions which exist in this state.

(5) It contains viable weed seeds in amounts exceeding the limits which the department established by rule.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2031. Prohibitions. No person may:

(1) manufacture or distribute any commercial feed that is adulterated or misbranded;

(2) adulterate or misbrand a commercial feed;

(3) distribute agricultural commodities such as whole seed, hay, straw, stover, silage, cobs, husks and hulls which are adulterated within the meaning of section 6 (1) [3-2030 (1)] of this act;

(4) remove or dispose of a commercial feed in violation of an order under section 12 [3-2036] of this act;

(5) fail to register or obtain a permit in accordance with section 3 [3-2027] of this act;

(6) violate section 13 (6) [3-2037 (6)] of this act;

(7) fail to pay inspection fees and file reports as required by section 8 [3-2032] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2032. Inspection fees—filing of annual statement. (1) An inspection fee shall be paid on all commercial feeds, except "pet foods" and "specialty pet foods" distributed in this state as follows:

(a) The inspection fee shall be set at ten cents ($.10) per ton. However, after May 1975 the department may adjust the fee by rule to adequately fund the administration of this act. Adjustments shall be made only after holding a public hearing on the proposed changes as required in section 10 [3-2034] of this act and shall remain within the limits of five cents ($.05) to twenty-five cents ($.25) per ton. The effective date of any such rule adjusting fees will be January 1 of the calendar year following the issuance of such rule. All permit holders are to be notified immediately of any changes in fees.

(b) The feed manufacturer shall have primary responsibility for paying inspection fees; however, the distributor shall be held responsible for inspection fees if the manufacturer has not paid them.

(c) Inspection fees shall be paid on each commercial feed including feed ingredients that are defined as commercial feeds even though they are used in the manufacture of other commercial feeds. However, premixes prepared and used within a feed plant are exempt but not premixes or ingredients transferred from one plant to another even within the same organization.

(d) A person producing a commercial feed with a feed mixing plant at a feed lot, poultry, swine or dairy operation shall not be required to pay inspection fees on the commercial feeds produced and used in his feeding operation at the site but he will be responsible for any unpaid inspection fees on commercial feed purchased by him and on any commercial feed he produces and distributes other than in his feeding operations at the site.

(2) Each person who holds a permit as required in section 3 (1) [3-2027 (1)] of this act shall:

(a) file, not later than February 28 of each year, an annual statement setting forth the number of tons of commercial feeds distributed in this state during the preceding calendar year (January 1 through December 31); and upon filing such a statement shall pay the inspection fee at the rate stated in subsection (1) of this section. Inspection fees which have not been remitted to the department within fifteen (15) days following the due date shall have a penalty fee of ten per cent (10%) with a minimum of ten dollars ($10) added to the amount due. The assessment of this penalty fee does not prevent the department from taking other action as provided in this act;

(b) keep those records which are necessary or are required by the department to indicate accurately the tonnage of commercial feed distributed in this state. The department may examine the records to verify statements of tonnage;

(c) make accurate and prompt reports as required. Failure to do so is sufficient cause for the department to cancel or refuse to reissue a permit.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2033. Deposit of fees. All fees collected for permits, registration and inspection shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the earmarked revenue fund for the purpose of administering this act, including the cost of equipment and facilities and the cost of inspecting, analyzing and examining commercial feeds manufactured or distributed in this state and the cost of developing better analytical methods, means of evaluating the value or the potential toxic qualities of a feed.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2034. Rules—adoption by department. (1) The department may adopt those rules for commercial feeds and pet foods which are specifically authorized in this act and those other reasonable rules necessary for the efficient enforcement of this act. In the interest of uniformity the department shall adopt unless it determines that they are inconsistent with this act or are not appropriate to conditions which exist in this state:

(a) the official definitions of feed ingredients and official feed terms adopted by the association of American feed control officials and published in this official publication of that organization and,

(b) any rules adopted under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act as long as the department has the authority under this act to adopt that rule.

(2) In adopting rules the department will follow procedures prescribed in the Montana Administrative Procedure Act [82-4201 to 82-4225].

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2035. Enforcement—inspection—notice—sampling and analysis. (1) To enforce this act, the department, upon presenting appropriate credentials and a written notice to the owner, operator, or agent in charge may enter, during normal business hours, any factory, warehouse, or establishment within the state in which commercial feeds are manufactured, processed, packed or held, or enter any vehicle being used to transport or hold commercial feeds. The department may inspect at reasonable times and within reasonable limits and in reasonable manner any factory, warehouse, establishments or vehicle and all pertinent equipment, finished and unfinished materials, containers and labeling found in them. The inspection may include the verification of only those records and production and control procedures necessary to determine compliance with the good manufacturing practice rules adopted under section 6 (4) [3-2030 (4)] of this act.

(2) A separate notice shall be given for each inspection, but a notice is not required for each entry made during the period covered by the inspection. Each inspection shall be commenced and completed with reasonable promptness. Upon completion of the inspection, the person in charge of the facility or vehicle shall be so notified.

(3) If the officer or employee making the inspection of a factory, warehouse or other establishment has obtained a sample in the course of the inspection, upon completion of the inspection and prior to leaving the premises he shall give the owner, operator or agent in charge a receipt describing the sample obtained.

(4) If the owner of a factory, warehouse or establishment described in subsection (1), or his agent, refuses to allow an inspection, the department may obtain from the district court a warrant directing the owner or his agent to allow inspection of the premises described in the warrant.

(5) To enforce this act, the department may enter upon any public or private premises including any vehicle of transport during regular business hours to obtain samples and examine records relating to distribution of commercial feeds.

(6) Sampling and analysis shall be conducted in accordance with methods published by the association of official analytical chemists or with other generally recognized methods.

(7) The results of all analyses of official samples shall be forwarded by the department to the person named on the label and to the purchaser. When the inspection and analysis of an official sample indicates a commercial feed has been adulterated or misbranded and upon request within thirty (30) days following receipt of the analysis the department shall furnish the registrant a portion of the sample.

(8) The department, in determining for administrative purposes whether a commercial feed is deficient in any component, shall be guided by the official sample as defined in subsection (16) of section 1 [3-2025 (16)] and obtained and analyzed as provided for in subsections (3), (5) and (6) of section 11 [3-2035 (3), (5) and (6)] of this act.

(9) All chemical analyses shall be performed co-operatively by the department and the Montana agricultural experiment station at Montana state university.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2036. Enforcement—embargo order—condemnation. (1) When the department has reasonable cause to believe any lot of commercial feed is in violation of this act or a rule adopted by the department, it may issue and enforce a written or printed embargo order, requiring the person holding the commercial feed not to dispose of it in any manner until written permission is given by the department or the court. The department shall release the feed when this act and the rules of the department have been complied with. If compliance is not obtained within thirty (30) days, the department may begin or upon the request of the registrant or the person holding the commercial feed shall begin, proceedings for condemnation.

(2) Commercial feed not in compliance with this act or the rules of the department may be seized on complaint of the department to a district court in the area in which the commercial feed is located. If the court finds the commercial feed in violation of this act and orders its condemnation, it shall be disposed of in any manner consistent with the quality of the commercial feed and state law. The disposition of the commercial feed may not be ordered by the court without first giving the owner or person from whom the feed was seized an opportunity to apply to the court for release of the commercial feed or for permission to process or relabel the commercial feed to bring it into compliance with this act.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2037. Misdemeanor—injunction—appeal. (1) A person who violates this act or who obstructs, prevents or attempts to obstruct or prevent the department in the performance of its duty under this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than three hundred dollars ($300) for the first violation, and not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for a subsequent violation.

(2) Nothing in this act requires the department to prosecute, begin seizure proceedings or issue an embargo order as a result of minor violations or when it believes the public interest will best be served by suitable notice of warning in writing.

(3) A county attorney to whom a violation is reported shall prosecute in a court of competent jurisdiction without delay. Before the department reports a violation for prosecution, an opportunity shall be given the distributor to present his view to the department.

(4) The department may apply for and the court may grant a temporary or permanent injunction restraining any person from violating this act or any rule adopted under this act notwithstanding the existence of other remedies at law. The injunction shall be issued without bond.

(5) Any person adversely affected by an act, order, or ruling made pursuant to the provisions of this act may within thirty (30) days seek judicial review in the district court where the person resides or has his place of business.

(6) A person who uses to his own advantage, or reveals to persons other than officers of the department or to the courts when relevant in a judicial proceeding, any information acquired under this act, concerning any method, records, formulations, or processes which as a trade secret is entitled to protection, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than three hundred dollars ($300), or imprisoned for not more than one (1) year, or both. However, the department may exchange information of a regulatory nature with the proper officials of the United States government, or of other states, who are similarly prohibited by law from revealing that information.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2038. Co-operation with other agencies. The department may co-operate with and enter into agreements with governmental agencies of this state, other states, agencies of the federal government and private associations in order to carry out this act.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 356, L. 1973.

3-2039. Publications. The department shall publish at least annually in a form it considers proper, information concerning the sale of commercial feed, data on production and use and the results of analysis of official samples of commercial feeds sold within the state as compared with the analysis guaranteed in the registration and on the label. The information concerning production and use of commercial feed shall not disclose the operations of any person.

Before revoking, denying renewal of or suspending a license, the commissioner shall give written notice of his intention to revoke, deny or suspend the license, his reasons therefor, and shall give the licensee a time limit, of ten (10) days from the time of receiving the notice during which time the licensee may request a hearing to show cause why his license should not be revoked, denied or suspended. Such notice shall be sent by certified mail, or personal service may be made upon the licensee by a representative of the department. Failure of the licensee to request a hearing within the time allowed by the commissioner shall be considered his desire not to contest the commissioner's reasons for suspending, denying, or revoking of said license.

However, if the licensee does request a hearing, the commissioner shall then appoint a time and place for an administrative hearing within the county where the licensee is licensed.

The date established for the hearing must be not less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days after receipt of the licensee's request for such hearing. Such request for a hearing shall serve as a bar to prosecution until a decision from the commissioner becomes final. The licensee shall at such hearing, have the opportunity to testify or to present evidence having a bearing on the denial, suspension, or revocation of his license, and, after hearing all the evidence, the commissioner shall make a determination. If a license is suspended, denied or revoked it shall not be reinstated until examination or inspection by the commissioner shows that the cause for suspension, denial or revocation has been eliminated or corrected.

It shall be unlawful for any licensee to carry on the business or operations for which he was licensed, during the term of suspension or revocation, and if he does so, the licensee shall be subject to the penalties provided in the act.

Any licensee who feels aggrieved at the decision of the commissioner in matters pertaining to suspension, denial, or revocation of a license may appeal, within thirty (30) days after the date of determination by the commissioner, to the district court of the county in which he was licensed, if in the state, or in the case of a business firm of any nature in the state to the county of its principal place of business.

3-24-113. Removal or destruction of products in case of potential health hazards. When epidemiological evidence, or the likelihood exists that a dairy or manufactured dairy products plant is producing, manufacturing, storing, handling, or offering for sale, any milk or manufactured dairy product which is adulterated, or which may be detrimental to the health or safety of the consumer, the commissioner may request the state department of health to remove such product from the market and/or to be held, disposed of, destroyed, or treated in such a manner so as to no longer constitute a potential health hazard.

It shall be unlawful for any person, in any manner, to violate any order requiring removal from the market, holding, disposing of, destroying, or treating such products. Violation shall be punishable as a misdemeanor, and each such violation shall be subject to a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than two hundred fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thirty (30) days, or to both fine and imprisonment.

It shall be unlawful for any person to interfere with or obstruct the commissioner or his authorized agent in the performance of his duty to enter, inspect, and/or obtain samples.

Violation of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall subject the offender to a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) and not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one (1) nor more than thirty (30) days or to both such fine and imprisonment.

All manufactured dairy products which are handled, displayed, transported, exposed for sale, offered for sale, or sold in Montana, shall be considered perishable and potentially hazardous, and shall be kept at safe temperature or below; provided, however that nothing in this requirement shall be construed as prohibiting higher temperatures which are necessary for curing, ripening or aging of certain cheeses and cultured products, and provided, further, that this section of the act does not apply to manufactured dairy products packaged in hermetically sealed containers or sterile manufactured dairy products which do not require refrigeration for their safekeeping.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-118. Sanitary regulation of imported products. All manufactured dairy products, or imitations or products made in semblance thereof, covered by this act, shipped into Montana for sale display or use must be produced under the same or equivalent sanitary regulations and requirements as govern the production of such products in Montana.

Unless the sanitary conditions of manufacture and standards of identity conform to the same or equivalent standards required by the laws or regulations of this state, such products shall not be sold, given away, displayed, transported into, or used in Montana.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

saler's or retailer's names clearly printed in a conspicuous place on the package, or wrapper, in which it is sold. In case a manufactured dairy product is packaged in a plant other than that of the plant which name appears on the package or wrapper, the package or wrapper shall also show the name of the plant at which such product was packaged or wrapped. Provided, however, that nothing in this section of the act shall be construed as preventing the use of codes or numbers which designate the packaged or wrapping plant, when such codes or numbers are registered in the office of the dairy and egg division of the department.

History: En. Sec. 32, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-120. Sale or use of impure, colored, adulterated or unwholesome milk unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, manufacture or exchange, display or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as milk or cream, any impure, colored, adulterated, or unwholesome milk or cream or any substance in the semblance or imitation of milk or cream, nor shall any such impure, colored, adulterated, or unwholesome milk or cream be used in the manufacture of any article of food for human beings.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-122. Filled dairy products unlawful—exceptions. Filled dairy products resemble genuine dairy products so closely that they lend themselves readily to substitution for and confusion with such dairy products and in many cases cannot be distinguished from genuine dairy products by the ordinary consumer or ordinary laboratory procedures. The manufacture, sale, exchange, purveying, transportation, possession, or offering for sale or exchange or purveyance of filled dairy products lends itself to substitution, confusion, deception, and fraud, and one which if permitted to exist tends to interfere with the orderly and fair marketing of foods essential to the well-being of the people of this state. It is hereby declared to be the purpose of this act to correct, prevent and eliminate the condition above referred to; to protect the public from confusion, fraud and deception; to prohibit practices inimical to the general welfare; and to promote the orderly and fair marketing of essential foods.

(1) Therefore, it shall be unlawful in intrastate commerce for any person to manufacture, sell, exchange, display, purvey, transport or possess any filled dairy product or to offer or expose for sale or exchange or to be purveyed any such product.

(2) It shall be unlawful for any person owning or operating a bakery, confectionery shop, factory or other place where food products are prepared or manufactured for sale, exchange or purveyance to the public in intrastate commerce to utilize any filled dairy product as an ingredient in any food product so manufactured or prepared.

(3) It shall be unlawful in intrastate commerce for any person knowingly to sell, exchange, purvey, transport or possess any food product in which any filled dairy product is an ingredient, provided, however, that the term "filled dairy product" shall not be construed to mean or include:

(a) Oleomargarine;

(b) Any distinctive proprietary food compound not readily mistaken for a dairy product where such compound is customarily used on the order of a physician and is prepared and designed for medicinal or special dietary use and prominently so labeled;

(c) Any frozen dessert containing animal fat (other than butterfat) or vegetable fat when the container is properly labeled;

(d) Any dairy product flavored with chocolate or cocoa where the fats or oils other than milk fat contained in such product do not exceed the amount of cacao fat naturally present in the chocolate or cocoa used; or

(e) Any dairy product in which the vitamin content has been increased and food oil utilized as a carrier of such vitamins provided the quantity of such food oil does not exceed one one-hundredths (1/100) of one per cent (1%) of the weight of the finished dairy product.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-123. Manufactured products to conform to standards of identity. It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, display, transport, sell or offer for sale in Montana as a manufactured dairy product any substance or product which does not conform to the standards of identity for such product as defined in the Code of Federal Regulations, or to the standard of identity established by the department.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-124. Adulterating milk or cream unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person to adulterate milk or cream produced or sold for manufacturing purposes, or for any manufactured dairy product to contain an adulterant. For purposes of this act, the presence of any antimicrobial substance, pesticide residuals, unapproved coloring, food additives, or foreign substances added directly to or assimilated into such products which are not explicitly allowed in the Code of Federal Regulations except for the addition of adulterants for rejection purposes, shall be deemed adulterated. Violations of this section shall be misdemeanors, and shall be punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, as provided in the act.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-125. Repealed.

3-24-126. Pasteurization required. All milk and cream used in the manufacture of any dairy product, or products made in semblance of imitations of dairy products, sold, offered for sale, purveyed, stored, displayed or transported in Montana, shall be pasteurized; provided, however, that cheese held, stored, or aged, for at least sixty (60) days at not less than 35 degrees F., shall not be required to be made from pasteurized milk or cream, but shall be required to be labeled "made from raw" or "unpasteurized milk" or "unpasteurized cream," as the case may be. Other cultured raw or unpasteurized dairy products which can be made safe by aging shall also be required to be similarly aged and labeled as required above.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-127. Pasteurization apparatus and records. The commissioner shall have the authority to prescribe or establish regulations which he deems necessary to assure proper control and use of all equipment or apparatus used in the process of pasteurization, and to require the operation of such devices and apparatus as are needed to accurately record, and indicate, temperatures to which and the length of time for which, the pasteurized product has been heated including those periods and temperatures when such equipment is cleaned and sanitized by C.I.P. method. Any person using pasteurizing equipment within the state of Montana shall properly record and have available to the commissioner for the preceding two months, all records pertaining to the pasteurization of any product, and said records shall, at all times, be open to the inspection of the department, the state department of health, and all other state, county, and municipal officers charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances respecting dairy products or the public health.

All pasteurizing equipment which records temperatures or controls the time of holding shall be timed, set and sealed by the commissioner. Such seals shall not be removed or broken without first notifying the dairy and egg division.

History: En. Sec. 40, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-128. Pasteurization labeling. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, offer for sale or exchange, or to have in possession for such purpose, any milk, cream, or manufactured dairy product, in any container or package, marked, labeled, or in any way designating the contents thereof as "pasteurized," unless the same has been treated by an approved process of pasteurization, as is required by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-129. Sanitary board license requirements applicable. The licenses required under this act apply only to those licenses issued by the Montana state department of agriculture. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to repeal or abrogate the authority of or the issuance of licenses by the state livestock sanitary board or the state department of health.

Provided, however, that requirements for a license from the state department of agriculture shall not apply where such license duplicates one issued by the state livestock sanitary board.

History: En. Sec. 42, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-130. Antimonopoly statutes applicable. The provisions of state statute sections 94-1107 to 94-1114 inclusive, relating to monopoly in the purchase or sale of products in general use, are hereby expressly made applicable to all persons engaged in the business of buying milk, cream, or butterfat for the purpose of manufacture, and those who shall violate any of the provisions of said sections. All milk, cream, butterfat, manufactured dairy products, or products made in the semblance or imitation of manufactured dairy products, are hereby declared to be commodities and products in general use within the meaning of the sections aforesaid.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-132. Posting prices of butterfat required. All persons who buy milk or cream for manufacturing purposes shall post the current prices for butterfat, or other component content, of milk or cream, in a conspicuous place in the factory or place of business. Such price schedule may be based upon butterfat, protein, solids, or other components of milk or cream and shall indicate upon which of such basis payment is made.

History: En. Sec. 45, Ch. 413, L. 1971.

3-24-133. License required for butter or cheese wholesaler. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, exchange, or offer for sale or exchange, at wholesale, or to have in possession with the intent to sell, exchange, or offer for sale at wholesale, any butter or cheese without first procuring a license from the department for that purpose. Where such person conducts such sale or exchange at more than one place of business, a separate license shall be required for each such place of business and a separate fee shall be paid for each license.

Provided, however, that any manufactured dairy products plant which is licensed by the department to manufacture butter or cheese shall not be required to obtain this license.

Such animal fat or vegetable fat products shall be manufactured from a pasteurized mix, which has been processed in a licensed manufacturing dairy product plant. All persons manufacturing, offering for sale or exchange, or selling such animal fat or vegetable fat frozen desserts shall be subject to the sanitary, reporting, and licensing regulations of this act and of the regulations promulgated under the authority of this act.

No representation shall be made by statement, word, grade designation, design, symbol, device, or in any other manner, on any container, package, or wrapper, or on any advertising media that such animal fat or vegetable fat product, or combination thereof, is ice cream, sherbet or any of their low-fat counterparts or derivatives, or any other products which are prohibited from containing animal or vegetable fats.

The container, package, or wrapper, containing such animal fat or vegetable fat frozen dessert, shall be clearly and plainly marked, labeled, or printed, on the outside, in boldfaced letters, with the words, "Animal Fat Product," "Vegetable Fat Product," "Animal-Vegetable Fat Products," or "Vegetable-Animal Fat Product" as the case may be, and shall bear thereon the common or usual name of each of the ingredients therein, including the fats or oils; except that spices, flavorings, or colorings may be designated as such without naming each.

(a) The number of retail liquor licenses that the board may issue for premises situated within incorporated cities and incorporated towns and within a distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits of such cities and towns shall be determined on the basis of population as shown by the most recent official United States census authorized by Congress, to wit: In incorporated towns of five hundred (500) inhabitants or less and within a distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits of such towns, not more than two (2) retail liquor licenses; in incorporated cities or incorporated towns of more than five hundred (500) inhabitants and not over three thousand (3000) inhabitants and within a distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits of such cities and towns, three (3) retail liquor licenses for the first one thousand (1000) inhabitants and one (1) retail liquor license for each additional one thousand (1000) inhabitants; in incorporated cities of over three thousand (3000) inhabitants and within a distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits thereof, five (5) retail liquor licenses for the first three thousand (3000) inhabitants and one (1) retail liquor license for each additional one thousand five hundred (1500) inhabitants. The number of the inhabitants in such cities and towns, exclusive of the number of inhabitants residing within a distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits thereof, shall govern the number of retail liquor licenses that may be issued for use within such cities and towns and within a distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits thereof; provided, however, that where two (2) or more incorporated municipalities are situated within a distance of five (5) miles from each other, the total number of retail liquor licenses that may be issued for

The said distance of five (5) miles from the corporate limits of any incorporated city or incorporated town shall be measured in a straight line from the nearest entrance of the premises proposed for licensing to the nearest corporate boundary of such city or town. Retail liquor licenses of issue on the date of the passage and approval of this act and which are in excess of the foregoing limitations shall be renewable, but no new licenses shall be issued in violation of such limitations; provided that such limitations shall not prevent the issuance of a nontransferable and nonassignable (as to ownership only) retail liquor license to any post of a nationally chartered veterans' organization or any lodge of a recognized national fraternal organization, if such veterans' or fraternal organization has been in existence for a period of five (5) years or more prior to January 1, 1949. No incorporated city or incorporated town may by ordinance restrict the number of licenses that the board may issue; provided that no retail license may be issued by the board for any premises situated within any zone of a city or town wherein the sale of liquor is prohibited by ordinance, a certified copy of which has been filed with the board. (3) Resort licenses. It is the intent and purpose of this act to encourage the growth of quality recreational resort facilities in undeveloped areas of the state and to provide for the orderly growth of existing recreational sites by the establishment of resort areas within which retail liquor licenses may be issued by the board under the terms and as more particularly prescribed below. In addition to the licenses as otherwise set forth in this act, the board may issue resort retail liquor licenses in a resort area.

For the purposes of this section, a resort area is defined as a recreational facility meeting the qualifications determined by the board as hereinafter provided.

The board shall determine that the area for which licenses are to be issued is a resort area, such determination to be made under and pursuant to rules and regulations to be promulgated within one hundred eighty (180) days after the passage and approval of this act. In addition to the other requirements of this act, a resort area for the purposes of qualification for the issuance of resort retail liquor license must have a current actual valuation of resort or recreational facilities, including land and improvements thereon, of not less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), at least half of which valuation must be for a structure or structures within the resort area, and must be under the sole ownership or control of one person or entity at the time of the filing of the resort area plat referred to in the next paragraph. The word control shall mean lands held under lease, option, or permit. Before first adopting such rules and regulations in regard to resort liquor licenses, the board shall publish a notice of the hearing to be held on said rules and regulations in a regularly published newspaper in the cities of Billings, Bozeman, Butte, Great Falls, Helena, Miles City, Kalispell and Missoula, Montana, said publication to be published in said newspapers at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, the last of said publications being at least ten (10) but not more than thirty (30) days prior to the date set for said hearing, which shall be held in Helena, Montana, at a time and place designated by the board.

The resort area must be determined by the resort developer or landowner by a plat setting forth the resort boundaries designating the ownership of the lands within the resort area which plat must be verified by the resort developer or landowner, and filed with the board prior to the filing of any applications by individuals for licenses within the resort area. Such plat must show the location and general design of the buildings, and other improvements to be built in said area in which resort retail liquor licenses are to, or may, be located. A master plan for the development of the said area may be filed by the resort developer in satisfaction of this section.

Upon such filing the board shall forthwith schedule a public hearing to be held in Helena, Montana, to determine whether the facility proposed by the resort developer or landowner is a resort area within the meaning of the rules and regulations of the board. At least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the hearing, the board shall publish notice thereof with a description of the location of the proposed resort area in a newspaper published in the county or counties in which the resort is located, once a week for four (4) consecutive weeks. Each resort developer or landowner shall, at the time of filing his application, pay to the board an amount sufficient to cover the costs of said publication. Persons may present statements to the board at the hearing in person or in writing in opposition or support of the plat. Within thirty (30) days of the hearing the board shall accept or reject the plat. If rejected the board must state its reasons and set forth the conditions, if any, under which the plat will be accepted and the decision of the board may be reviewed pursuant to the review procedure set forth in section 4-425 herein.

Once filed with the board, the boundaries of a resort may not be changed without full hearing as above provided and the prior approval of the board, which approval shall be according to public convenience and necessity.

When the board has accepted a plat and a given resort area has been determined, applications may then be filed with the board by persons for the issuance of resort retail liquor licenses within the said resort area. Each applicant must submit plans showing the location, appearance and floor plan of the premises for which application for a license is made.

If an applicant otherwise qualifies for a resort license but the premises to be licensed are still in construction, or are otherwise incomplete at the time of such application, the board shall issue a letter stating that the license will be issued at such time as the qualifications for a licensed premises have been met, setting forth such time limitations and requirements as the board may establish.

In addition to the restrictions on sale or transfer of a license as provided in section 4-410 herein, no resort retail liquor license may be sold or transferred for operation at a location outside of the boundaries of the resort area.

The annual fee for resort retail liquor licenses within a given resort area shall be two thousand dollars ($2,000) for each such license.

A resort retail liquor license shall not be subject to the quota limitations set forth in section 4-403 (1) (a) above and a resort retail liquor license shall be issued by the board on the basis that the board has determined that such license is justified by public convenience and necessity, following a hearing as provided in section 4-407.1.

If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section, or any part of this act shall be declared and adjudged to be invalid and/or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect, impair, invalidate or nullify the remainder of this act.

In adopting rules for hearings, the board shall provide for the issuance of subpoenas and for the administration of oaths to witnesses and parties or their representatives, to apply both to discovery procedures and to hearings, and the board shall have authority to provide for issuance of subpoenas and administration of oaths.

The secretary of every such association shall furnish to the department of revenue or its agent in the county in which the principal office of such association is located, within five (5) days after demand therefor, a condensed statement verified by his oath, of the resources and liabilities of such association as disclosed by its books, at twelve o'clock noon on the first Monday of March in each year; if such secretary shall fail to make the statement hereby required, the department or its agent shall forthwith obtain such information from any other available source, and for this purpose he shall have access to the books of such association. The amount standing to the credit of each member of any such association, upon its books, shall be considered and held as the individual credit of each member, and each member shall list the shares held by him for taxation, at their real value in money, in the county of his residence, the same as other credits are listed, except shares from which loans have been made, or money advanced, by the association, and as to such shares they shall be listed for taxation at the net cash value of the stock, to be ascertained by deducting the loan from the cash value of the shares. Associations organized under or controlled by this act shall be subject to taxation in no other way.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 168, and once by Ch. 174. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made in both amendments.

The 1969 amendment added "or the transportation of newspapers * * * or ambulances" at the end of subdivision (h).

The 1971 amendment deleted "ordinary livestock or" before "agricultural commodities" near the beginning of the proviso to subdivision (h); and made a minor change in style.

Chapter 168, Laws of 1973, substituted "pupils or other students enrolled in classes" for "school children" in the proviso to subdivision (h); and inserted "or in transportation movements related to school activities which are sponsored or supervised by school authorities" in the proviso to subdivision (h).

Chapter 174, Laws of 1973, substituted "machines, motor trucks, tractors or other self-propelled vehicles" in subdivision (f) for "machines propelled by any power other than muscular"; added "and any trailer, semitrailer, dollie or other vehicle drawn thereby" at the end of subdivision (f); and made minor changes in phraseology.

Effective Dates

Section 2 of Ch. 168, Laws 1973 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 6, 1973.

Section 2 of Ch. 174, Laws 1973 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 6, 1973.

Constitutionality

Trial court erred in granting defendant's motion to dismiss where complaint alleged that certain portions of this act violated constitutions of state and United States since summary procedure should not be used in cases involving important public issues where any fact is in dispute unless trial judge is satisfied that evidence is sufficient to give him the necessary background of knowledge. Garrett Freightlines, Inc. v. Montana Railroad & Public Service Commission, 153 M 380, 457 P 2d 469.

8-101.1. Transportation of livestock by farmers and ranchers exempt. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the transportation of livestock by motor carrier by a bona fide farmer, rancher, or raiser of livestock in his own vehicle or vehicles, or when such farmer, rancher, or raiser of livestock provides transportation for the livestock of another farmer, rancher, or raiser of livestock between farm and farm, ranch and ranch, pasture and pasture, or to a point.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 275, L. 1971.

8-101.2. Certificate required for commercial transportation of livestock —exemption. No person, firm, corporation, association or its or their officers, agents, employees, or servants, shall operate any motor vehicle or combination of vehicles in the commercial transportation of livestock for hire, without having first obtained a class B certificate of public convenience and necessity from the board. Provided, however, any commercial transportation movement of livestock in any motor vehicle having a cargo bed of twenty-two (22) feet in length or less, shall be deemed exempt from the provisions of this act. Provided, however, if any such person, firm, corporation, association or its or their officers, agents, employees, or servants, or its or their legal predecessor in interest, was in bona fide operation as a motor carrier, transporting livestock commercially, on July 1, 1970, over the territory for which application is made and has so operated since that time, or, if engaged in a seasonal service, was in bona fide operation during the season ordinarily covered during the year 1970, and has so operated since that time, upon such proof thereof as may be required by the board, the board shall issue a class B certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing commercial transportation of livestock throughout the state without a hearing therefor, if application for such certificate is made to the board as provided in section 8-109 of this code, within one hundred eighty (180) days after July 1, 1971. Duties of Board

Under this section and section 8-112 board of railroad commissioners is authorized, and has duty, to supervise every motor carrier in state and may, in its discretion, upon issuance of any certificate, attach such terms and conditions as in its judgment may be required. Walter v. Board of Railroad Commrs., 153 M 384, 457 P 2d 479.

8-103.1. Leasing of power equipment. All class A, B and C carriers subject to the jurisdiction of the board of railroad commissioners may lease power equipment for the purpose of performing transportation movements within the state of Montana. The leasing of such power units must be in writing and effective only upon specific approval of the board. Movement of such leased units without prior approval of the board is prohibited.

All leases must contain (1) the full names and addresses of negotiating parties, (2) a complete description of each vehicle involved, (3) provision that the sole possession, responsibility, control and direction of each vehicle and its driver resides with the lessee for the entire term of the lease, (4) provision that the lessee assumes full responsibility for all regulatory fees, (5) amount of compensation to be paid for use of the vehicle while under the lease and the method by which such compensation is determined, (6) the renewal conditions of the lease, if any, and (7) the term length of the lease.

A copy of the lease, certified by the board, must be maintained in each leased vehicle at all times.

Each power unit so leased must display in a conspicuous place on both sides of such vehicle the identity and address of the lessor, and lessee, and the certificate number under which the power unit is operating. The leasing of power units by an authorized carrier to a noncertificated carrier is prohibited.

History: En. 8-103.1 by Sec. 1, Ch. 105, L. 1969.

Title of Act

An act providing that all authorized carriers within the state may lease power equipment for the purpose of performing transportation movements, providing further that the leasing of such power units must be in writing and effective only upon specific approval of the board, setting forth the provisions required in the lease, providing that a copy of the lease, approved by the board, be maintained in each leased vehicle, providing for proper decals on each leased vehicle, leasing of power units by an authorized carrier to a noncertified carrier prohibited.

8-103.2. Interchange of equipment. Common carriers authorized by the board may enter into interchange agreements with other authorized common carriers providing for the interchange of equipment. Such agreements must be joint applications made to the board by the carriers affected. To be approved by the board the interchange must take place at a fixed terminal where the carriers' routes intersect. Manifests, waybills or agreements and all shipping data must be in the possession of the operator of the interchanged equipment. When an interchange has been authorized such equipment shall be operated only by the certificate holder over whose route such equipment is being operated. Interchange agreements between contract carriers, class C, is prohibited.

History: En. 8-103.2 by Sec. 1, Ch. 106, L. 1969.

An act providing for authorized common carriers to enter into interchange agreements with other authorized common carriers, providing for joint applications for such agreements, providing that the interchange must take place at a fixed terminal where the carriers' routes intersect, providing further for shipping data to be in the possession of the operator of the interchanged equipment, interchange agreements between contract carriers prohibited.

8-103.3. Lease of Montana railroad commission certificate. An authorized carrier operating within the state of Montana may lease its certificate, or any integral segment thereof, to another carrier only by approval of the board. The contract or lease, under which the certificate is leased, must be in writing and approved by the board prior to any operation under the certificate. The contract or lease must specify: (a) the period for which a certificate is to be leased, which shall not be less than (30) days; (b) the compensation to be paid; (c) the time or date upon which the lease will commence and terminate; (d) and the signatures of the parties thereto. Operation under the certificate is prohibited until approved by the board in writing. During the period of the contract or lease transportation movements under the contract or lease must be performed by the entity contracting for or leasing the certificate, or any integral segment thereof, while transportation movements by the owner, lessor, is prohibited.

History: En. 8-103.3 by Sec. 1, Ch. 107, L. 1969.

Title of Act

An act providing that authorized carriers within the state may lease operating certificates, or any integral segment thereof, upon board approval; providing that the contract or lease must be in writing and specifying the provisions contained therein; providing that transportation movements under the certificate be prohibited until approved by the board in writing. Transportation during the term of the contract or lease to be performed by the entity contracting for or leasing certificate; transportation during the term of the contract or lease by the owner, lessor, is prohibited.

8-104.4. Rate preference, discrimination forbidden. All rates, fares, charges, classifications, or rules of service for the transportation of property and/or persons upon the public highways of this state must be fair, just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory, and no motor carrier operating under established rates shall make, give, or permit any undue preference or advantage to any particular person, company, partnership, corporation or locality, or any particular description of traffic, nor shall such motor carrier subject any particular person, company, partnership, corporation, or locality, or any particular description of traffic, to any prejudice or disadvantage in any respect. Nothing herein provided shall prevent the board from authorizing different rates or schedules of rates for service between the same places, or between different points of origin and/or destination within the same places, when such different rates are justified by the differing character of service to be rendered by the carrier to a shipper or consignee.

The board may, upon its own initiative or upon the complaint of any interested party, investigate any rate, fare, charge, classification, or rule of service contained in the schedule of any motor carrier; if the board shall find, after such investigation, that any such rate, fare, charge, classification, or rule of service is unfair, unjust, unreasonable, or discriminatory, it shall disallow the same and fix a rate, fare, charge, classification, or rule of service which shall be fair, just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory, and it shall order the affected motor carrier or carriers to conform to such modified schedule; provided, however, that each motor carrier affected by any complaint or investigation shall first be given notice of the same and an opportunity to be heard before the board.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 201, L. 1961; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 182, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment added the second sentence to the first paragraph and made a minor change in punctuation.

8-104.5. Changes, revisions of rate schedules, how made. No motor carrier shall change or revise any rate, fare, charge, classification, or rule of service contained in its schedule without first obtaining approval therefor from the board. Such changes or revisions shall be made by filing with the board the tariff sheet or sheets containing such changes or revisions, plainly stating the change or changes, or revision or revisions, to be made; provided further, that the public shall be provided with such notice of the proposed changes or revisions as the board shall, by rule, require. The tariff sheet or sheets containing such changes or revisions shall be deemed approved and effective thirty (30) days after the same are filed unless the proposed revisions or changes are suspended or disallowed by the board prior to the expiration of the thirty (30) day period; provided however, that the board may, for good cause, allow any change or revision to become effective on less than thirty (30) days after the filing thereof. Upon filing such changes or revisions, all tariff sheet or sheets, when suspended by the board, must be supported by such prepared testimony and exhibits from the motor carrier as will support such changes or revisions. The prepared testimony and exhibits must be filed with the commission thirty (30) days after the effective date of such suspension. Such testimony and exhibits may be supplemented prior to, or at the time of hearing, and supplemental exhibits may be filed after the close of the hearing at the direction or with permission of the commission.

Upon its own initiative, or upon the complaint of any interested party filed with the board within twenty (20) days after the date upon which a change or revision of any rate, fare, charge or classification is filed with the board, the board may suspend the operation of such rate, fare, charge, or classification for a period not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) days, provided however that the order directing such suspension must be issued by the board not less than two (2) business days prior to the proposed effective date; and provided further, that the motor carrier or carriers filing such rate, fare, charge, or classification shall be given prompt notice by the complaining party mailing a copy of the complaint concerning such proposed change or revision to the carrier or publishing agent, and such carrier or carriers also shall be given an opportunity to reply to any such complaint. If the proposed change or revision is in a tariff issued by a tariff publishing bureau for a motor carrier or carriers, notice to such bureau of any complaint will constitute notice to the participating carriers in such tariff. When the suspension of any proposed change or revision in a tariff is ordered by the board, it shall also order a public hearing to consider the reasonableness of the proposed change or revision; due notice shall be given for such hearing to all known interested or affected persons and the same shall be allowed to appear and present evidence. After considering the evidence presented at such hearing, the board shall issue an order approving, denying, or modifying the proposed change or revision; provided however, that unless such hearing is held and such order is issued within one hundred eighty (180) days from the date upon which the suspension was ordered, the proposed change or revision shall be deemed approved and effective as filed.

The 1973 amendment added the last three sentences to the first paragraph; extended the filing time specified near the beginning of the second paragraph from fifteen to twenty days; extended the period for which the board may suspend the operation of a rate, fare, charge or classification from one hundred and twenty days to one hundred and eighty days; substituted "by the complaining party mailing a copy of the complaint concerning such proposed change or revision to the carrier or publishing agent," for "by the board of any complaint filed by any interested party to any proposed tariff change or revision" in the middle of the second paragraph; and extended the time for a hearing on the complaint from one hundred and twenty days to one hundred and eighty days from the date upon which the suspension was ordered.

Such suspension may be granted by the commission upon a showing of present absence of public convenience and necessity, or other showing of matters affecting motor carrier transportation.

(b) and (c) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(2) The transportation for hire of any persons or commodities between any two (2) points within the state of Montana by any motor carrier pursuant to the terms of a written contract between said carrier and the United States government, agency or department thereof, shall be deemed a transportation movement subject to the provisions of the Montana Motor Carrier Act, R. C. M., 1947, 8-101 et seq., provided, however, that the presentation of the written contract to the board shall be deemed sufficient proof of public convenience and necessity in accordance with the terms and conditions contained within the United States government contract.

The class C certificate of public convenience and necessity issued pursuant to the terms and conditions of the United States government contract may be issued by the board upon receipt of an executed copy of the United States government contract. The certificate of public convenience and necessity may be issued thereafter without requiring the board to fix a time and place for public hearing.

The certificate of public convenience and necessity, issued pursuant to the terms of the United States government contract, is authorized only for the duration of the United States government contract concerned, provided, however, the certificate may be renewed for another definite term if the same motor carrier is the motor carrier authorized to operate under the United States government contract.

The board shall cause a copy of such petition and notice of hearing thereon to be served upon an officer or owner of any motor carrier that in the opinion of the board might be affected by the granting of any such certificate and upon any railroad company operating into or through any town or city located on the proposed route of the applicant, and upon the state highway commission, at least ten (10) days before the date of hearing, and any such motor carrier or railroad company, and the state highway commission, and the governing board or boards of any such county, town or city into or through which such route or service as proposed may extend, and any person or corporation concerned are hereby declared to be interested parties to such proceedings, and may offer testimony for or against the granting of such certificate. In determining whether or not a certificate should be issued, the board shall give reasonable consideration to the transportation service being furnished or that will be furnished by any railroad, or other existing transportation agency, and shall give due consideration to the likelihood of the proposed service being permanent and continuous throughout twelve (12) months of the year and the effect which such proposed transportation service may have upon other forms of transportation service which are essential and indispensable to the communities to be affected by such proposed transportation service or that might be affected thereby. Provided, however, that an application by a class A or a class B or a class C motor carrier for a certificate may be disallowed without a public hearing thereon when it appears from the records of the board that the route or territory sought to be served by the applicant has previously been made the basis of a public investigation and finding by the board that public convenience and necessity do not require such proposed motor carrier service unless it is made to affirmatively appear in the application by a recital of the facts that conditions obtaining over said route or in said territory and affecting transportation facilities therein have materially changed since said public investigation and finding and that public convenience and necessity do now require such motor carrier operation.

Provided further that any investigation, inquiry or hearing which the board has power to undertake or to hold, under the provisions of this act, may be undertaken or held by or before any member of the board, or by and before any agent or examiner of the board designated for the purpose by the board, and every finding, order, or decision made by a member of the board, or agent or examiner of the board so designated, together with a statement in writing of the reasons therefor which statement must be included in such finding, or order or decision, pursuant to such investigation, inquiry or hearing, when approved and confirmed by the board and ordered filed in its office, shall be, and be deemed to be the finding, order or decision of the board; provided also, that any agent or examiner of the board designated as aforesaid, shall have power to administer oaths, examine witnesses and receive evidence.

Involuntary Manslaughter

Conviction of involuntary manslaughter, arising from driving of automobile on public highway while intoxicated, was proper notwithstanding defendant's contention that since he was a juvenile and "delinquent child" within meaning of Juvenile Code, he could be punished only civilly for his acts and not criminally. State v. Medicine Bull, 152 M 34, 445 P 2d 916.

10-603. Jurisdiction. The district courts of the several counties of this state shall have jurisdiction in all cases coming within the terms and provisions of this act. It is provided that the district court shall be called the juvenile court when acting under the juvenile court laws.

The juvenile court shall have exclusive original jurisdiction in proceedings:

(a) concerning any child who is delinquent;

(b) concerning any person under twenty-one (21) years of age charged with having violated any law of the state or ordinance of any city or town prior to having become eighteen (18) years of age.

In traffic matters involving persons under twenty-one (21) years of age justice of the peace and police courts or such other courts as are designated by the legislature shall have concurrent jurisdiction as provided in section 32-21-163, R. C. M. 1947:

(c) when the juvenile court has jurisdiction of any child sixteen (16) years of age, or over, who is accused of committing or the attempt to commit murder, manslaughter, arson in the first or second degree, assault in the first or second degree, robbery, burglary, and carrying a deadly weapon with intent to assault, or who commits rape under the circumstances specified in subdivisions 3 and 4 of section 94-4101, R. C. M. 1947, then the county attorney may request the juvenile court to be permitted to file an information against the juvenile in district court, or, when the facts warrant, the juvenile judge may order the county attorney to proceed against the juvenile in district court on an information.

Before making such order the juvenile judge must hear the matter by an informal preliminary hearing to determine first, if there is probable cause to believe the juvenile has committed the felony, and, second, to determine whether under the circumstances it appears necessary for the best interest of the state that the juvenile be held to answer the information in district court.

After the information is filed in district court that court shall have full jurisdiction to proceed against the juvenile and shall proceed against him in the same manner as if he were an adult.

If the juvenile is found guilty in district court and is sentenced to the state prison, his commitment shall be to the department of institutions to be by them confined in whatever institution to them seems most proper;

(d) when jurisdiction shall have been obtained by the juvenile court in the case of any child, such jurisdiction shall continue until the child becomes twenty-one (21) years of age unless the child is ordered committed to a state custodial or correctional institution or to the state department of institutions;

(e) the county where a child is a resident shall have primary jurisdiction over any child charged with being a juvenile delinquent and the juvenile court of that county shall assume the handling of the cause. In the case of a juvenile sixteen (16) years of age or over who is accused of one of the serious offenses listed in subsection (c) of this section, the juvenile courts in the county where the offense occurred shall serve as the preliminary hearing court and if the juvenile is to be tried in district court the charge shall be filed and the trial held in the district court of the county where the offense occurred, otherwise the matter shall be transferred to the county where the child is a resident.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment deleted "other than those laws relating to the commission of or attempt to commit the criminal offenses mentioned in subdivision (2) (b) of section 10-602" after "state" and made other minor changes in phraseology in subdivision (b); deleted provisions of subdivision (c) as follows: "concerning parents who willfully and knowingly fail to provide their children with proper food, clothing, medical attention, and opportunity to attend school; deleted a provision relating to right to trial by jury, and added the provisions of subdivisions (c) to (e), inclusive.

10-604.1. Right to jury trial—drawing the jury. The juvenile in any case to be heard on a written petition charging delinquency shall have the right to demand a jury trial and shall have the right to be represented by counsel. The rights are deemed waived if not exercised. When a jury trial is required in a juvenile case, it may be held before the regular trial panel. However, if the regular panel is not in attendance, the court may draw a jury from jury box No. 3. Jury trials demanded in juvenile courts shall be granted as soon as possible.

10-605.1. Preliminary inquiry—disposition—petition. (1) Whenever any person informs the court that a child is a delinquent as defined in this act the court shall cause, by citation or otherwise, the child to be brought before the court or the juvenile probation officer for the purpose of making a preliminary inquiry to determine whether the interests of the child or the public require that further action be taken. The matter may be handled by an informal adjustment including the placing of the child on probation, or the court may order the county attorney to file a petition charging the child with being a juvenile delinquent.

(2) If a petition is filed the proceeding shall be entitled, "In the matter of ....., a child under eighteen (18) years of age." Any record made on any juvenile matter shall not be open to public examination without order of the court.

10-607. Service of citation. (1) Written petition. Service of citation shall be made personally by the delivery of copies thereof to the person cited; provided that if the judge is satisfied that it is impracticable to serve personally such citation or the notice provided in the preceding section, he may order service by registered mail to their last known address, or by the publication thereof, or both, as he may direct. It shall be sufficient to confer jurisdiction if service is effected at least twenty-four hours before the time fixed in the citation for the return thereof.

Service of citation, process or notice required by this act may be made by any suitable person under the direction of the court.

(2) Citation for an informal hearing may order the child brought before the court immediately or at any time set by the court. The citation may command the child be brought before the court immediately in which case it must be directed to a peace officer and must be handled like a warrant of arrest.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 227, L. 1943; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 262, L. 1969.

10-608.1. Taking child into custody—release—holding child until hearing—notification of apprehension. (1) Whenever any peace officer believes, on reasonable grounds, that any child is violating any law or ordinance or engaging in other conduct that would be grounds for finding the child a delinquent, or when the surroundings are such as to endanger his health, morals, or welfare unless immediate action is taken, then the peace officer shall take the child into custody in the same manner as for the arrest of an adult.

(2) Whenever the peace officer believes, on reasonable grounds, that the child can be released to a parent, guardian or other person who has had custody of the child, then the peace officer may release the child to that person or persons upon receiving a written promise from him or them to bring the child before the juvenile court or the juvenile probation officer at a time and place specified in the written promise.

(3) Whenever the peace officer believes, on reasonable grounds, that the child must be held in custody until his appearance in juvenile court, then the peace officer must deliver the child to the juvenile court or probation officer without undue delay. If it is necessary to hold the child pending appearance before the juvenile court then the child must be held in some place that has been approved by the juvenile court and completely separated from adult offenders.

(4) Whenever any peace officer has apprehended a child as hereinabove provided, he shall, as soon as practicable, notify the juvenile court or probation officer of such fact with a report of his reasons for the apprehension.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 262, L. 1969.

10-609. Repealed.

Repeal

Section 10-609 (Sec. 8, Ch. 227, L. 1943; Sec. 3, Ch. 276, L. 1947), relating to the release of children taken into custody, was repealed by Sec. 16, Ch. 262, Laws 1969.

10-610. Transfer from other courts. If, during the pendency of a criminal or quasi-criminal proceeding against any person in any other court, it shall be ascertained that said person was at the time of committing the alleged offense within the definition of "delinquent child" as set out in section 10-602, R. C. M. 1947, it shall be the duty of such court to transfer such case immediately, together with all papers, documents, and testimony connected therewith, to the juvenile court. The court making the transfer shall order the child to be taken forthwith to the place of detention designated by the juvenile court or to that court itself, or release such child in the custody of some suitable person, to appear before the juvenile court at a time designated. The juvenile court shall thereupon proceed to hear and dispose of such case in the same manner as if it had been instituted in that court in the first instance.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment, in the first sentence, substituted "proceeding" for "charge"; and substituted reference to section 10-602 generally for reference to subdivision (2) (b) of that section.

10-611. Hearing—judgment. The court may conduct the hearing in an informal manner and may adjourn the hearing from time to time. In the hearing of any juvenile case, as distinguished from a case involving a child charged with the commission of or attempt to commit any of the criminal offenses set out in subdivision (2) (b) of section 10-602, the general public shall be excluded and only such persons admitted as have a direct interest in the case; provided, however, that whenever the hearing in the juvenile court is had on a written petition charging the commission of any felony, persons having a legitimate interest in the proceeding, including responsible representatives of public information media, shall not be excluded from such hearing. All cases involving children shall be heard separately and apart from the trial of cases against adults.

If the court shall find that the child is delinquent within the provisions of this act, it may by order duly entered proceed as follows:

(1) and (2). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(3) In the case of such child of the age of sixteen (16) years or older who the court feels would be a suitable person for placement at a youth forest camp, the court should notify the director of the department of institutions of such finding and the director of the department of institutions should designate to the court the juvenile facility to which the child should be delivered for evaluation. The court may then commit such child to the department of institutions for not to exceed thirty (30) days for the purpose of evaluation as to such child's suitability for such placement, and order the child delivered for evaluation to the juvenile facility designated by the director. If after such evaluation the department of institutions reports to the court that such child is suitable for placement in a youth forest camp and if there is space available at such camp, the court may then commit such child directly to the youth forest camp under the terms and conditions of the commitment provided for in this act. If, however, the department of institutions reports to the court that such child is not suitable for placement in such camp, stating the reasons therefor, he shall be returned to the court for such further disposition as the court may deem advisable under the provisions of this act. The costs of transporting such child to the designated juvenile facility for evaluation and the cost of returning such child to the court, should that become necessary, shall be borne by the county of such child's residence.

CHAPTER 2—CLASSIFICATION AND ORGANIZATION OF CITIES AND TOWNS

Section
11-201. Cities and towns classified.
11-203. Organization of cities and towns—petition and census.

11-201. (4959) Cities and towns classified. Every city having a population of ten thousand or more is a city of the first class; every city having a population of less than ten thousand and more than five thousand is a city of the second class; every city having a population of less than five thousand and more than one thousand is a city of the third class; and every municipal corporation having a population of three hundred and less than one thousand is a town; provided, that every municipal corporation having a population of more than five thousand and less than seven thousand five hundred may by resolution adopted by the city council pursuant to sections 11-301 to 11-305 be either a second class city or a third class city; and provided, that every municipal corporation having a population of more than one thousand and less than twenty-five hundred, may by resolution adopted by the city or town council, as the case may be, pursuant to sections 11-301 to 11-305, be either a city or town. Nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting the status or classification of any existing city or town.

History: En. Sec. 4710, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3206, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4959, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 202, L. 1947; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 126, L. 1969.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment inserted the proviso permitting municipal corporations of more than 5,000 and less than 7,500 population to be either a second or third class city.

11-203. (4961) Organization of cities and towns—petition and census. Whenever the inhabitants of any part of a county desire to be organized into a city or town, they may apply by petition in writing, signed by not less than two thirds (2/3) of the qualified electors, but not more than three hundred (300) such electors who are residents of the state, and residing within the limits of the proposed incorporation, to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the territory is situated, which petition must describe the limits of the proposed city or town, and of the several wards thereof each of which shall contain one hundred fifty (150) qualified electors or more and, which must not exceed one square mile for each five hundred inhabitants resident therein. The petitioners must annex to the petition a map of the proposed territory to be incorporated, and state the name of the city or town. The petition and map must be filed in the office of the county clerk. Upon filing the petition, the board of county commissioners, at its next regular or special meeting, must appoint some suitable person to take a house-to-house census of the residents of the territory to be incorporated. After taking the census, the person appointed to take the same must return the list to the board of county commissioners, and the same must be filed by it in the county clerk's office. No municipal corporation may be formed unless the number of inhabitants is three hundred or upwards; and unless the boundary of the proposed territory to be incorporated is more than three (3) miles from the boundary, measured from the nearest point between the two (2), of any presently incorporated city or town or there is presented to the board, appropriate evidence that any presently incorporated city or town within three (3) miles which legally could annex, but has refused to annex the proposed territory.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 86 and once by Ch. 515. Neither amendatory enactment mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 86, Laws of 1973, added the clause following the semicolon in the last sentence of this section.

Chapter 515, Laws of 1973, substituted "two-thirds (⅔) of the qualified electors, but not more than three hundred (300) such electors who are" for "fifty qualified electors" in the first sentence; inserted "each of which shall contain one hundred fifty (150) qualified electors or more and"

near the end of the first sentence; inserted "house-to-house" in the fourth sentence; and made a minor change in phraseology.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 515, Laws 1973 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved April 4, 1973.

(2) If the qualified electors of a city or town equal in number to twenty per cent (20%) of the number of voters voting at the last regular municipal election petition the board of county commissioners of the county where the city or town is situated to disincorporate the city or town, the board of county commissioners shall order within sixty (60) days that a special election be held within the city or town on the question of disincorporating the city or town. 11-311. Conduct of election. The election is conducted in the same manner as a regular city or town election except that the election officials are appointed by the board of county commissioners. The election returns are made to the board of county commissioners and canvassed in the same manner as are general election returns.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-312. Insufficient vote to disincorporate—waiting period for new election. If it is found by the canvass of the votes that less than sixty per cent (60%) of the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, the county commissioners shall declare the petition for disincorporation denied, in which case no other election may be held on the question of disincorporating said city or town until after the expiration of two (2) years from the date of the election.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-313. Order of disincorporation on vote by electors. In case the canvass reveals that sixty per cent (60%) or more of all the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, the county commissioners shall, under their hands make and file in their office, and cause to be entered upon their proceedings, an order that the petition for disincorporation be granted, and declaring that the city or town is disincorporated. The order takes effect within sixty (60) days following the date of the order. A certified copy of the order shall be sent to the Montana secretary of state and the head of the state department of intergovernmental relations.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-314. Order for automatic disincorporation. In cases where a city or town has been disincorporated by virtue of the provisions of section 1 [11-308] of this act, the county commissioners shall file in their office an order that the disincorporation be granted. This order takes effect within sixty (60) days following the date of the order. A certified copy of the order shall be sent to the state officials named in section 6 [11-313] above.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

or town indebtedness, including any revenue or general obligation bonds, special improvement district obligations outstanding, contracts payable, all other obligations of the city, and a schedule for the repayment of indebtedness. Under the supervision of the director of the department of intergovernmental relations or his agent, the city or town treasurer shall draw a treasurer's check for the amount of unencumbered cash in the city or town treasury, the check shall be made payable to and delivered to the county treasurer of the county in which the disincorporating city or town is situated. 11-316. Release of public property to county commissioners—police court records. Provided, however, that all court records of the police court, if any, shall be transferred to the nearest justice of the peace. The justice of the peace has the authority to execute and complete all unfinished business. All reports and remittances of fines and forfeitures are made in the same manner as that prescribed for justices of the peace.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-317. Payment of debts and collection of receivables of city or town. The disincorporation of a city or town does not invalidate or affect any right, penalty or forfeiture accruing to the city or town, nor invalidate or affect any contract entered into or imposed upon the corporation, but all the contracted indebtedness and obligations remain unimpaired by reason of the disincorporation of the city or town. The board of county commissioners of the county succeeding the disincorporated city or town shall provide for the payment and discharge in good faith of all the indebtedness and obligations according to the tenor of the contract or indenture agreement by which they were contracted or the indebtedness incurred, and for the collection of any indebtedness due the city or town. All instruments for the repayment of indebtedness are drawn, by order of the board of county commissioners, on the fund provided in section 8 [11-315] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-318. Tax levy in the event of insolvency. If, at any time after the disincorporation of a city or town, it is found that there is not sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the special fund of section 8 [11-315] with which to pay any indebtedness of the corporation, the board of county commissioners has the power, and it is its duty to levy and collect from the territory formerly included within the city or town, a tax or taxes sufficient in amount to pay the indebtedness of the corporation as the same shall become due. The tax or taxes, assessments and collections shall be made in the same manner and at the same time that other taxes of the county are levied and collected and are an additional tax upon the property included within said territory, or portions thereof, for the payment of said debts. All moneys paid into the county treasury under the provisions of this act shall be placed to the credit of the special fund.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-319. Surplus assets deposited to special fund. If, after payment of the debts of the corporation, and the liquidation, where possible, of tangible assets, any surplus shall remain in the hands of the county treasurer to the credit of the special fund. Money remaining shall be transferred to the county general fund. Nothing in this section is intended to conflict with the provisions of section 10 [11-317].

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-320. Collection of amounts due to corporation. The board of county commissioners shall make provisions for the collection of the amounts due to a corporation and for the closing up of its affairs, and any act or acts, necessary for that purpose and not otherwise provided shall, upon order of the board of county commissioners, be performed by the officer or officers performing similar duties for the county, as if it had been performed by the proper officer of the city or town, before disincorporation. The county shall succeed to and possess all rights of the corporation to indebtedness and has power to sue for or otherwise collect any debts in the name of the county.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

11-321. Payment of costs and expenses from special county fund. All costs and expenses of ascertaining information and all other costs and expenses incurred by the board of county commissioners in the execution of the powers and duties of managing the affairs of the disincorporated city or town, provided for in sections 1 through 13 [11-308 through 11-320], shall be paid out of the special fund in the county treasury.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 99, L. 1973.

Separability Clause

Section 15 of Ch. 99, Laws 1973 read "It is the intent of the legislative assembly that if a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications."

Repealing Clause

Section 16 of Ch. 99, Laws 1973 read "Sections 11-306 and 11-307, R. C. M. 1947, are repealed."

CHAPTER 4—ADDITIONS OF PLATTED TRACTS TO CITIES AND TOWNS

Constitutionality

This section does not violate article III, section 14 of state constitution nor Amendment 5 of United States constitution which provides that private property may not be taken for public use without payment of just compensation, and does not violate article III, section 27 of state constitution or Amendments 5 and 14 of United States constitution which provide that private property cannot be taken without due process of law. Brodie v. City of Missoula, 155 M 185, 468 P 2d 778.

Certificate of Survey

Contention that 30-acre tract was improperly annexed to city due to failure of city council to survey unplatted land and file certificate of survey prior to annexation was without merit since entire tract was surrounded by city and therefore, under this section, no certificate of survey was necessary. Brodie v. City of Missoula, 155 M 185, 468 P 2d 778.

Discretion of City Council

Determination of question of whether annexation of tract of realty into city is in best interest of city and inhabitants of such area to be annexed is expressly granted to city council by this section, and exercise of such discretion is subject to judicial review only where council has proceeded contrary to statute or where they have acted so arbitrarily or capriciously that it may be said they exercised no discretion at all. Brodie v. City of Missoula, 155 M 185, 468 P 2d 778.

"Freeholder" Defined

The term "freeholder" as used in subsection (2) means the purchaser and not the seller under a contract for deed. State ex rel. Stephens v. City of Hamilton, — M —, 504 P 2d 283.

Incidental Agricultural Use of Land Annexed

Contention that 30-acre tract of land was improperly annexed to city since such land was being used for agricultural purposes and therefore exempt from annexation under this section was without merit since evidence indicated that land was primarily held as developmental parcel for housing development and agricultural use was only incidental thereto. Brodie v. City of Missoula, 155 M 185, 468 P 2d 778.

Wholly Surrounded Property

Contention on appeal that city had improperly annexed certain platted lots due to fact that one side of lots was contiguous with outdoor theater and thus such lots were not "wholly surrounded" by city, as required by this section, was without merit since "wholly surrounded," as used in this section, does not mean city property must also be wholly contiguous to such property, rather it means that tract is so located that it is impossible to reach it without crossing city property. Calvert v. City of Great Falls, 154 M 213, 462 P 2d 182.

CHAPTER 7—OFFICERS AND ELECTIONS

Section
11-709. Biennial elections in cities and towns—terms of office.
11-719. Oath and bonds—vacancy.
11-721.1. Recall of elective officers.
11-725. Salaries and qualifications of mayor and alderman.

11-709. (5003) Biennial elections in cities and towns—terms of office. On the first Tuesday of April of every second year a municipal election must be held, at which the qualified electors of each town or city must elect the officers of the city as defined in section 11-701 whose terms of office will expire, with aldermen to be voted for by the wards they respectively represent; the mayor to hold office for a term of four (4) years, and until the qualification of his successor; and each alderman so elected to hold office for a term of four (4) years, and until the qualification of his successor; and also in cities of the first, second and third class, a police judge and a city treasurer, who shall hold office for a term of four

(4) years, and until the qualification of their successors; provided, however, that in the election to be held the first Tuesday of April, 1973, one alderman from each ward will be elected for a term of two (2) years and one alderman from each ward will be elected for a term of four (4) years, and in the next succeeding election and thereafter, one alderman from each ward will be elected for a four (4) year term. The city council shall by resolution determine which office of alderman in each ward shall be for a term of two (2) years and which for four (4) years at the election to be held on the first Tuesday of April, 1973.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1971, once by Ch. 193 and once by Ch. 343. Neither amendatory act referred to or incorporated the changes made by the other. Chapter 193 was approved on March 3, 1971, and Ch. 343 on March 15, 1971, so that Ch. 343 governs to the extent that they conflict. The only conflict appears to be in the language added by Ch. 193, which referred in two places to the election "to be held on the first Monday of April, 1973." The compiler has therefore made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendatory acts but substituting "Tuesday" for "Monday" in the language added by Ch. 193.

Amendments

Chapter 193, Laws of 1971, substituted "the officers of the city as defined in section 11-701 whose terms of office will expire, with aldermen" after "must elect" for "a mayor and two aldermen from each ward"; increased all terms of office from two years to four years; substituted the proviso at the end of the first sentence for a proviso relating to 1936 elections; and added the second sentence.

Chapter 343, Laws of 1971, substituted "Tuesday" for "Monday" in the beginning of the first sentence; deleted the proviso relating to 1936 elections at the end of the first sentence; and made a minor change in style.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 193, Laws 1971 read "This act is effective on December 31, 1972."

11-716. (5010) Repealed.

Repeal

Section 11-716 (Sec. 4755, Pol. C. 1895; Sec. 5, Ch. 76, L. 1961), relating to residency requirements for electors, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 40, Laws 1973.

11-717. (5011) Election judges and clerks—voting places.

Compiler's Notes

Section 23-601, referred to in this section, was repealed by Sec. 248, Ch. 368, Laws 1969.

11-719. (5013) Oath and bonds—vacancy. Each officer of a city or town must take the constitutional oath of office, and such as may be required to give bonds, file the same, duly approved, within ten days after receiving notice of his election or appointment; or, if no notice be received, then on or before the date fixed for the assumption by him of the duties of the office to which he may have been elected or appointed, but if anyone, either elected or appointed to office, fails for ten days to qualify as required by law, or enter upon his duties at the time fixed by law, then such office becomes vacant; or if any officer absents himself from the city or town continuously for ten days without the consent of the council, or openly neglects or refuses to discharge his duties, such office may be by the council declared vacant; or if any officer removes from the city or town, or any alderman from his ward, such office must be by the council declared vacant.

History: En. Sec. 4758, Pol. C. 1895; re-en Sec. 3234, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5013, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 7, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment inserted "constitutional" before "oath of office" near the beginning of the section.

Cross-References

11-721.1. Recall of elective officers. (1) The holder of any elective office under a mayor-council form of municipal government may be removed at any time by the electors qualified to vote. The procedure to effect the removal of an incumbent of an elective office shall be as follows: A petition signed by twenty-five per cent (25%) of all qualified electors registered for the last preceding general municipal election, demanding an election for recall of the person sought to be recalled, shall be filed with the city clerk, which petition shall contain a general statement of the grounds for which the removal is sought. The signatures to the petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving the street and number. One of the signers of such paper shall make oath before an officer competent to administer oaths that the statements therein are true as he believes, and that each signature to the paper appended is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

(2) Within ten (10) days from the date of filing such petition the city clerk shall examine, and from the voters' register ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and, if necessary, the council shall allow him extra help for that purpose; and he shall attach to said petition his certificate, showing the result of said examination. If, by the clerk's certificate, the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be amended within ten (10) days from the date of said certificate. The clerk shall, within ten (10) days after such amendment, make like examination of the amended petition, and if his certificate shall show the same to be insufficient, it shall be returned to the person filing the same; without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. If the petition shall be deemed to be sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the council without delay. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the council shall order and fix a date for holding said election, not less than seventy (70) days nor more than eighty (80) days from the date of the clerk's certificate to the council that a sufficient petition is filed.

(3) The council shall make, or cause to be made, publication of notice and all arrangements for holding such election, and the same shall be conducted, returned, and the result thereof declared, in all respects as are other elections.

(4) Any vacancy created as a result of such recall election shall be filled as prescribed in section 11-721, R.C.M. 1947.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 329, L. 1971.

Title of Act

Section
11-1202. Awarding contracts—advertisements—limitations—installments—sales of supplies—construction of buildings—purchases from government agencies—exemptions.
11-1202.1. Division of contracts to circumvent bidding procedures prohibited.

11-1202. (5070) Awarding contracts—advertisements—limitations—installments—sales of supplies—construction of buildings—purchases from government agencies—exemptions. All contracts for the purchase of any automobile, truck, or other vehicle or road machinery, or for any other machinery, apparatus, appliances, or equipment, or for any materials or supplies of any kind, or for construction for which must be paid a sum exceeding four thousand dollars ($4,000), must be let to the lowest responsible bidder after advertisement for bids; provided that no contract shall be let extending over a period of five (5) years or more without first submitting the question to a vote of the taxpaying electors of said city or town. Such advertisement shall be made in the official newspaper of the city or town, if there be such official newspaper, and if not it shall be made in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city or town, if there be such, otherwise by posting in three (3) of the most public places in the city or town. Such advertisement if by publication in a newspaper shall be made once each week for two consecutive weeks and the second publication shall be made not less than five (5) days nor more than twelve (12) days before the consideration of bids. If such advertisement is made by posting, fifteen (15) days must elapse, including the day of posting, between the time of the posting of such advertisement and the day set for considering bids. The council may postpone action as to any such contract until the next regular meeting after bids are received in response to such advertisement, may reject any and all bids and readvertise as herein provided. The provisions of this section as to advertisement for bids shall not apply upon the happening of any emergency caused by fire, flood, explosion, storm, earthquake, riot or insurrection, or any other similar emergency, but in such case the council may proceed in any manner which, in the judgment of three-fourths (¾) of the members of the council present at the meeting, duly recorded in the minutes of the proceedings of the council by aye and nay vote, will best meet the emergency and serve the public interest. Such emergency shall be declared and recorded at length in the minutes of the proceedings of the council at the time the vote thereon is taken and recorded.

When the amount to be paid under any such contract shall exceed four thousand dollars ($4,000) the council may provide for the payment of such an amount in installments extending over a period of not more than five (5) years; provided that when such amount is extended over a term of two (2) years at least forty per centum (40%) thereof shall be paid the first year and the remainder the second year, and when such amount is extended over a term of three (3) years, at least one-third (⅓) thereof shall be paid each year, and if such amount is extended over a term of four (4) years, at least one-fourth (¼) is to be paid each year, and if such amount is extended over a term of five (5) years, at least one-fifth (1/5) is to be paid each year; provided that at the time of entering into such contract, there shall be an unexpended balance of appropriation in the budget for the then current fiscal year available and sufficient to meet and take care of such portion of the contract price as is payable during the then current fiscal year, and the budget for each following year, in which any portion of such purchase price is to be paid, shall contain an appropriation for the purpose of paying the same.

Old supplies or equipment may be sold by the city or town to the highest responsible bidder, after calling for bid purchasers as herein set forth for bid sellers, and such city or town may trade in supplies or old equipment on new supplies or equipment at such bid price as will result in the lowest net price.

Also a city or town may, without bid, when there are sufficient funds in the budget for supplies or equipment, purchase such supplies or equipment from government agencies available to cities or towns when the same can be purchased by such city or town at a substantial saving to such city or town.

All necessary contracts for professional, technical, engineering and legal services are excluded from the provisions of this act.

Sec. 1, Ch. 59, L. 1941; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 153, L. 1947; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 139, L. 1949; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 220, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 26, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 121, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 371, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment, in the first paragraph, substituted "for the purchase of any automobile * * * a sum exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500)" for "for work, or for supplies, or for material, or for the construction of any building, for which must be paid a sum exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000.00)" and raised the maximum duration of a contract to be let without a vote from three to five years; in the second paragraph, substituted "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00)" for "one thousand dollars ($1,000.00)," inserted "an" before "amount," raised the maximum term of installments from three to five years, and inserted "and if such amount is extended * * * term of five (5) years * * * paid each year;".

The 1971 amendment deleted "of any building" after "construction" in the first sentence of the first paragraph; increased the minimum contract amounts specified in the first and second paragraphs from $2,500 to $4,000; and made a minor change in phraseology. The final paragraph of the section was omitted from the 1971 act; however, the Montana supreme court held in Morrison-Maierle, Inc. v. City of Forsyth, — M —, 500 P 2d 395, that deletion of that paragraph was not within the title of the 1971 act and that omission thereof was unconstitutional.

Installment Contracts

This section expressly authorizes an alternate method of financing construction of municipal buildings to that of borrowing or a bond issue, namely by installment contract. Greener v. City of Great Falls, 157 M 376, 485 P 2d 932.

Professional Services

Senate Bill 288, Chapter 371, Laws of 1971, which amended this section, title of which was "An act amending section 11-1202, RCM 1947, to increase the monetary limitation on purchases," and eliminated last paragraph of this section excepting from bid requirements contracts for professional, technical, engineering and legal services, without reference thereto in title of bill, was in violation of article IV, section 23, Montana constitution. Morrison-Maierle, Inc. v. City of Forsyth, — M —, 500 P 2d 395.

11-1202.1. Division of contracts to circumvent bidding procedures prohibited. Whenever any law of this state provides a limitation upon the amount of money that a city or town can expend upon any public work or construction project without letting such public work or construction project to contract under competitive bidding procedures, a city or town shall not circumvent such provision by dividing a public work or construction project or quantum of work to be performed thereunder which by its nature or character is integral to such public work or construction project, or serves to accomplish one of the basic purposes or functions thereof, into several contracts, separate work orders or by any similar device.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 183, L. 1971.

2. Whenever the total amount of the fire department relief association's fund is less than two per centum (2%) of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within said city, town or municipality, but more than one per centum (1%) of said taxable valuation, and when the special tax levy of one (1) mill on each dollar of taxable valuation within said city, town or municipality will cause such fund, considering all sources of income, and all payments to be made out of such fund, to exceed two per centum (2%) of the taxable valuation of all taxable property within said city, town or municipality, the tax levy shall be such fractional part of fire districts in any unincorporated territory, town or village upon presentation of a petition in writing signed by the owners of fifty per cent (50%) or more of the area of the privately owned lands included within the proposed district who constitute a majority of the taxpayers who are freeholders of such area, and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll; the board shall within ten (10) days after the receipt of such petition; give notice of the hearing thereof at least ten (10) days prior thereto by mailing a copy of the notice by first class mail to each freeholder in the district at the address above shown in the assessment roll, by causing notices of the time and place of such hearing to be posted in at least three (3) of the most public places within the area proposed to be established as a fire district, and published at least once not less than ten (10) or more than twenty(20) days prior to the time of said hearing in a newspaper regularly published in the county in which such proposed district is situated. The board shall proceed to hear the said petition at the time set therefor, or at any time within five (5) days thereafter to which the same shall have been postponed or continued with due notice, and may grant the same unless it shall be established thereat that the petition bears insufficient signatures as above required, or, if originally sufficient, that by reason of written withdrawals thereof it has become insufficient. (c) Change of boundaries—division. Fire districts may be divided in the following manner: Whenever a petition in writing shall be made to the county commissioners, signed by the owners of twenty per cent (20%), or more, of the privately owned lands of an area proposed to be detracted from the original district, and who constitute twenty per cent (20%), or more, of the taxpayers who are freeholders within such proposed detracted area, whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll, the county commissioners shall, within ten (10) days from the receipt of such petition give notice of the hearing of said petition by mailing a copy of the notice by first class mail to each freeholder in the district at the address shown in the assessment roll, by causing to be posted, a notice thereof at least ten (10) days prior to the time appointed by them for the consideration of said petition, in at least three (3) of the most public places within the proposed detracted area, and also in at least three (3) of the most public places within the remaining area. The petition for detraction shall describe the boundaries of the proposed detracted area, and also the boundaries of the remaining area. The county commissioners shall, on the day fixed for hearing such petition (or on any legally postponed day), proceed to hear said petition; and said petition shall be granted, and the original districts shall thereupon be divided into separate districts, unless at the time of the hearing on such petition protests shall be presented by the owners of fifty per cent (50%), or more, of the area of the privately owned lands included within the entire original district, and who constitute a majority of the taxpayers who are freeholders of the entire original district, and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll. If such required amount of protests are presented, the petition for division shall be disallowed. Upon the division of districts, moneys on hand shall be apportioned between the divided areas according to their respective taxable valuations; all other assets of the original district shall become the property of the remaining area, but a reasonable value shall be placed upon such "other assets" and the remaining area shall become indebted to the detracted area for its proportionate share thereof, based upon taxable valuations. Provided, however, that any detracted area shall remain liable for any existing warrant and bonded indebtedness of the original district.

(d). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

Said petition must set forth the change of boundaries to be affected by such proposed transfer of area. The commissioners shall hold a hearing on the petition in accordance with the procedure outlined in subsection (c), above; and the withdrawal and annexation shall be allowed unless protests are presented at the hearing by the owners of fifty per cent (50%), or more, of the area of the privately owned lands included within either district affected, and who constitute a majority of the taxpaying freeholders of either district, according to the last completed assessment roll, and provided, that such withdrawals and annexation shall be allowed only upon a showing of more advantageous proximity and communications with the fire-fighting facilities of the other district.

The fiscal year for the purpose of this act shall begin on the first day of July of each year and end on the last day of June of each year.

(I) To qualify for full participation he must have completed a total of at least twenty (20) years' service as an active volunteer fireman and as an active member of a qualified volunteer fire company organized under the laws of the state of Montana in an unincorporated area, town or village. (II) If prevented from completing at least twenty (20) years' service by dissolution or discontinuance of his volunteer fire company, or by personal relocation due to transfer or loss of employment, or by personal disability, or by other factor beyond his reasonable control, then he may qualify for partial participation if he has completed at least ten (10) years' service; in that event, he shall be eligible for only a proportion of the benefits specified in subparagraph five (5) of section 11-2022, determined by multiplying such specified benefits by a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the number of years active service completed, and the denominator of which shall be twenty (20). (III) Provided, that from and after July 1, 1965, no volunteer fireman shall receive credit for any year of membership in any such volunteer fire company unless throughout such year such volunteer fire company shall have maintained fire-fighting equipment in serviceable condition of a value of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or more, and unless throughout such year such volunteer fire company, or the fire district served thereby, shall have been rated in class five (5), six (6), seven (7), eight (8), nine (9) or ten (10) by the board of fire underwriters for the purpose of fire insurance premium rates; provided, further, that such years of active service shall be cumulative and need not be continuous, and that such service need not be acquired with one (1) single fire company, but may be a total of separate periods of active service with different fire companies organized under the laws of the state of Montana in different fire districts in unincorporated areas, towns or villages. From and after passage of this act, the annual period of service for the purpose of this act shall be the fiscal year; no fractional part of any year shall count toward the service requirement, and to receive credit for any particular year a volunteer fireman must serve with one (1) particular volunteer fire company throughout that entire fiscal year;

(B) He must have attained the age of fifty-five (55) years (but he need not be an active volunteer fireman or an active member of any volunteer fire company at the time of reaching such age);

(C) During each of the years for which he claims credit under subparagraph (A) above, he must have completed a minimum of thirty (30) hours of instruction in matters pertaining to fire fighting, under a program formulated and supervised by the chief of his volunteer fire company;

(D) He must have ceased to be an active member of any volunteer fire company organized under the laws of the state of Montana in an unincorporated area, town or village, and if he applies for and receives pension benefits hereunder, he shall not thereafter be eligible to become an active member of any such volunteer fire company;

(E) He must not be eligible for benefits under any fire department relief association organized in any incorporated area.

(F) Provided, however, that any volunteer fireman who is an active member of a volunteer fire company organized under the laws of the state of Montana in an unincorporated area, town or village at the time of passage of this act shall receive credit against the said service requirement to the extent of one (1) year's credit for each two (2) years' service completed or to be completed by him prior to July 1, 1965, as such active member of any such volunteer fire company or companies; for the purpose of this credit for prior service it shall not be necessary either that the volunteer fire company or companies with which such service has been rendered shall satisfy the requirements of subparagraph (A) above, or that the individual volunteer fireman shall during such prior service have satisfied the requirements of subparagraph (C) above; but in any event no more than ten (10) years' credit shall be allowed any such volunteer fireman by reason of such service prior to July 1, 1965. For the purpose of establishing such prior service credit, the chief of each volunteer fire company shall on or before September 1, 1968, prepare and file with the public employees' retirement system of the state of Montana a certificate, subscribed and verified under oath, setting forth the names and residence addresses of each of the members of his volunteer fire company who shall have qualified for one (1) or more years' credit for prior service, and setting forth the number of years of credit to which each thereof shall be entitled.

11-2214. (5238) Methods of payments of improvements. (1) To defray the cost of the making of any of the improvements provided for in this act, the city council or commission shall adopt one of the following methods of assessment; unless otherwise provided in subsection 1 (c):

(a) The city council or commission shall assess the entire cost of such improvements against the entire district, each lot or parcel of land within such district to be assessed for that part of the whole cost which its area bears to the area of the entire district, exclusive of streets, avenues, alleys and public places; provided, however, that the city council or commission, in its discretion, shall have the power to pay the whole or any part of the cost of any street, avenue or alley intersections, out of any funds in its hands, available for that purpose, or to include the whole or any part of such costs within the amount of the assessment to be paid by the property in the district. In order to equitably apportion the cost of any of the improvements herein provided for between that land within the district which lies within twenty-five (25) feet of the line of the street on which the improvement is to be made and all other land within the district, the council or commission may, in the resolution creating any improvement district, provide that the amount of the assessment against the property in such district, to defray the cost of such improvements, shall be so assessed that each square foot of land within the district lying within twenty-five (25) feet of the line of the street on which the improvements therein provided for are made shall bear double the amount of cost of such improvements per square foot of such land that each square foot of any other land within the district shall bear.

(b) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(c) Where curbs, gutters, alley approaches, streets, crossings and utility service connections are an integral part of the creation of storm sewer districts, sanitary sewer districts or street pavement districts, the city council or commission may assess a portion of the improvements upon the area basis, as set forth under subsection 1 (a); other portions of the improvements upon a lineal feet basis, as set forth under subsection 1 (b); and utility service connections upon a lump sum based on the bid price in the improvement district contract and assessed only against the lots, tracts or parcel of land served by the utility connection or connections; all within the same special improvement district, so long as such assessment is equitable.

(d) When the purpose of the assessment is for the establishment and/or improvement of offstreet parking as provided in this act, the city council or commission shall assess against the real property specifically benefited by the offstreet parking facilities, the cost of the developments involved, in proportion to the benefits received by each tract of land within said district. In determining the benefit to be received by each parcel of land, the city council or commission shall consider:

(i) the relative distance of the parking facility from each parcel of land within the area of the special improvement district;

(ii) the relative needs of parking spaces for each parcel of land located within the boundaries of said district, either as established by the city zoning ordinance, if any, or otherwise, with relation to the use of said parcel;

(iii) the assessed value of each parcel within said district;

(iv) the square footage of each parcel within said district as it relates to the whole;

(v) the square footage of floor space in any improvements on the parcel and the various uses of such floor space;

(vi) the availability of existing on-site parking space on any parcel of land within the district. Provided, however, that before any improvement district can be created or financed under the provisions of this section, the city council or commission must, prior to the creation of said district, pass a city ordinance setting forth therein the formula to be used in determining the assessment of each lot or parcel within said district, which said formula must include but shall not be limited to the items to be considered as set forth hereinabove. And provided further than prior to the adoption of any such ordinance by the city council or commission, the city council or commission shall make a determination of the formula for the method of assessment as set forth above, considering all of the factors above set forth, and shall hold a public hearing after due notice and at such hearing all persons concerned may present their objections to the formula or any part of it and point out errors and inequities and submit reasons for amendments and corrections. The council may continue the hearing from time to time. After the council has heard all objections and suggestions, it shall correct any errors which it finds in the formula for assessment as originally made and shall finally establish and settle the formula for assessment in the same manner as any other city ordinance.

(3) And/or to provide such sewer fund, and/or to provide for the retirement of such bonds, and/or the payment of the interest on such bonds, and/or for any purpose herein mentioned, the city council shall, upon being petitioned by five (5) per cent of the qualified electors, at the annual municipal election or at any special election called for that purpose, submit to a vote to the qualified electors, the question whether or not the city council may establish and collect rentals for the use of such sewer system and may fix scale of such rentals and prescribe the manner and time at which such rentals shall be paid, and if a majority of votes is cast in favor of such proposition then the city or town council may establish and collect rentals for the use of any such sewer system and may fix the scale of such rentals and prescribe the manner and time at which such rentals should be paid and to change such scale of rentals from time to time as may be deemed advisable; providing, that the total revenue to be collected from all of the above sources in a given year shall be provided for by the council in such a manner as to provide funds for the payment of all bond issues and interest thereon, as well as for all necessary expenses of the operation, maintenance and repair of any such sewer system. For the purpose of making such rental charges equitable, property benefited thereby may be classified, taking into consideration the volume and character of sewage or waste and the nature of the use made of such sewage facilities. Said rentals shall be collected or taxed against the property in like manner as water rentals are collected and taxed, or by such procedure as may be prescribed by the city or town council, the revenues in this paragraph provided shall be in addition to and not exclusive of other revenues which may be now legally collected for sewer payment.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "who must be taxpaying freeholders, as shown by the last assessment for taxable purposes" following "five (5) per cent of the qualified electors" in the first part of subsection (3); deleted "who must be taxpaying freeholders" following "qualified electors" later in subsection (3); and substituted "electors" for "freeholders" near the beginning of subsection (5).

11-2217. Cities and towns may establish sewage treatment and disposal plant systems and water supply and distribution systems. Any city or town may when authorized so to do by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting on the question establish, build, construct, reconstruct and/or extend a storm and/or sanitary sewerage system and/or a plant or plants for treatment or disposal of sewage therefrom, or a water supply and/or distribution system, or any combinations of such systems, and may operate and maintain such facilities for public use, and in addition to all other powers granted to it, such municipality shall have authority, by ordinance duly adopted by the governing body to charge just and equitable rates, charges or rentals for the services and benefits directly or indirectly furnished thereby. Such rates, charges or rentals shall be as nearly as possible equitable in proportion to the services and benefits rendered, and sewer charges may take into consideration the quantity of sewage produced and its concentration and water pollution qualities in general and the cost of disposal of sewage and storm waters. The sewer charges may be fixed on the basis of water consumption or any other equitable basis the governing body may deem appropriate and, if the governing body determines that the sewage treatment and/or storm water disposal prevents pollution of sources of water supply, may be established as a surcharge on the water bills of water consumers or on any other equitable basis of measuring the use and benefits of such facilities and services. In the event of nonpayment of charges for either water or sewer service and benefits to any premises, the governing body may direct the supply of water to such premises to be discontinued until such charges are paid.

In this act "qualified electors" shall mean registered electors of the municipality. The question of building, constructing, reconstructing or extending the system, plant or plants and the question of issuing and selling revenue bonds for such purpose may be submitted as a single proposition or as separate propositions. Any election under this act may be called by a resolution of the governing body which it may adopt without being previously petitioned to do so.

11-2218. May issue revenue bonds—sinking fund—refunding revenue bonds. (1) Any such municipality may issue and sell negotiable revenue bonds for the construction of any such water or sewer system or combined water and sewer system when authorized so to do by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting on the question at an election called by the city council or other governing body of the municipality for that purpose, and noticed and conducted in accordance with the provisions of sections 11-2308 to 11-2310, inclusive; and all bonds shall mature within forty (40) years from date of bonds, and may be registered as to ownership of principal only with the treasurer of said municipality, if so directed by the governing body. No bonds shall be sold for less than par, and each of said bonds shall state plainly on its face that it is payable only from a sinking fund, naming said fund and the ordinance and resolution creating it, and that it does not create an indebtedness within the meaning of any charter, statutory or constitutional limitation upon the incurring of indebtedness.

Installment Contracts

Installment payment of construction costs of both separate and joint use facilities of city shop complex to be used in part by water and sewer department could be considered "normal, reasonable and current expenses of operation and maintenance" of the water and sewer systems and thus department funds could be used to pay proportionate share of construction costs although they were derived from water and sewer charges which otherwise would be applied toward retirement of outstanding bonds. Greener v. City of Great Falls, 157 M 376, 485 P 2d 932.

11-2220. Income to be kept separately.

Power to Allocate Costs

City has general budgetary authority in financing construction of city shop complex and has implied power to allocate proportionate share of costs among various city departments using the facility. Greener v. City of Great Falls, 157 M 376, 485 P 2d 932.

When any such sidewalk, curb and gutter, or any combination thereof, is constructed by or under direction of the city council, payment for the construction thereof shall be made by special warrants in such form as may be prescribed by ordinance drawn against a fund to be known as special sidewalk, curb and gutter fund, and the council may provide for the payment of said interest annually.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1971, once by Ch. 158 and once by Ch. 255. Neither amendatory act referred to or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the two amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the amendments made by both 1971 acts.

Amendments

Chapter 158, Laws of 1971, deleted from the end of subsection (1) a proviso and a sentence requiring that the revolving fund be approved by the taxpayers. For prior text, see parent volume.

Chapter 255, Laws of 1971, inserted "sidewalk, curb and alley approach" before "warrants" near the beginning of subsection (1) and near the beginning and near the end of subsection (2); and made a minor change in phraseology.

11-2272. (5277.4) Lien for loans from revolving fund—surplus district funds transferred to revolving fund, investment of funds. Whenever any loan is made to any special improvement district fund or sidewalk, curb and alley approach warrants from the revolving fund, the revolving fund shall have a lien therefor on all unpaid assessments and installments of assessments on such district, whether delinquent or not, and on all moneys thereafter coming into such district fund, to the amount of such loan, together with interest thereon from the time it was made at the rate, or percentage, borne by the bond or warrant for payment of which, or, of interest thereon, such loan was made; and whenever there shall be moneys in such district fund which are not required for payment of any bond or warrant of such district, or of interest thereon, so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay such loan shall, by order of the council, be transferred to the revolving fund; and after all the bonds and warrants issued on any special improvement district or sidewalk, curb and alley approach warrants have been fully paid, all moneys remaining in such district fund shall by order of the council be transferred to and become part of the revolving fund.

Surplus reserves not needed for immediate use, may from time to time be invested in securities of the United States or certificates of deposit, approved by the city council. The interest earned from such investments shall be placed to the credit of the revolving fund.

11-2275. Creation and maintenance of fund. A supplemental revolving fund may be created by ordinance subject to the approval of a majority of the qualified electors voting upon the question at a general or special election. As used in this act "qualified electors" shall mean registered electors of the municipality. The supplemental revolving fund shall be created and maintained solely from the net revenues of parking meters and the ordinance may pledge to said fund all or any part of the said net revenues of parking meters which may be then owned or leased or rented or thereafter acquired by the city or town. Said ordinance shall contain such provisions in respect to the purchase, control, operation, repair and maintenance of parking meters, including rates to be charged, and the application of the net revenues therefrom and the management and use of the supplemental revolving fund as the council shall deem necessary.

11-2277. Determination of provisions of bonds—maturity—interest—form. Whenever the council has been authorized to issue bonds hereunder, the council may by resolution determine to issue such bonds and provide for the guaranty thereof by the supplemental revolving fund. Such resolution shall fix the amount, maturity, and interest rate and provide for the sale of bonds in such manner as the council shall determine. The governing body of the municipality in determining the cost of said improvement may include estimated costs of the issuance of said bonds, all engineering, inspection, fiscal and legal expenses, cost of the parking meters, and interest which it is estimated will accrue during the construction period and for six (6) months thereafter on money borrowed or which it is estimated will be borrowed for the special improvements for which bonds are issued. The bonds may mature at one time, not exceeding the maximum maturity of the assessments to be levied for said improvement or may mature in installments at various times during the term of said assessments, but in no event shall such bonds mature beyond ten (10) years from date thereof. Said bonds, as the council shall determine, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity if so determined by the council, and may be payable at any suitable bank or trust company either within or without the state of Montana. The resolution providing for the issuance of bonds may also contain such reasonable covenants for the protection of the holders thereof as the council may determine. The bonds issued hereunder shall be in substantially the form provided in section 11-2231 as modified by the provisions hereof.

The 1971 amendment deleted "shall bear interest payable annually or semi-annually, not exceeding four and one-half (4½%) per cent per annum" after "Said bonds" at the beginning of the fifth sentence.

11-2702. All such regulations shall be uniform for each class or kind of buildings throughout each district, but the regulations in one district may differ from those in other districts.

(2) The local city or town council, or other legislative body which has adopted a master plan pursuant to Title 11, chapter 38 may extend the application of its zoning or subdivision regulations or both beyond its limits in any direction, but not in a county which has adopted such regulations within the contemplated area; provided that a city of the first class as defined in section 11-201 of this code may not extend the application of its zoning or subdivision regulations or both more than three (3) miles beyond its limits, a city of the second class may not so extend more than two (2) miles beyond its limits, and a city or town of the third class may not so extend more than one (1) mile beyond its

Any city or town council or other legislative body, may thereafter enforce such regulations in the area to the same extent as if such property were situated within its corporate limits, until the county board adopts a master plan pursuant to Title 11, chapter 38 and accompanying zoning or subdivision resolutions or both which include the area. As a prerequisite to the exercise of this power, a city-county planning board whose jurisdictional area includes the area to be regulated must be formed or an existing city planning board must be increased to include two (2) representatives from the unincorporated area which is to be affected. These representatives shall be appointed by the board of county commissioners. Such representation, however, shall cease when the county board adopts a master plan pursuant to Title 11, chapter 38 and accompanying zoning or subdivision resolutions or both which include the area.

A city or town, which has as its plan of government the commission-manager plan, shall be excluded from the provision of section 11-2702 (2) which defines extraterritorial authority to review proposed subdivisions.

A foster or boarding home operated under the provision of sections 10-520 through 10-523, or community residential facility and serving eight (8) or fewer developmentally disabled or otherwise handicapped persons, is considered a residential use of property for purposes of zoning if the home provides care on a twenty-four (24) hour a day basis.

The homes are a permitted use in all residential zones, including, but not limited to, residential zones for single-family dwellings. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to prohibit a city or county from requiring a conditional use permit in order to maintain a home pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph; provided such home is licensed by the department of health and environmental sciences.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 350, L. 1973.

existing in the reserve, but such tax as may be needed, with other funds determined by the legislative body to be available to meet the deficiency, may and shall be levied and shall not be subject to any limitation of rate or amount provided in any other law;

(h) from the proceeds of sale upon foreclosure of any mortgage of an off-street parking facility, made by or under authority of the legislative body to secure the payment of any revenue bonds issued under this section 11-3712, provided that no such mortgage shall be placed upon any property of the city or commission unless the cost of such property to the city has been paid from the proceeds of such bonds; or

Prior to the issuance of bonds the commission may fix limitations or restrictions on the payment of interest. Bonds may be callable upon such terms, conditions, and upon such notice as the commission may determine, and upon the payment of the premium fixed by the commission in the proceedings for the issuance of the bonds. No bond is subject to call or redemption prior to its fixed maturity date unless the right to exercise such call is expressly stated on the face of the bond. The commission may provide for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds at any place within or without the state of Montana in specified coin or currency of the United States.

The commission may fix terms and conditions for the public or private sale or other disposition of any authorized issue of bonds. The commission may sell bonds at not less than ninety-five per cent (95%) of their par or face value. Interest on bonds may be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds during the actual construction of any project for the acquisition, construction or completion of which the bonds have been issued, and for a period of not to exceed two (2) years thereafter as provided for in the indenture. Pending the actual issuance or delivery of revenue bonds, the commission may issue temporary or interim bonds, certificates or receipts of any denomination whatsoever, and with or without coupons, to be exchanged for definitive bonds when ready for delivery, or to be paid at or before maturity, with accrued interest, from the proceeds of the definitive bonds. Thereafter, the said boundaries of said area can only be set upon good cause being shown for the establishment of said extended jurisdictional area and the boundaries thereof, provided that such resolution shall

The jurisdictional area shall include the area which is both outside the incorporated limits of any city in the county as well as outside the jurisdictional area of an existing city-county planning board established pursuant to section 11-3830. Should any city or town become represented on the county planning board pursuant to section 11-3815, the jurisdictional area of the county planning board shall be extended to include those cities or towns.

(2) The planning board, after the approval of the jurisdictional area by the board of county commissioners, shall file in the office of the clerk and recorder a map showing the boundaries of the jurisdictional area. The boundaries may be revised from time to time by resolution of the board of county commissioners. Such revised boundaries shall be shown upon a map which shall be filed as provided in this section. The area included in such map shall constitute the area over which the planning board shall have advisory jurisdiction.

(3) In case an unincorporated area is within the potential jurisdiction of more than one planning board, then the boundary between the conflicting areas shall be determined by agreement between the planning boards involved, with the approval of their respective governing bodies. Any map showing the boundary line so agreed upon and approved shall be filed as provided in this section and thereafter shall fix the limit of territorial jurisdiction with respect to planning boards.

(4) In case the jurisdictional area of a city-county planning board, which is established subsequent to the establishment of a county planning board, is potentially within the jurisdiction of the county planning board, then the property outside any incorporated city between the conflicting areas shall be determined by agreement between the planning boards involved with the approval of the respective governing bodies and a map showing the boundary lines so agreed upon shall be filed as provided in this section and thereafter shall fix the limits of the territorial jurisdiction of the respective planning boards.

11-3862. Surveys required—exceptions—standards for monumentation. (1) Except as provided herein, all division of real property made after June 30, 1973, into lots, tracts, or parcels any of which is ten (10) acres or less in size or the boundaries or area of which cannot be determined without a survey or trigonometric calculation, must be surveyed by or under the supervision of a registered surveyor; and a certificate of survey thereof must be completed by the surveyor and filed by him in the office of the county clerk and recorder of the county in which the real property lies.

(2) Every subdivision of land after June 30, 1973, shall be surveyed and platted in conformance with this act by or under the supervision of a registered land surveyor. Subdivision plats shall be prepared and filed in accordance with this act and regulations adopted pursuant thereto. Each subdivision plat must be accompanied by as complete a survey of the section or sections in which the subdivision is located as may be necessary to properly orient the subdivision within such section or sections. All division of sections into aliquot parts and retracement of lines must conform to United States bureau of land management instructions, and all public land survey corners shall be filed in accordance with the Corner Recordation Act of Montana (sections 67-2001 through 67-2019). (3) Instruments of transfer of land which is acquired for state highways may refer by parcel and project number to state highway plans which have been recorded in compliance with section 32-2413, and are exempted from the surveying and platting requirements of this act; provided, however, that if such parcels are not shown on highway plans of record, instruments of transfer of such parcels shall be accompanied by and refer to appropriate certificates of survey and plats when presented for recording.

(4) Unless the method of disposition is adopted for the purpose of evading this act, the requirements of this act shall not apply to any division of land:

(a) which is created by order of any court of record in this state or by operation of law, or which, in the absence of agreement between the parties to the sale, could be created by an order of any court in this state pursuant to the law of eminent domain (sections 93-9901 through 93-9926);

(b) which is created by a lien, mortgage, or trust indenture;

(c) which creates an interest in oil, gas, minerals, or water which is now or hereafter severed from the surface ownership of real property;

(d) which creates cemetery lots;

(e) which is made for the purpose of a gift or sale to any member of the landowner's immediate family;

(f) which is leased or rented for farming and agricultural purposes.

(5) The department of intergovernmental relations shall, in conformance with the Montana Administrative Procedure Act (sections 82-4201 through 82-4225), prescribe uniform standards for monumentation and for the form, accuracy, and descriptive content of records of survey.

(6) It shall be the responsibility of the governing body to require the replacement of all monuments removed in the course of construction.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 500 L. 1973.

11-3863. Enforcement by governmental subdivisions—adoption of regulations—public hearing. (1) The governing body of every county, city, and town shall, before July 1, 1974, adopt and provide for the enforcement and administration of subdivision regulations reasonably providing for the orderly development of their jurisdictional areas; for the co-ordination of roads within subdivided land with other roads, both existing and planned; for the dedication of land for roadways and for public utility easements; for the improvement of roads; for the provision of adequate open spaces for travel, light, air and recreation; for the provision of adequate transportation, water, drainage, and sanitary facilities; for the avoidance or minimization of congestion; and for the avoidance of subdivision which would involve unnecessary environmental degradation; and the avoidance of danger or injury to health, safety, or welfare by reason of natural hazard or the lack of water, drainage, access, transportation or other public services or would necessitate an excessive expenditure of public funds for the supply of such services.

Prior to adopting or amending subdivision regulations pursuant to this act, the governing body shall submit the proposed regulations or amendments to the division of planning and economic development of the department of intergovernmental relations for review.

Before the governing body adopts subdivision regulations pursuant to this section it shall hold a public hearing thereon and shall give public notice of its intent to adopt such regulations and of the public hearing by publication of notice of the time and place of the hearing in each newspaper published in the county not less than fifteen (15) nor more than thirty (30) days prior to the date of the hearing.

(2) Not later than December 31, 1973, the department of intergovernmental relations, through its division of planning and economic development, shall, in conformance with the Montana Administrative Procedure Act (sections 82-4201 through 82-4225), prescribe model subdivision rules and reasonable minimum requirements designed to promote the public health, safety and general welfare to be contained in, and those subject areas which must be addressed by, subdivision regulations adopted pursuant to this act. The subdivision rules and minimum requirements shall include detailed criteria for the content of the environmental assessment required by this act. The governing body shall provide for the review of preliminary plats by those agencies of state and local government and affected public utilities having a substantial interest in proposed subdivision; provided, however, that such agency or utility review shall not delay the governing body's action on the plat beyond the time limit specified herein, and the failure of any agency to complete a review of a plat shall not be a basis for rejection of the plat by the governing body.

(3) In prescribing the minimum contents of the subdivision regulations, the department of intergovernmental relations, through its division of planning and economic development, shall require the submission by the subdivider to the governing body of an environmental assessment.

(4) The environmental assessment shall accompany the preliminary plat and shall include:

(a) a description of every body or stream of surface water as may be affected by the proposed subdivision, together with available ground water information, and a description of the topography, vegetation and wildlife use within the area of the proposed subdivision;

(b) maps and tables showing soil types in the several parts of the proposed subdivision, and their suitability for any proposed developments in those several parts;

(c) a community impact report containing a statement of anticipated needs of the proposed subdivision for local services, including education and busing, roads and maintenance, water, sewage, and solid waste facilities, and fire and police protection;

(d) such additional relevant and reasonable information as may be required by the department through its division of planning and economic development.

(5) Local subdivision regulations shall include procedures for the summary review and approval of subdivision plats containing five (5) or fewer parcels all of which front on an existing public road where no land in the subdivision will be dedicated to public use and which have been approved by the department of health and environmental sciences where such approval is required by sections 69-5001 through 69-5005; provided that reasonable local regulations may contain additional requirements for summary approval.

(6) Subdivision regulations may authorize the governing body to grant variances from the regulations when strict compliance will result in undue hardship and when it is not essential to the public welfare. Any variance granted pursuant to this subsection must be based on specific variance criteria contained in the subdivision regulations.

(7) Local regulations may provide that in lieu of the completion of the construction of any public improvements prior to the approval of a final plat, the governing body shall require a bond or other reasonable security, in an amount and with surety and conditions satisfactory to it, providing for and securing the construction and installation of such improvements within a period specified by the governing body and expressed in the bonds or other security.

(8) In the event that any governing body has not adopted subdivision regulations by July 1, 1974, which meet or exceed the prescribed minimum requirements, the department shall, through its division of planning and economic development, no later than January 1, 1975, promulgate reasonable regulations to be enforced by the governing body. If at any time thereafter the governing body adopts its own subdivision regulations, these shall supersede those promulgated by the department but shall be no less stringent.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 500, L. 1973.

11-3864. Dedication of portions of subdivisions to the public—cash donations in lieu of dedication—waivers. (1) A subdivision plat in which any lot is five (5) acres or less in size shall show that one-ninth (1/9) of the platted area, exclusive of all other dedications, is forever dedicated to the public for parks and playgrounds.

A subdivision plat in which all lots shown are greater than five (5) acres in size shall show that one-twelfth (1/12) of the platted area, exclusive of all other dedications, is forever dedicated to the public for parks and playgrounds. There shall be no requirement for dedication of parks and playgrounds when the subdivision plat shows that all lots or parcels are greater than ten (10) acres in size. The governing body, in consultation with the planning board having jurisdiction, may determine suitable locations for such parks and playgrounds.

(2) Where, because of size, topography, shape, location, or other circumstances, the dedication of land for parks and playgrounds is undesirable, the governing body may, for good cause shown, make an order to be endorsed and certified on the plat accepting a cash donation in lieu of the dedication of land and equal to the fair market value of the amount of land that would have been dedicated. For the purpose of this section, the fair market value is the value of the unsubdivided, unimproved land. Such cash donation shall be paid into the park fund to be used for the purchase of additional lands or for the initial development of parks and playgrounds.

(3) If the proposed plat provides for a planned unit development with land permanently set aside for park and recreational uses sufficient to meet the needs of the persons who will ultimately reside therein, the governing body may issue an order waiving land dedication and cash donation requirements.

(4) If a tract of land is being developed under single ownership as a part of an overall plan, and part of the tract has been subdivided and sufficient park lands have been dedicated to the public from the area that has been subdivided to meet the requirements of this section for the entire tract being developed, the governing body shall issue an order waiving the land dedication and cash donation requirements for the subsequently platted area.

(5) The local governing body may waive dedication and cash donation requirements where all of the parcels in a subdivision are five (5) acres or more in size and where the subdivider enters a covenant to run with the land and revocable only by consent of the governing body that the parcels in the subdivision will never be subdivided into parcels of less than five (5) acres and that all parcels in the subdivision will be used for single family dwellings.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 500, L. 1973.

11-3865. Required abstract or title insurance for dedicated lands. Where a subdivision platted under this act contains land to be dedicated to public use, the subdivider shall submit with the preliminary plat either:

(1) a certificate of a licensed title abstracter showing the names of the owners of record of the land to be dedicated and the names of lien holders or claimants of record against the land and the written consent to the dedication by the owners of the land, if other than the subdivider, and any lien holders or claimants of record against the land; or

(2) title insurance guaranteeing the public's interest in the dedicated land in a reasonable amount to be determined by the governing body.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 500, L. 1973.

11-3866. Submission of subdivision plat to governing body—notice—hearing—approval—disapproval. (1) Except where a plat is eligible for summary approval the subdivider shall present to the governing body, or the agent or agency designated thereby, the preliminary plat of the proposed subdivision for local review. When the proposed subdivision lies within the boundaries of an incorporated city or town, the preliminary plat shall be submitted to and approved by the city or town governing body. When the proposed subdivision is situated entirely in an unincorporated area the preliminary plat shall be submitted to and approved by the governing body of the county; however, if the proposed subdivision lies within one (1) mile of a third class city or town or within two (2) miles of a second class city or within three (3) miles of a first class city the county governing body shall submit the preliminary plat to the city or town governing body for review and comment. If the proposed subdivision lies partly within an incorporated city or town, the proposed plat thereof must be submitted to and approved by both the city or town and the county governing bodies. This section does not limit the authority of certain municipalities to regulate subdivisions beyond their corporate limits pursuant to section 11-3305.

(2) The governing body shall approve, conditionally approve, or reject the preliminary plat within sixty (60) days of its presentation. The preliminary plat shall show all pertinent features of the proposed subdivision and all proposed improvements. The governing body or its designated agent or agency shall review the preliminary plat to determine whether it conforms to the local master plan if one has been adopted pursuant to sections 11-3801 through 11-3856 to the provisions of this act, and to rules and regulations prescribed or adopted pursuant to this act.

(3) The governing body or its authorized agent or agency shall hold a public hearing on the preliminary plat and shall consider all relevant evidence relating to the public health, safety and welfare, including the environmental assessment, to determine whether the plat should be approved, conditionally approved, or disapproved by the governing body. Notice of such hearing shall be given by publication in a newspaper published in the county not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date of the hearing. When a hearing is held by an agent or agency designated by the governing body, the agent or agency shall act in an advisory capacity and recommend to the governing body the approval, conditional approval, or disapproval of the plat. This recommendation must be submitted to the governing body in writing not later than ten (10) days after the public hearing. If the governing body rejects or conditionally approves the preliminary plat, it shall forward one (1) copy of the plat to the subdivider accompanied by a letter over the appropriate signature stating the reason for rejection or enumerating the conditions which must be met to assure approval of the final plat.

(4) Upon approving or conditionally approving a preliminary plat, the governing body shall affix a dated and signed statement of approval to the preliminary plat. The governing body shall forward one (1) copy of the approval statement to the subdivider. This approval shall be in force for not more than one (1) calendar year; at the end of this period the governing body may, at the request of the subdivider, extend its approval for no more than one (1) calendar year.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 500, L. 1973.

He shall ascertain that all features, such as streets, drainage, and all other improvements and facilities to be operated or maintained with public funds, are essentially the same as those shown on the approved preliminary plat; that the permanent control monuments meet requirements prescribed pursuant to this act; that all exterior boundaries and corners of the tract are shown in sufficient detail so as to leave no doubt as to how they were established; and that all monuments and references marking exterior corners conform to standards of size and position promulgated pursuant to this act. When the survey data shown on the plat meet the conditions set forth by or pursuant to this act, the examining land surveyor shall so certify in a printed or stamped certificate on the plat; such certificate shall be signed by him.

No land surveyor shall act as an examining land surveyor in regard to a plat in which he has a financial or personal interest other than as draftsman of the plat.

(2) The governing body shall examine every final subdivision plat and shall approve it when, and only when, it conforms to the conditions of approval set forth on the preliminary plat and to the terms of this act and regulations adopted pursuant thereto. The clerk and recorder of the county shall refuse to accept any plat for record that fails to have such approval in proper form.

(3) Every final subdivision plat must be filed for record with the county clerk and recorder before any interest in the subdivided land can be sold, rented, leased, or transferred in any manner or offered for sale, lease, or transfer. If illegal transfers or offers of any manner are made, the county attorney shall commence action to enjoin further sales, transfers, or offers of sale or transfer and compel compliance with all provisions of this act. (2) All plats and other title records which were recorded prior to the effective date of this act in accordance with the law in force at the time of recording and which have not been subsequently vacated are hereby validated, notwithstanding irregularities, and have the same legal status as plats recorded under the provisions of this act.

(3) The recording of any plat made in compliance with the provisions of this act shall serve to establish the identity of all lands shown on and being a part of such plat. Where lands are conveyed by reference to a plat, the plat itself or any copy of the plat properly certified by the county clerk and recorder as being a true copy thereof, shall be regarded as incorporated into the instrument of conveyance and shall be received in evidence in all courts of this state.

(b) reveals a material discrepancy in such map;

(c) discloses evidence to suggest alternate locations of lines or points;

(d) establishes one or more lines not shown on a recorded map the positions of which are not ascertainable from an inspection of such map without trigonometric calculations.

(2) A certificate of survey will not be required for any survey which is made by the United States bureau of land management or which is preliminary or which will become part of a subdivision plat being prepared for recording under the provisions of this act.

(3) Certificates of survey shall be legibly drawn, printed, or reproduced by a process guaranteeing a permanent record and shall conform to monumentation and surveying requirements promulgated under this act.

When a recorded plat does not definitely show the location or size of lots or blocks, or the location or width of any street or alley, the governing body may at its own expense cause a new and correct survey and plat to be made and recorded in the office of the county clerk. The corrected plat must, to the extent possible, follow the plan of the original survey and plat. The surveyor making the resurvey shall endorse the corrected plat referring to the original plat and noting the defect existing therein and the corrections made.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 500, L. 1973.

11-3875. Administration of oaths by registered land surveyor. Every registered land surveyor may administer and certify oaths:

(1) when it becomes necessary to take testimony for the identification of old corners or re-establishment of lost or obliterated corners;

(2) when a corner or monument is found in a deteriorating condition and it is desirable that evidence concerning it be perpetuated;

(3) when the importance of the survey makes it desirable to administer an oath to his assistants for the faithful performance of their duty.

A record of oaths shall be preserved as part of the field notes of the survey, and noted on the certificate of survey filed under this section.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 500, L. 1973.

(a) A municipality shall not approve an urban renewal project for an urban renewal area unless the local governing body has, by resolution, determined such area to be a blighted area and designated such area as appropriate for an urban renewal project. The local governing body shall not approve an urban renewal plan until a comprehensive plan or parts of such plan for an area which would include an urban renewal area for the municipality have been prepared. For this purpose, and other municipal purposes, authority is hereby vested in every municipality to prepare, to adopt, and to revise from time to time, a comprehensive plan or parts thereof for the physical development of the municipality as a whole (giving due regard to the environs and metropolitan surroundings), to establish and maintain a planning commission for such purpose and related municipal planning activities, and to make available and to appropriate necessary funds therefor. Sections 11-2306 and 11-2307 shall not be applicable to the issuance of such bonds.

Such activities need not be limited to contiguous areas; however, such activities shall be confined to the areas as outlined in the urban renewal plan as approved by the municipality in accordance with this act. The yearly activities shall constitute a part of the urban renewal plan and the municipality may elect to undertake certain yearly activities and total urban renewal projects simultaneously. Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 50, Laws 1969 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 20, 1969.

Special Purpose Law

This act is designed for special purpose and prevails over and is not limited by general legislation that county not make lease longer than ten years (16-1030), that county not sell land except at public auction (16-1009), or that county not contract for construction except on public bidding (16-1803). Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

11-4102. General municipal and county powers.

Constitutionality

Provision for issuance of revenue bonds under this act does not violate Montana constitution article XIII, section 1, since it is done for a public purpose, despite the fact that certain individual associations or corporations may benefit from the legislation. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

Judicial Review

Where project was entirely within county, court would not consider hypothetical conflict between section 16-101 and provision in this section allowing project partially without county. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

11-4103. Limited obligation bonds—form and contents, etc.

Constitutionality

This section does not violate Montana constitution article XIII, section 5, since it provides for revenue bonds and does not create debt or liability within the meaning of article XIII, section 5. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

11-4107. Use of proceeds of bond sales.

Equipment Acquired

11-4108. Taxation of projects.

Constitutionality

This section does not violate provisions of Montana constitution article XII, section 2 against taxing property of county or municipality, since county or municipality has only trust as opposed to beneficial interest, and taxation is based on use of property. Fickes v. Missoula County, 155 M 258, 470 P 2d 287.

The growth of urban population, the necessity to maintain local governmental services in areas of increasing population on one hand, and in areas of decreasing population on the other, and the movement of people into suburban areas have created varied problems in the provision of public services and facilities which often cannot be met adequately by individual units of local government.

In the formation of its proposals which can include arrangements for county-wide governmental services and urban area services in both incorporated and unincorporated areas, a commission shall study and take into consideration:

(1) The existing land use within the county, including the location of highways and natural geographic barriers to and routes for transportation, making use, wherever possible, of comprehensive land-use plans prepared for the area by organized planning boards or other reliable surveys;

(2) The need for organized local governmental services, the present cost and adequacy of local governmental services and controls in the area, probable future needs for such services and controls, and the probable effect of alternative courses of action on the cost and adequacy of services and controls in the areas concerned and in adjacent areas;

(3) Population density, distribution and growth, per capita assessed valuation, the likelihood of significant growth in the areas concerned and in adjacent incorporated and unincorporated areas;

(4) The boundaries of existing units of local government;

(5) Maintenance of citizen access to, control of, and participation in local government;

(6) Such other matters as might affect provision of local governmental services on an equitable basis and provide more efficient and economical administration thereof.

(2) If the comprehensive plan includes any change, alteration, interlocal agreement, consolidation, dissolution, or annexation with respect to any unit of local government or special district which can be carried into effect under existing law by action of the governing bodies of the units affected, the commission shall recommend the necessary action to the governing body or bodies of the units of government concerned.

(3) If the comprehensive plan includes the creation of, or any change, alteration, consolidation, dissolution or annexation with respect to any unit of local government or special district which necessitates enabling legislation or amendments to the general laws or constitution of the state of Montana, the commission shall make such recommendation or recommendations to the ensuing legislative assembly.

Section
12-404. Duties of commissioners.

12-401. Appointment of commission on uniform state laws.

NOTE.—Uniform State Law. In addition to the states listed in the parent volume, the following states have adopted the "Model Act to Provide for the Appointment of Commissioners": Kentucky.

12-404. Duties of commissioners. Each commissioner shall attend the meeting of the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws, and both in and out of such national conference shall do all in his power to promote uniformity in state laws, upon all subjects where uniformity may be deemed desirable and practicable; said commission shall report as provided in section 2 [82-4002] of this act. It shall also be the duty of said commission to bring about as far as practicable the uniform judicial interpretation of all uniform laws.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment substituted the reference to the reporting requirements of section 82-4002 for a former provision requiring a report on the commission's transactions and its advice and recommendations to be made to the legislature at each regular session.

TITLE 13—CONTRACTS

CHAPTER 2—PARTIES TO CONTRACT

13-204. (7472) When contract for benefit of third person, etc.

Employment Contract

Employee was not third-party beneficiary, within the meaning of statute, of contract between his employer and United States providing that employer should at all times be fully responsible for and exercise reasonable precaution for health and safety of his employees engaged in performance of work under contract; hence employee was not entitled to maintain action for employer's breach of safety clauses in the absence of express promise in contract to pay damages in addition to employee's rights to workmen's compensation. Hensley v. United States, 279 F Supp 548.

CHAPTER 3—CONSENT

13-308. (7480) Actual fraud, acts constituting.

Material Misrepresentations

Broker's statement that laundromat grossed $3,000 a month, was worth $37,000, and "looks like a real good deal" did not establish material misrepresentations constituting fraud and entitling purchaser to rescind sale contract, in view of evidence that, although open less than thirty days a month, business did gross $100 a day and that seller had paid $30,000 for business and added $4,000 of improvements; in the absence of corroboration, buyer's claim that broker also told him business netted $1,000 a month was not basis for rescission. Young v. Handrow, 151 M 310, 443 P 2d 9.

Inaccurate statement by defendant's agent in mineral deed negotiations that nearest oil fields were 20 miles away did not constitute fraud under this section in the absence of fraudulent intent and where the misstatement arose from an honest misunderstanding between defendant and agent. Clough v. Jackson, 156 M 272, 479 P 2d 266.

One Party in Superior Position

Record disclosing that buyer of real estate who was real estate broker and mineral dealer, knowledgeable in legal affairs, titles and values of property and who handled drafting of contract, was in superior position as compared to seller who was almost illiterate, weak-minded and an irresponsible drinker, and who took no part in drafting contract, was sufficient to raise legal question of fraud on grounds of gross inadequacy of consideration and undue influence. Rock v. Birdwell, 149 M 449, 429 P 2d 634.

Promise Must Be Made Without the Intent To Perform

Allegation that executive vice-president of bank promised to find purchaser for defendant's corporation did not support claim of fraud under this section since mere making of promise which promisor fails to keep is not actionable fraud. Gallatin Trust & Savings Bank v. Henke, 154 M 170, 461 P 2d 448.

13-309. (7481) Constructive fraud.

Concealment of Facts

Restaurant owner's withholding from potential buyers of information that she had received warning from state board of health concerning unsatisfactory condition of water supply and sewage disposal systems and that correction of difficulty was necessary to meet board's standards was fraudulent, the concealment being in the nature of a constructive fraud. Russell v. Russell, 152 M 461, 452 P 2d 77.

Deed from Mother to Son

Constructive trust would not be imposed on lands deeded son by aged mother in absence of evidence to show that son gained land by accident, mistake, undue influence, violation of trust or other wrongful act or by constructive fraud as defined in statute. Bodine v. Bodine, 149 M 29, 422 P 2d 650.

Deficiency in Amount of Land Sold

Sale of land later shown to consist of fewer acres than represented constituted constructive fraud entitling buyer to rescission or damages under statute even though buyer, experienced in real estate transactions, failed to ascertain the true number of acres, and even though the seller's representations were honest mistake, not intended to deceive anyone. Hardin v. Hill, 149 M 68, 423 P 2d 309.

Failure To Read Deed Carefully

Where plaintiff's principal reason for wishing to rescind mineral deed was her mistaken belief that she had granted a royalty interest, evidence that plaintiff was astute in negotiations and that consideration for the deed was fair and adequate, but that plaintiff failed to read carefully the instrument she signed did not establish constructive fraud under this section. Clough v. Jackson, 156 M 272, 479 P 2d 266.

13-311. (7483) Undue influence—in what it consists.

What Constitutes Undue Influence

Where plaintiff's principal reason for wishing to rescind mineral deed was her mistaken belief that she had granted a royalty interest, evidence that plaintiff was astute in negotiations and that consideration for the deed was fair and adequate, but that plaintiff failed to read carefully the instrument she signed did not establish undue influence under this section. Clough v. Jackson, 156 M 272, 479 P 2d 266.

CHAPTER 6—CREATION OF CONTRACTS—ORAL AND WRITTEN

13-603. (7516) Implied contract defined.

Service Contract

Evidence that it was understood plaintiff should be paid for her services and that plaintiff maintained a detailed record of services and expenses, even though including contrary indications, was sufficient under this section to support plaintiff's claim under an implied contract. Cartwright v. Joyce, 155 M 478, 473 P 2d 515.

13-606. (7519) What contracts must be in writing.

Estoppel

Promisor was estopped from raising statute of frauds as defense to action by promisee under oral agreement to divide equally income received from soil bank payments for eight-year period in view of evidence showing glaring inconsistencies in promisor's position. Daley v. Daley, 150 M 432, 436 P 2d 88.

Extension of Contract Period

Where employer had been awarded construction contract to be completed in 360 days and hired employee under oral agreement almost immediately thereafter, fact that contract was later amended resulting in an extension of time to correct construction error did not make it invalid under this section, and therefore did not affect employee's right to recover salary upon being fired, since extension of time was not contemplated in the original contract; fact that employee had worked seven weeks also removed contract from bar of statute under doctrine of part performance. Fox v. Fifth West, Inc., 153 M 95, 454 P 2d 612.

Full Performance by One Party

Oral contract extending for more than one year was taken out of the operation of this section by full performance by one party. Davis v. Davis, — M —, 497 P 2d 315.

Sale of Stock

In action for breach of contract trial court improperly refused to direct verdict for defendant seller since oral contract for sale of stock in ranch corporation was invalid under this section and equitable estoppel was not applicable since there was no language amounting to representation or concealment of material facts by seller. Mueller v. Svejkovsky, 153 M 416, 458 P 2d 265.

Subsequent Oral Modification

Even if corporate minutes and subsequent listing agreement constituted written agreement to pay director commission on sale of corporation's real and personal property, alleged oral modification to permit sale to different buyer at lesser price was barred by this section; contract was not removed from bar of statute as an executed oral agreement under section 13-907. Hart v. Billings Public Stockyards, 157 M 345, 486 P 2d 120.

13-607. (7520) Effect of written contracts.

Parol Evidence Not Allowed

Trial court's finding based upon oral testimony admitted at trial was error since such oral testimony varied terms of written contract and was thus inadmissible under this section. Davison v. Casebolt, 154 M 125, 461 P 2d 2.

In cattle-raising venture oral agreement between partnership and defendant that subsequent written contract would be modified when experience showed that each would profit by the change did not alter the terms of the written agreement under the rule of construction of this section. Heckman and Shell v. Wilson, — M —, 487 P 2d 1141.

CHAPTER 7—INTERPRETATION OF CONTRACTS

Intention of Parties

Restrictive covenant giving lessee exclusive right to operate drugstore did not extend to property beyond the plot described in the lease and summary judgment for lessor was properly granted because the intent of the parties at the time they entered into the agreement was reduced to writing and expressed in clear and explicit language that the exclusive covenant applied to "the entire premises covered by the plans and specifications." Matteucci's Super Save, Drug v. Hustad Corp., — M —, 491 P 2d 705.

13-704. (7529) Intention to be ascertained from language.

Insurance Contract

Inability of insurer to write malpractice insurance in state and fact that insured carried malpractice insurance with another company could not be considered in determining intentions of parties to comprehensive liability insurance policy, since policy was unambiguous. Home Ins. Co. v. Pinski Bros., 156 M 246, 479 P 2d 274.

Verbal Clarity

Clause in disability insurance policy which provided that benefits were payable only in cases involving continuous and total disability within 30 days of date of accident preventing performance of every duty pertaining to insured's occupation precluded insured from recovering benefits under policy where he had returned to work and was able to perform part of his duties since, under this section, language of contract governs its interpretation if language is clear and explicit and, as matter of law, insured did not come within policy coverage. Nelson v. Combined Ins. Co. of America, 155 M 105, 467 P 2d 707.

Restrictive covenant giving lessee exclusive right to operate drugstore did not extend to property beyond the plot described in the lease and summary judgment for lessor was properly granted because the intent of the parties at the time they entered into the agreement was reduced to writing and expressed in clear and explicit language that the exclusive covenant applied to "the entire premises covered by the plans and specifications." Matteucci's Super Save, Drug v. Hustad Corp., — M —, 491 P 2d 705.

13-705. (7530) Interpretation of written contracts.

Parol Evidence Admissible

Provisions in real estate sale contract that time was of the essence and that payments could be made on or before January 15 of each year created ambiguity sufficient that when vendee accelerated payment and made full payment to escrow agent, vendor's action for breach of contract could not be dismissed without hearing parol evidence to determine intention of the parties. Kielmann v. Mogan, 156 M 230, 478 P 2d 275.

13-706. (7531) Writing—when disregarded.

Writing Controls

Where parties called their relationship to a piece of equipment that of lessor and lessee, and lessee was obligated to pay all charges for both the delivery and return of the equipment upon termination or expiration of the lease, pay all maintenance, carry insurance, pay all taxes, and title remained in the lessor, and the instrument defining their relationship was entitled a lease, there was such overwhelming evidence that the arrangement was a lease, and not a contract of sale, that it was error for the trial court to find the latter. American Mach. Co. v. Johnson, 157 M 226, 483 P 2d 921.

13-707. (7532) Effect to be given to every part of contract.

Insurance Contract

Printed indemnity clause on back of purchase order was inoperative where typed portion of purchase order merely accepted offer of seller with specific reference to attached modifications and made no mention of indemnity clause. Hoerner Waldorf Corp. v. Bumstead-Woolford Co., — M —, 494 P 2d 293.

13-708. (7533) Several contracts—when taken together.

Contract and Bond

Subcontractor's agreement with contractor and bond covering subcontractor were construed together in suit by contractor on subcontractor's bond. Carl Weissman & Sons, Inc. v. St. Paul Fire & Marine Ins. Co., 152 M 291, 448 P. 2d 740.

13-710. (7535) Words to be understood in usual sense.

"Trailer"

"Trailer" as used in restrictive covenant against their use was construed to refer to a type of structure and not the mobility of that structure. Timmerman v. Gabriel, 155 M 294, 470 P 2d 528.

13-713. (7538) Contracts explained by circumstances.

Contract of Sale

Substantial credible extrinsic evidence warranted resolution of ambiguity concerning grazing permits in real estate sales contract in favor of buyers who were repeatedly assured during final negotiations that permits would be transferred to them as part of deal. Dooling v. Casey, 152 M 267, 448 P 2d 749.

13-717. (7542) Contract—partly written and partly printed, etc.

Insurance Policy

Stamped phrase "Double Indemnity" appearing on face of insurance policy must be interpreted in light of rider to policy to which phrase refers. Niewoehner v. Western Life Ins. Co., 149 M 57, 422 P 2d 644.

Printed indemnity clause on back of purchase order was inoperative where typed portion of purchase order merely accepted offer of seller with specific reference to attached modifications and made no mention of indemnity clause. Hoerner Waldorf Corp. v. Bumstead-Woolford Co., — M —, 494 P 2d 293.

13-719. (7544) Inconsistent words rejected.

Contradictory Provisions

In suit by contractor for additional expenses incurred in obtaining suitable gravel to perform road construction contract, contradiction whereby state highway commission on one hand warranted condition of gravel pit but on other hand disclaimed any liability from reliance on such representations, would be resolved in favor of contractor for reason that contractor was in "take it or leave it" situation and justifiably relied upon commission's warranty. Haggart Constr. Co. v. State Highway Commission, 149 M 422, 427 P 2d 686.

13-720. (7545) Words to be taken most strongly against whom.

Option in Lease

Agricultural tenant was not entitled to exercise option to buy contained in lease of land after expiration of lease, even though holding over, in light of statute providing that uncertainties in contract be interpreted against plaintiff-promisor, causing uncertainty to exist. Miller v. Meredith, 149 M 125, 423 P 2d 595.

CHAPTER 8—UNLAWFUL CONTRACTS

Exceptions

Limitation of telephone company's liability for errors in contract for "yellow pages" advertising and providing for maximum recovery, was valid and not void under this section. State ex rel. Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. v. District Court, — M —, 503 P 2d 526.

Without a demonstration of bad faith, fraud, or willful or wanton conduct by telephone company, a limitation of liability for errors and omissions in its advertising expressed in a written and signed contract is reasonable and it was within the power of the company and subscribers to include such a clause in a valid and binding contract. State ex rel. Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. v. District Court, — M —, 503 P 2d 526.

13-806. (7558) Restraints upon legal proceedings.

Arbitration Provision

On application for writ of supervisory control, district court would be required to take jurisdiction of claim by contractor for additional work performed on contract with drainage district, notwithstanding decision for drainage district under arbitration clause, since arbitration cannot be final as to questions of law. State ex rel. Cave Constr. Co. v. District Court, 150 M 18, 430 P 2d 624.

CHAPTER 9—EXTINCTION OF CONTRACTS—RESCISSION—ALTERATION—CANCELLATION

Failure of Consideration

Under this section, party may rescind contract when consideration for his obligation fails in whole or in part through fault of party as to whom he rescinds, or if such consideration, before it is rendered to him, fails in material respect from any cause. Brown v. First Federal Savings & Loan Assn. of Great Falls, 154 M 79, 460 P 2d 97.

13-905. (7567) Rescission—how effected.

Oral Statements

Where the purchasers made a new offer based on the belief that the vendor's mineral interest would soon be reduced because of a third-party claim asserted after the execution of the original contract, statement by purchaser that "the deal was off" was insufficient to rescind or modify the written contract. Kretzschmar v. Bickerstaff, — M —, 489 P 2d 1285.

Waiver of Right to Rescind

In action by motorist, injured by negligence of insured, to recover under insured's policy, insurer impliedly waived right to rescind policy by accepting premium payments from insured and by paying other claims arising out of the same accident, after insurer had discovered insured's fraudulent misrepresentations in application for policy. McLane v. Farmers Ins. Exchange, 150 M 116, 432 P 2d 98.

13-907. (7569) Written contracts—how modified.

Contingent Fee Contract

A contingent fee contract providing that in event suit was instituted attorney would be entitled to 40 per cent of any sums recovered is binding in absence of written contract or executed oral contract varying the original contract. Gross v. Holzworth, 151 M 179, 440 P 2d 765.

Partial Execution

Alleged oral agreement to pay director commission for procuring purchaser for corporation's realty and personalty was not an "executed oral agreement" within this section since there was no performance by corporation and director's performance was consistent with performance of his duties as an officer-director and not necessarily pursuant to contract. Hart v. Billings Public Stockyards, 157 M 345, 486 P 2d 120.

14-148. Loans to members.
14-149. Reserves.
14-150. Dividends—when declared—how paid.

14-143. Directors. The board of directors shall meet at least once a month and shall have the general direction and control of the affairs of the credit union. Minutes of all such meetings shall be kept. Among other things they shall act upon applications for membership; require any officer or employee having custody of or handling funds to give bond with good and sufficient surety in an amount and character to be determined by the board of directors in compliance with regulations prescribed from time to time by the supervisor, and authorize the payment of the premium or premiums therefor from the funds of the credit union; fill vacancies in the board and in the credit committee until successors elected at the next annual meeting have qualified; have charge of investments other than loans to members; determine from time to time the maximum number of shares that may be held by an individual; subject to the limitations of this act, determine the interest rates on loans and the maximum amount which may be loaned with or without security to any member; subject to such regulations as may be issued by the supervisor, authorize an interest refund to members of record at the close of business on the last day of any dividend period in proportion to the interest paid by them during that dividend period; and provide for compensation of necessary clerical and auditing assistance requested by the supervisory committee, and of loan officers appointed by the credit committee. The board may appoint an executive committee of not less than three (3) directors to act for it in the purchase and sale of securities, the borrowing of funds, and the making of loans to other credit unions. Such executive committee or a membership officer appointed by the board from among the members of the credit union, other than the treasurer, and assistant treasurer, or a loan officer, may be authorized by the board to approve applications for membership under such conditions as the board may prescribe; except that such committee or membership officer so authorized shall submit to the board at each monthly meeting a list of approved or pending applications for membership received since the previous monthly meeting, together with such other related information as the bylaws or the board may require.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "the last day of any dividend period" and "dividend period" for "December 31" and "that year" in the third sentence, in the clause relating to interest refunds to members; inserted a new fourth sentence providing for an executive committee; inserted "Such executive committee or" at the beginning of the fifth sentence; inserted "committee or" before "membership officer" in the latter portion of the fifth sentence; and made minor changes in phraseology.

14-145. Supervisory committee. The supervisory committee shall make or cause to be made, at least semiannually, an examination of the affairs of the credit union, shall make or cause to be made a report of its semiannual examination to the board of directors; shall make or cause to be made an annual audit, a report of which shall be submitted to the members at the next annual meeting of the credit union; may suspend by a unanimous vote any officer of the credit union, or any member of the credit committee, or of the board of directors, until the next members' meeting, which members' meeting shall be held not less than seven (7) nor more than fourteen (14) days after such suspension and at which meeting such suspension shall be acted upon by the members; and may call by a majority vote a special meeting of the shareholders to consider any violation of this act, the certificate of incorporation or the bylaws, or any practice of the credit union deemed by the supervisory committee to be unsafe or unauthorized. Any member of the supervisory committee may be suspended by a majority vote of the board of directors. The members shall decide, at a meeting held not less than seven (7) nor more than fourteen (14) days after any such suspension, whether the suspended committee member shall be removed from or restored to the supervisory committee. The supervisory committee shall cause the passbooks and accounts of the members to be verified with the records of the treasurer from time to time, and not less frequently than once every two (2) years. As used in this section, the term "passbook" shall include any book, statement of account, or other record setting forth the members' transactions with the credit union.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment changed the examination provided for by the first clause of the first sentence from quarterly to semiannual; and inserted "a majority vote of" in the second sentence.

14-148. Loans to members. A credit union may loan to members for provident or productive purposes and made subject to the conditions contained in the bylaws. A borrower may repay his loan in whole or in part, during regular business hours on any day the credit union office is open for business and no penalty or minimum charge may be imposed for payments received in advance of schedule or for any loan paid in full prior to the maturity date. Loans to its own directors and to members of its own supervisory or credit committee shall be reported to the directors as hereinafter provided, and such a loan may be made only if:

(1) the loan complies with all lawful requirements under this act with respect to loans to other borrowers and is not on terms more favorable than those extended to other borrowers;

(2) Upon the making of the loan, the aggregate amount of loans outstanding to the borrower will not exceed the total amount of shareholdings in the credit union, not otherwise encumbered or pledged, which are pledged as security for loans to the borrower, or five thousand dollars ($5,000), whichever is greater;

(3) upon the making of the loan, the aggregate amount of loans outstanding under authority of this paragraph will not exceed twenty per centum (20%) of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the credit union;

(4) the loan is approved by the credit committee after the submission to them by the borrower of a detailed current financial statement on a form prepared by the credit committee, and reported to the board of directors within thirty (30) days of approval, and

(5) the borrower takes no part in the consideration of his application and does not attend any committee meeting while his application is under consideration.

No director or member of the supervisory or credit committee shall endorse for borrowers.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted the third sentence and the numbered subdivisions for a sentence reading "Loans to a director or member of the supervisory or credit committee shall not exceed the amount of his holdings in the credit union as represented by shares thereof plus the total unencumbered and unpledged shareholdings in the credit union of any member or members pledged as security for the obligation of such director or committee member"; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

14-149. Reserves. (1) Immediately before the payment of each dividend, the gross earnings of the credit union shall be determined. From this amount, there shall be set aside, as a regular reserve against losses on loans and against such other losses as may be specified in regulations prescribed under this act, sums in accordance with the following schedule:

(a) ten per centum (10%) of gross income until the regular reserve shall equal seven and one-half per centum (7½%) of the total of outstanding loans and risk assets, then

(b) five per centum (5%) of gross income until the regular reserve shall equal ten per centum (10%) of the total of outstanding loans and risk assets. Whenever the regular reserve falls below ten per centum (10%), or seven and one-half per centum (7½%) of the total of outstanding loans and risk assets, as the case may be, it shall be replenished by regular contributions in such amounts as may be needed to maintain the reserve goals of seven and one-half per centum (7½%), or ten per centum (10%).

(2) In addition to such regular reserve, special reserves to protect the interests of members shall be established:

(a) when required by regulation; or

(b) when found by the supervisor, in any special case, to be necessary for that purpose.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 236, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 213, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment completely rewrote this section. For previous text, see parent volume.

14-150. Dividends—when declared—how paid. After allocations to the required reserves, a credit union may declare a dividend from undivided earnings at the discretion of its board of directors and as its bylaws may provide. Dividends shall be paid on all fully paid shares outstanding at the close of the dividend period, but shares which become fully paid during the dividend period shall be entitled to a proportional part of the dividends calculated from the first day of the month following such payment in full. Dividend credit for a month may be accrued on shares which are or become fully paid up during the first ten (10) days of that month. No dividends shall be paid on shares which are withdrawn during the dividend period.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 236, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 213, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment completely rewrote this section. For previous text, see parent volume.

CHAPTER 2—CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS

Section
14-203. First, regular and special meetings.
14-216. Merger or consolidation of co-operative associations.

14-203. (6377) First, regular and special meetings. (1) First meeting. As soon as ten (10) or more shares of the capital stock shall be subscribed, the commissioners shall convene a meeting of the subscribers for the purpose of electing directors, adopting bylaws, and transacting such other business as shall properly come before them. Notice thereof shall be given by depositing same in the post office, properly addressed, to each subscriber, at least ten (10) days before the time fixed, stating the object, time, and place of said meeting. Directors of associations organized under this act shall be elected by the stockholders, and hold their office for such period of time as shall be provided in the bylaws.

(2) Regular and special meetings. (a) Unless the bylaws provide otherwise, stockholders' meetings shall be held at the principal office or such other place as the board may determine.

(b) An annual stockholders' meeting shall be held at the time fixed in or pursuant to the bylaws. In the absence of a bylaw provision, such meeting shall be held within six (6) months after the close of the fiscal year at the call of the president or board.

(c) Special stockholders' meetings may be called by the president, board, or stockholders having one-fifth (1/5) of the votes entitled to be cast at such meeting.

(d) Written notice, stating the place, day and hour, and in case of a special stockholders' meeting the purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be given not less than seven (7) nor more than thirty (30) days before the meeting at the direction of the person calling the meeting.

(e) At any meeting at which stockholders are to be represented by delegates, notice to such stockholders may be given by notifying such delegates and their alternates. Notice may consist of a notice to all stockholders, or may be in the form of an announcement at the meeting at which such delegates or alternates are elected.

(f) A quorum at a regular or special meeting shall be as provided in the associations articles or bylaws. If the articles or bylaws do not define a quorum, ten per cent (10%) of the first one hundred (100) stockholders plus five per cent (5%) of any additional stockholders, present in person, shall constitute a quorum. Stockholders represented by signed vote may be counted in computing a quorum only on those questions as to which the signed vote is taken.

History: En. Sec. 872, Civ. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 4212, Rev. C. 1907; re-en Sec. 6377, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 273, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 342, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment designated the previous language as subsection (1) and added subsection (2).

14-216. (6390) Merger or consolidation of co-operative associations. It shall be lawful for two (2) or more co-operative associations formed, or which may be hereafter formed under the laws of the state of Montana, to merge or consolidate with each other, or with one or more associations incorporated under the laws of another state or states relating to organization of co-operative associations, by complying with the provisions of chapter 2 of Title 14, R.C.M. 1947, or with the applicable laws of the state where the surviving or new association has its principal place of business.

(1) Plan for merger or consolidation. Before an association may merge or consolidate with any other association, a written plan of merger or consolidation shall be prepared by the board of directors of one or both associations, by a committee appointed for that purpose by the board of directors of one or both associations, or by a committee composed of at least ten per cent (10%) of the stockholders of one of the associations concerned. Such plan shall set forth all the terms of the merger or consolidation, and the proposed effect thereof on each of the stockholders of the associations concerned. In the case of consolidation the plan shall also contain a copy of the proposed articles for the new association to be formed.

(2) Notice. Notice of the proposed plan, and in the case of consolidation, of the proposed new articles, shall be mailed to each stockholder of the associations to be affected thereby.

(3) Meeting of association. The notice shall advise the stockholders of each association of the time and place each association shall meet, at which time the proposal shall be considered and voted upon by each association. The meetings shall be held not less than thirty (30) or more than sixty (60) days after the mailing of notice. The plan shall be considered adopted if a quorum is present and two-thirds (⅔) of those voting vote in its favor.

(4) Effective date of merger or consolidation. Within thirty (30) days after the merger or consolidation plan has been adopted, documents of merger or consolidation setting forth the plan and the manner of adoption thereof shall be signed and acknowledged by the president or vice-president, and by the secretary or assistant secretary of each association merging or consolidating, and filed with the clerk and recorder of the county in which the principal office of the new or surviving association is located if the office is in Montana, and with the Montana secretary of state. If the new or surviving association has its principal office in Montana, the merger or consolidation shall become effective as of the date of filing with the Montana secretary of state; if its principal office is outside the state of Montana, the merger or consolidation shall become effective upon full compliance with the laws of the state in which its principal office is located. If there is a merger, the articles and bylaws of the surviving association are amended to the extent provided in the documents setting forth the plan of merger.

(5) Sale or disposition of assets. At any meeting the stockholders of a co-operative association may authorize the disposition or sale of all or substantially all of the association's assets, if notice that such disposition or sale will be considered at such meeting has been given to all persons entitled to vote thereon, and if disposition or sale is approved by two-thirds (⅔) of those entitled to vote thereon voting at the meeting.

(6) Rights and duties of new or surviving association. After the effective date, the associations which are parties to the plan become a single association. In the case of a merger, the surviving association is that association so designated in the plan. In the case of a consolidation, the new association is the association provided for in the plan. The separate existence of all associations which are parties to the plan, except the surviving or new association, then ceases.

The surviving or new association possesses all the rights and all the property of each of the individual associations, and is responsible for all their obligations. Title to any property is vested in the surviving or new association with no reversion or impairment thereof caused by the merger or consolidation. No right of any creditor may be impaired by the merger or consolidation without his consent.

(7) Statute of limitations. No action may be maintained to invalidate any sale, merger or consolidation taken pursuant to this chapter because of the manner of its adoption, unless the action is commenced within two (2) years after the date of filing same.

CHAPTER 5—RURAL ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE CO-OPERATIVE ACT

Section
14-502. Purpose.
14-521. Disposition of property.
14-530. Definitions.

14-502. Purpose. Co-operative, nonprofit, membership corporations may be organized under this act for the following purposes:

(a) For the purpose of supplying electric energy and promoting and extending the use thereof in rural areas, as provided in this act.

(b) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

Corporations organized under this act and corporations which become subject to this act in the manner hereinafter provided are hereinafter referred to as "co-operatives."

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 172, L. 1939; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 80, L. 1957; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 7, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "as provided in this act" at the end of subdivision (a) for "in which electrical current and service are not otherwise available, from existing facilities and plants."

Electric Service

Where electrical service was available from utility and utility was ready, willing and able to serve new customer, electrical co-operative had no right under this section to serve customer, notwithstanding that co-operative had available power line 3,400 feet from site while utility's closest line was 6 miles from site, since availability of service from existing facilities and plants cannot be determined solely on basis of distance between existing transmission lines and site where electrical energy is to be delivered. Montana Power Co. v. Sun River Electric Cooperative, Inc., 157 M 468, 487 P 2d 307.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Electric Service

In determining that electrical service was available from existing facilities of private company thereby denying co-operative right to supply electric service to potential customer, court relied upon evidence that private company was serving other customers in area and evidence that distance private company would have to extend its service to supply new customer was less than distance co-operative would have to extend its service to supply same customer. Montana Power Co. v. Fergus Elec. Co-op, 149 M 258, 425 P 2d 329.

14-521. Disposition of property. A co-operative may not sell, mortgage, lease or otherwise dispose of or encumber all or any substantial portion of its property unless such sale, mortgage, lease or other disposition or encumbrance is authorized at a duly held meeting of members thereof by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds (⅔) of all the members of the co-operative, and unless the notice of such proposed sale, mortgage, lease or other disposition or encumbrance shall have been contained in the notice of the meeting; provided, however, that notwithstanding anything herein contained, or any other provisions of law, the board of trustees of a co-operative, without authorization by the members thereof, shall have full power and authority to authorize the execution and delivery of a mortgage or mortgages or a deed or deeds of trust upon, or the pledging or encumbrancing of, any or all of the property, assets, rights, privileges, licenses, franchises and permits of the co-operative, whether acquired or to be acquired, and wherever situated, as well as the revenues and income therefrom, all upon such terms and conditions as the board of trustees shall determine, to secure any indebtedness of the co-operative to the United States of America or any instrumentality or agency thereof or to any other financing sources within the United States; provided, further, that the board may upon the authorization of a majority of those members of the co-operative voting at a meeting of the members thereof, sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of all or a substantial portion of its property to another co-operative or foreign corporation doing business in this state pursuant to the act under which the co-operative is incorporated.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

License Tax Delinquency

Neither foreign corporation which created and assigned accounts receivable before complying with laws of state nor foreign corporation to which accounts receivable were assigned had right of enforcement until assignor paid license taxes under former statute providing that no contract of a foreign corporation is enforceable during the period of delinquency in payment of its fees and licenses, and although a subsequent compliance with statute would remove bar of nonenforceability, removal would not relate back to date of original delinquency and would not bar superior rights of others that accrued during period of delinquency. Manufacturers Acceptance Corp. v. Krsul, 151 M 28, 438 P 2d 667.

15-22-119. Filing of annual report of domestic and foreign corporations. Proof to the satisfaction of the secretary of state that prior to the fifteenth day of April such report was deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope, properly addressed, with postage prepaid, shall be deemed a compliance with this requirement. If the secretary of state finds that such report conforms to the requirements of this act, he shall file the same. If he finds that it does not so conform, he shall promptly return the same to the corporation for any necessary corrections, in which event the penalties hereinafter prescribed for failure to file such report within the time hereinabove provided shall not apply, if such report is corrected to conform to the requirements of this act and returned to the secretary of state within thirty days from the date on which it was mailed to the corporation by the secretary of state.

Liability of Officers and Directors

Under former statute providing for liability of directors for failure to file required annual report, directors were liable to creditors only for debts contracted during period corporation was in default in filing annual report but if report when filed was false, officers and not directors were liable to creditors for damages resulting therefrom; false report was not same as no report, nor should court refrain from enforcing annual report requirements because statute did not require sufficient facts to apprise public of corporation's financial condition. Mountain States Supply v. Mountain States Feed & Livestock Co., 149 M 198, 425 P 2d 75.

15-22-128. Secretary of state to notify corporation of expiration of existence. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to notify every corporation organized after July 1, 1929, not less than three (3) months, nor more than six (6) months before the date of the expiration of its corporate existence, that its corporate existence is about to expire, which notice shall be given by registered letter addressed to such corporation at its principal place of business, as it appears from the last annual report.

CHAPTER 3—REMOVAL OF COUNTY SEATS

Section
16-302. Submission to electors.
16-305. Publication of result.

16-302. (4370) Submission to electors. If the petition is signed by at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of such county, the board of county commissioners must at the next general election submit the question of removal to the electors of the county; provided, that for the purpose of testing the sufficiency of any petition which may be presented to the county commissioners as provided in this section, the county commissioners shall compare such petition with the pollbooks in the county clerk's office constituting the returns of the last general election held in their county, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such petition bears the names of at least fifty per cent (50%) of the voters listed therein; and if such petition then shows that it has not been signed by at least fifty per cent (50%) of the voters of the county, after deducting from the said original petition the names of all persons who may have signed such original petition, and who may have filed, or caused to be filed, with the county clerk of said county or the board of county commissioners, on or before the date fixed for the hearing, their statement in writing of the withdrawal of their names from the original petition, it shall be deemed insufficient, and the question of the removal of the county seat shall not be submitted.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment changed the signature requirement from 65% of the taxpayers of the county to 50% of the qualified electors; deleted a definition of taxpayers; and deleted provision for comparing the names on the petition with those on the assessment roll.

16-305. (4373) Publication of result. When the returns have been received and compared, and the results ascertained by the board, if a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question have voted in favor of any particular place, the board must give notice of the results by posting notices thereof in all the election precincts of the county, and by publishing a like notice in a newspaper printed in the county at least once a week for four weeks.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment inserted "voting on the question" following "majority of the qualified electors."

CHAPTER 4—LOCATION OF COUNTY SEATS

Section
16-402. Designation of temporary county seat—special election.
16-412. Submission of question of locating permanent county seat to voters—elections.

16-402. (4379) Designation of temporary county seat—special election. (1) to (3). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(4) Provided, however, that at any time within six months after the passage of an act creating a new county, a petition or petitions may be filed with the county clerk of the board of county commissioners of such county asking the board to submit the question of the location of the permanent county seat to the electors of the county at a special election to be called and held in the manner hereinafter in this act provided. Said petition or petitions must contain in the aggregate the names of at least one hundred qualified electors whose names also appear as registered electors in some registration district established and existing in the territory embraced in the new county at the last general election held therein.

(5) The petition or petitions when filed with the board must also have certificates attached thereto from the county clerk of the county in which the person or persons signing the petition resided before the creation of the new county, certifying that the names of the person signing said petition or petitions appear in the registration books of his county containing the names of the electors registered in the last general election in the districts now embraced in the new county.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4379, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 406, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted "qualified electors" in the second sentence of subsection (4) for "taxpayers, whose names appear upon the assessment books containing the last assessment of the property situated in such new county, and"; and deleted "in the last assessment books of his county, and also" before "in the registration books" in subsection (5).

16-405. (4382) Repealed.

Repeal

Section 16-405 (Sec. 5, Ch. 135, L. 1911; Sec. 1, Ch. 119, L. 1971), relating to registration of electors, was repealed by Sec. 58, Ch. 100, Laws 1973. Section 4, Ch. 406, Laws of 1973 purported to amend this section. Such amendment was void under the provisions of section 43-515.

16-412. (4389) Submission of question of locating permanent county seat to voters—elections. Any county heretofore created, in which the permanent county seat has not been located by valid election held for the purpose of locating the permanent county seat of said county, may have a special election, for the purpose of voting on such question, called and held under the provisions of this act, or if no special election is held for such purpose, then said question shall be submitted by the county commissioners at the next general election after the passage of this act and in the manner provided herein for the submission of such questions at general elections; provided, however, that no special election shall be called for the purpose of submitting such question unless a petition or petitions containing in the aggregate the names of one hundred electors of such county, whose names appear on the last registration books of said county, are filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners within six months after the passage and approval of this act.

Upon the filing of such petition or petitions within said time, containing the requisite number of electors, which must be ascertained by the board from the records of said county, said board must immediately call such special election as herein provided.

If registration districts and polling precincts have already been established in said county, they shall remain the same for such special election, but a new registration shall be had and said special election conducted and the result determined as in this act provided.

The provisions of this section shall not apply in any case where there has been a permanent county seat located and maintained for a period of three years from the date immediately subsequent to the date of the approval of this act, whether the same was located by a legal election or otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 135, L. 1911; re-en. Sec. 4389, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 406, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "taxpaying" before "electors" in the proviso to the first paragraph and again in the second paragraph; and deleted "upon the last assessment book, and also" after "whose names appear" in the proviso to the first paragraph.

Every county which shall be enlarged or created from the territory taken from any other county or counties shall be liable for a prorata proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the county or counties from which such territory shall be taken, and shall be entitled to a prorata proportion of the assets of the county or counties from which such territory is taken, to be determined as provided by sections 16-502, 16-503 and 16-511.

(4393) Petition for creation of new county—attached affidavits —notice and hearing. (1) Whenever it is desired to divide any county or counties and form a new county out of a portion of the territory of such then existing county or counties, a petition shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county from which the new county is to be formed, in case said proposed new county is to be formed from but one county, or to the board of county commissioners of the county from which the largest area of territory is proposed to be taken for the formation of such new county, in case said new county is to be formed from portions of two or more existing counties; and such board of county commissioners shall be empowered and have jurisdiction to do and perform all acts provided for to be done or performed in this act, for each of the several counties from which any proposed territory is to be taken, and shall direct that a certified copy of all orders and proceedings had before such board of county commissioners shall be certified by the county clerk to the board of county commissioners of each of the several counties from which any territory is taken by the proposed new county; and all officers of any such county shall comply with the orders of the board of county commissioners, in the same manner as if said order had been duly made by the board of county commissioners of each respective county from which territory is proposed to be taken. Such petition shall be signed by at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of the proposed new county, whose names appear on the official registration books and who are shown thereon to have voted at the last general election preceding the presentation of said petition to the board of county commissioners as herein provided; provided, that in cases where the proposed new county is to be formed from portions of two or more counties, separate petition shall be presented from the territory taken from each county; and each of said separate petitions shall be signed by at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of each of said proposed portions. Such signatures need not all be appended to one paper, but may be signed to several petitions which must be similar in form, and when so signed the several petitions may be fastened together and shall be treated and presented as one petition.

Such petition or petitions so verified, and the verification thereof, shall be accepted in all proceedings permitted or provided for in this act, as prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters and facts therein set forth. Upon the filing of such petition or petitions and affidavits with the clerk of the said board of county commissioners, said clerk shall forthwith fix a date to hear the proof of the said petitions and of any opponents thereto, which date must be not later than thirty days after the filing of such petition with the clerk of said board. The county clerk shall also, at the same time, designate a newspaper of general circulation published in the old counties, but not within the proposed new county, and also a newspaper of general circulation published within the boundaries of the proposed new county, if there be such, in which the said county clerk shall order and cause to be published, at least once a week for two weeks next preceding the date fixed for such hearing, a notice in substantially the following form:

Dated at ..... at ..... Montana.

....., County Clerk.

Said petitioners shall, on or before the date fixed for said hearing, file with the said board of county commissioners a bond to be approved by said board, in an amount of five thousand dollars, payable to the county in which said petition is filed, conditioned that the obligors named in said bond will pay to said county all expenses incurred in the election provided for in this act, not exceeding the amount specified in said bond, in the event that at the election herein provided for more than fifty per cent (50%) of the votes cast at said election are "for the new county of ..... (naming the proposed new county)," "No."

(3). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(4) The board of county commissioners, on the final hearing of such petition or petitions, shall, by a resolution entered on its minutes, determine:

1. * * * [Same as parent volume.]

2. Whether the said petition contains the genuine signatures of at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of the proposed new county as herein required, or in cases where separate petitions are presented from portions of two or more existing counties as herein required, whether each petition is signed by at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of that portion of each of such existing counties which it is proposed to take into the proposed new county.

3 to 8. * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(5) On final hearing the board of commissioners, upon petition of not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors (as shown by the official registration books on the day of the filing of any such petition) of any territory lying within said proposed new county contiguous to the boundary line of the said proposed new county, and of the old county from which such territory is proposed to be taken, and lying entirely within a single old county and described in said petition, asking that said territory be not included within the proposed new county, must make such changes in the proposed boundaries as will exclude such territory from such new county, and shall establish and define such boundaries. On final hearing the board of commissioners, upon petition of not less than fifty per cent of the qualified electors of any territory lying outside said proposed new county, and contiguous to the boundary line of said proposed new county, and of the old county or counties from which such territory is proposed to be included, asking that said territory be included within the proposed new county, must make such changes in the proposed boundaries as will include such territory in such new county, and shall establish and define such boundaries; provided, however, that the segregation of such territory from any old county or counties shall not leave such county or counties with less than twelve million dollars of assessed valuation, based upon the last assessment roll; provided, that no change or changes so made shall result in reducing the valuation of the proposed new county to less than an assessed valuation of ten million dollars, inclusive of all assessed valuation; and provided, further, that no change shall be made which shall leave the territory so excluded separate and apart from and without the county of which it was formerly a part. Petitions for exclusion shall be disposed of in the order in point of time in which they are filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and on final determination of boundaries no changes in the boundaries originally proposed shall be made except as prayed for in said petition or petitions, or to correct clerical errors or uncertainties.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment reduced signature requirements for petitions from 58% to 50% in subsections (1), (2) and (4); increased from 42% to 50% the vote required to defeat the petition in the last paragraph of subsection (2); and deleted the requirement that petitioners be taxpayers from the first sentence of the paragraph preceding the Notice in subsection (2), and from the second sentence of subsection (5).

16-505. (4394) Duty of commissioners when findings justify new county—division into township, road and school districts—change of boundaries of election precincts—election—temporary county seat. (1) If the said board of county commissioners determine that the formation of said proposed new county will not reduce any county from which any territory is taken to an assessed valuation of less than twelve million dollars, inclusive of the assessed valuation, nor the area thereof to less than twelve hundred square miles of surveyed land, and that the proposed new county contains property of an assessed valuation of at least ten million dollars, inclusive of all assessed valuation, and that the proposed new county has an area of at least one thousand square miles of land, and that no line of said proposed new county passes within fifteen miles of the courthouse situate at the county seat of any county proposed to be divided, except as hereinbefore provided, and that said petition contains the genuine signatures of at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of the proposed new county, or in cases where separate petitions are presented from portions of two or more existing counties (as herein required), that each of said petitions contain the genuine signatures of at least fifty per cent (50%) of the qualified electors of that portion of the proposed new county from which it is taken, then the said board of county commissioners shall divide the proposed new county into a convenient number of township, road, and school districts, and define their boundaries and designate the names of such districts.

(2). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(3) Within two weeks after its determination of the truth of the allegations of said petition as aforesaid, the said board of county commissioners shall order and give proclamation and notice of an election to be held on a specified day in the territory which is proposed to be taken for the new county, not less than ninety days nor more than one hundred and twenty days thereafter, for the purpose of determining whether such territory shall be established and organized into a new county; and for the election of officers and location of a county seat therefor, in case the vote at such election shall be in favor of the establishment and organization of such new county. All qualified electors residing within the proposed new county who are qualified electors of the county or counties from which territory is taken to form such proposed new county, and who are registered under the provisions of the registration laws of the state, shall be entitled to vote at said election. Registration and transfers of registration shall be made and shall close in the manner and at a time provided by law for registration and transfers of registration for a general election in the state of Montana.

(4) to (7). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

All returns of election herein provided for shall be made to the board of county commissioners calling such election.

All nominations of candidates for the office required to be filled at said election shall be made in the manner provided by law for the nomination of candidates by petition.

The provisions of the election laws relating to preparation, printing, and distribution of sample ballots, except the provisions of said laws relating to primary elections in this state, shall have application to any election provided for in this act.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 226, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4394, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 406, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment reduced the signature requirement on petitions from 58% to 50% of the qualified electors in subsection (1); and deleted "and who have resided within the limits of the proposed county for a period of more than six months next preceding the day of the election" following "territory is taken to form such proposed new county" in the second sentence of subsection (3).

16-506. (4395) Measures to be taken after election—officers—effect of adverse vote. (1) If, upon the canvass of the votes cast at such election, it appears that more than fifty per cent (50%) of the votes cast are "For the new county of .....," "Yes," the board of county commissioners shall, by a resolution entered upon its minutes, declare such territory duly formed and created as a county of this state, of the class to which the same shall belong, under the name of ..... county, and that the city or town receiving the highest number of votes cast at said election for county seat shall be the county seat of said county until removed in the manner provided by law, and designating and declaring the person receiving respectively the highest number of votes for the several offices to be filled at said election, to be duly elected to such offices. Said board shall forthwith cause a copy of its said resolution, duly certified, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and ninety days from and after the date of such filing said new county shall be deemed to be fully created, and the organization thereof shall be deemed completed, and such officers shall be entitled to enter immediately upon the duties of their respective offices upon qualifying in accordance with law and giving bonds for the faithful performance of their duties, as required by the laws of the state. The clerk of the board of county commissioners with which said petition was filed, as herein provided, must immediately make out and deliver to each of said persons so declared and designated to be elected, a certificate of election authenticated by his signature and the seal of said county. The persons elected members of the board of county commissioners and the county clerk shall immediately, upon receiving their certificates of election, assume the duties of their respective offices.

(2) The board of county commissioners shall have authority to provide a suitable place for the county officers, and to purchase such supplies as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the county government. All other officers take office ninety days after the filing of the resolution herein provided for with the secretary of state. All the officers elected at said election, or appointed under this act, shall hold their offices until the time provided by general law for the election and qualification of such officers in this state, and until their successors are elected and qualified, and for the purpose of determining the term of office of such officers, the years said officers are to hold office are to be computed respectively from and including the first Monday after the first day of January following the last preceding general election. If, however, upon such canvass it appears that more than fifty per cent (50%) of the votes cast at said election are "For the new county of .....," "No," the board of county commissioners canvassing said vote as provided herein shall pass a resolution in accordance therewith, and thereupon the proceedings relating to division of such county or counties shall cease; and no other proceedings in relation to any other division of said old county or counties shall be instituted for at least two years after such determination.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 226, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4395, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 406, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment reduced the votes necessary to create a county from 58% to a simple majority at the beginning of subsection (1); and accordingly increased, in the last sentence of subsection (2), the percentage of the vote necessary to defeat the petition from 42% to more than 50%.

16-514. (4401) School and road funds. The county superintendent of schools of the old county, or each of the old counties, respectively, shall furnish the county superintendent of schools of the new county with a certification of the ANB in the different school districts in the territory set apart to form the new county, and shall certify to the board of county commissioners the amount due; and said board shall order a warrant drawn on the treasurer of the new county for all the money that is or may be due by any apportionment or otherwise to the different school districts embraced in the new county from his county; and the county treasurer shall certify to the county commissioners the amount due in the different road funds, and the county commissioners shall order a warrant drawn on the treasurer of their county in favor of the new county for all money that is or may be due by apportionment or otherwise to the different road and district funds in the territory set apart to form the new county from their county, which said amounts shall be properly credited in both counties. And whenever, in the formation of a new county, a road or school district has been divided, the board of county commissioners shall, by resolution, direct the treasurer to transfer the proper proportionate amount of the money remaining in the fund of such district to the treasurer of the new county.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 226, L. 1919; re-en. Sec. 4401, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 137, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted "a certification of the ANB in the different school districts" for "a certified copy of the last school census of the different school districts" in the early part of the section.

CHAPTER 8—GENERAL POWERS AND LIMITATIONS UPON COUNTIES

Section
16-807. Limit of indebtedness.
16-808. Counties indebted beyond statutory limit may operate on cash basis.

16-807. (4447) Limit of indebtedness. No county must become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum of the assessed value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, and all bonds or obligations in excess of such amount given by or on behalf of such county are void. No county must incur any indebtedness or liability for any single purpose to an amount exceeding forty thousand dollars ($40,000) without the approval of a majority of the electors thereof voting at an election to be provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 4196, Pol. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 2876, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 4447, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 486, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment inserted "assessed" before "value of the taxable property therein" in the middle of the first sentence; and increased the amount specified in the second sentence from $10,000 to $40,000.

16-808. (4447.1) Counties indebted beyond statutory limit may operate on cash basis. That in case the total indebtedness of a county, lawful when incurred, by reason of great diminution of assessed value exceeds the limit of five per centum (5%) it shall be lawful for said county and it is hereby authorized and empowered to thereafter manage and conduct its business affairs on a cash basis and pay the reasonable and necessary current expenses of said county out of the cash in the county treasury and derived from its current revenue, and under such restrictions and regulations as may be imposed by the board of county commissioners of said county by a resolution duly adopted and spread upon the minutes of said board; provided, however, that nothing herein shall restrict the right of said board to make the necessary tax levies for interest and sinking fund purposes, and provided further that nothing herein shall affect the right of any creditor of said county to pursue any remedy now given him by law to obtain payment of his claim.

(2) Upon the conclusion of such hearing the board shall first determine and fix the amount which it is estimated will accrue to each fund during the fiscal year from all sources, except the taxation of property, but in so doing the board shall not include any amount which it is anticipated may be received during the fiscal year from the payment of taxes which became delinquent during any preceding fiscal year, or years. The board shall then determine and fix separately the amount appropriated for and authorized to be expended for each item in the budget and shall specify the fund or funds against which warrants are to be drawn and issued for each item in the budget and shall specify the fund or funds against which warrants are to be drawn and issued for the expenditures so authorized; provided that there shall not be added to the amount to be appropriated and authorized to be expended for any item, or to the total amount appropriated and authorized to be expended from any fund any amount or percentage whatever because of any anticipated loss of revenue by reason of the nonpayment of taxes levied for such fiscal year; and provided further that the amount appropriated and authorized to be expended for any item contained in such budget, except for salaries which must not exceed by more than ten per centum (10%) the amount appropriated and authorized for such item under the appropriation contained in the budget approved and adopted for the fiscal year immediately preceding and except for capital outlay, election expenses, expenditures from county poor funds, and payment of emergency warrants and interest thereof, must not exceed by more than five per centum (5%) the amount appropriated and authorized for such item under the appropriation contained in the budget approved and adopted for the fiscal year immediately preceding, and the total amount appropriated and authorized to be expended from any fund, except for capital outlay, election expenses and payment of emergency warrants and interest thereon, shall not exceed by more than five per centum (5%) the total amount appropriated and authorized for all purposes, except for salaries which must not exceed ten per centum (10%) the amount appropriated and authorized from such fund under the appropriation made from such fund in the budget adopted for the fiscal year immediately preceding and except for capital outlay, election expenses, expenditures from county poor funds, and payment of emergency warrants, from such fund under the appropriation made from such fund in the budget approved and adopted for the fiscal year immediately preceding, provided further that the foregoing limitations shall not apply to appropriations and expenditures authorized to be made from the county poor fund for payment of bonds and emergency warrants and interest thereon; and provided further that the total expenditures authorized to be made from any fund, including reserve added thereto as hereinafter provided, shall not, in any event, exceed the aggregate of the cash balance in such fund at the close of the fiscal year immediately preceding, the amount of estimated revenues to accrue to such funds, as determined and fixed in the manner herein provided, and the amount which may be raised for such fund by a lawful tax levy during the fiscal year.

(3) The board shall then determine and fix the amount to be raised for each fund by tax levy by adding together the cash balance in the fund at the close of the fiscal year immediately preceding and the amount of the estimated revenues, if any to accrue thereto during the current fiscal year, as before ascertained and determined, and then deducting the total amount so obtained from the total amount of the appropriations and authorized expenditures from the fund as determined and fixed by said board, the amount remaining being the amount necessary to be raised for the fund by tax levy during the current fiscal year; provided that the board may add to the amount so found necessary to be raised for any fund by tax levy during the current fiscal year, an additional amount as a reserve to meet and care for expenditures to be made from such fund during the months of July to November, inclusive, of the next ensuing fiscal year under the annual budget to be thereafter adopted for such next ensuing fiscal year, but the amount which may be so added to any fund, as such reserve for such purpose, shall not exceed one-third of the total amount appropriated and authorized to be expended from such fund during the current fiscal year, after deducting from the amount of such appropriations and authorized expenditures the total amount, if any, therein appropriated and authorized to be expended for election expenses and payment of emergency warrants; provided further that the total amount, to be raised by tax levy for any fund, during such current fiscal year, including the amount of such reserve and any amount for payment of election expenses and emergency warrants, must not exceed the total amount which may be raised for such fund by a tax levy which does not exceed the maximum levy permitted by law to be made for such fund.

If the cash balance remaining in any of the several county funds, except the school fund, at the end of a fiscal year, exceeds the amount to be budgeted to that fund, such excess may be transferred to other funds as the county commissioners deem for the best interest of the county after a public hearing. Notice of said hearing must be given not less than thirty (30) days prior to said hearing by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county and by posting in five (5) public places. Said notice must state the date, time and place of said hearing and state generally the purpose and proposed use of said funds.

16-2010. (4630.3) Limitation on amount of bonds—issuance in excess of limitations void. No county shall issue bonds for any purpose which, with all outstanding bonds and warrants, except county high school bonds and emergency bonds, will exceed two and one-half per centum (2½%) of the value of the taxable property therein, to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the issuance of such bonds; provided, however, that a county may issue bonds which, with all outstanding bonds and warrants will exceed two and one-half per centum (2½%), but will not exceed five per centum (5%) of the value of such taxable property, when necessary to do so for the purpose of acquiring land for a site for county high school buildings and for erecting or acquiring buildings thereon and furnishing and equipping the same for county high school purposes; provided, however, that this act shall not be construed to extend limitations on bonded indebtedness for county high school purposes, as fixed by section 75-4114, and acts amendatory thereof; and further provided, that the foregoing limitations shall not apply to refunding bonds issued for the purpose of paying or retiring county bonds lawfully issued prior to January 1, 1932. All bonds issued by any county in excess of the limitations herein fixed shall be null and void.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by ch. 100, and once by ch. 391. The amendments were identical.

Section 75-4114, referred to in this section, was repealed by Sec. 1, Ch. 83, Laws 1951.

Amendments

The 1973 amendments deleted a final sentence reading: "The words 'value of the taxable property,' as used in this section, are used in the same sense as in section 5 of article XIII, of the constitution, and shall be given the same meaning and construction."

16-2011. (4630.4) Term of bonds—power to redeem—maximum interest. No bonds issued for any of the purposes designated in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), of section 16-2008, shall be for a longer term than twenty (20) years; no bonds issued for any of the purposes designated in subdivisions (d), or (e), of section 16-2008, shall be for a longer term than ten (10) years.

The following limitations as to term shall apply to all bonds issued under subdivision (f) of section 16-2008; No bonds shall be issued for a longer term than ten (10) years, provided, that if the unexpired term of the bonds to be refunded shall be more than ten (10) years then, in such event, the refunding bonds may be issued for such unexpired term; or if such ten (10) year term will require an annual tax levy for payment of such refunding bonds exceeding ten (10) mills on all property subject to taxation in the county, then, in such event, the term may be so extended as to reduce the required annual levy to ten (10) mills, provided, however, that the term shall not under any circumstances exceed twenty (20) years.

No bonds issued for any of the purposes designated in subdivision (g) of section 16-2008 shall be for a longer term than five (5) years.

Bonds issued for any of the purposes designated in subdivisions (h) and (i) of section 16-2008 shall not be for a longer term than will be required to repay the bonds with interest through a tax levy of ten (10) mills on all the property within the county subject to taxation and the term shall not exceed twenty (20) years. The length of the term required shall be estimated and calculated by the board of county commissioners based upon the percentage of valuation of the property upon which taxes are levied and paid within such county as ascertained from the last completed assessment for state and county taxes taking into account probable changes in the taxable valuation and losses in tax collections, provided, however, that irrespective of any miscalculation by the county commissioners in fixing the term of the bonds the county must from year to year make a sufficient tax levy to pay the interest and installments on principal on the bonds as the same fall due.

All bonds issued for a longer term than five (5) years shall be redeemable at the option of the county on any interest payment date after one-half (½) of the term for which they were issued has expired and it shall be so stated on the face of the bonds. The maximum rate of interest which any of such bonds may bear shall be seven per cent (7%) per annum and shall be payable semiannually.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment increased the maximum rate of interest on bonds authorized to be issued under this chapter from 6% to 7% per annum; and made a minor change in phraseology.

The 1973 amendment substituted "after one-half (½) of the term for which they were issued has expired" in the final paragraph for "five (5) years from the date of issue"; and made minor changes in phraseology.

16-2021. (4630.7) Petition and election required for bonds issued for other purposes. County bonds for any other purpose than those enumerated in section 16-2013 shall not be issued unless authorized at a duly called special or general election at which the question of issuing such bonds was submitted to the qualified electors of the county and approved, as provided in section 16-2027; and no such bond election shall be called unless there has been presented to the board of county commissioners a petition, asking that such election be held and such question be submitted, signed by not less than twenty per centum (20%) of the qualified electors of the county.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 188, L. 1931; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 158, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted "who are taxpayers upon property within the county and whose names appear on the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes" from the end of the section.

16-2022. (4630.8) Form, contents and proof of petition. Every petition for the calling of an election to vote upon the question of issuing county bonds shall plainly and clearly state the purpose or purposes for which the proposed bonds are to be issued, and shall contain an estimate of the amount necessary to be issued for such purpose or purposes. There may be a separate petition for each purpose, or two (2) or more purposes may be combined in one (1) if each purpose, with an estimate of the amount of bonds necessary to be issued therefor, is separately stated in such petition. Such petition may consist of one (1) sheet, or of several sheets identical in form and fastened together after being circulated and signed so as to form a single complete petition before being delivered to the county clerk as hereinafter provided. The petition shall give the post-office address and voting precinct of each person signing the same.

Only persons who are qualified to sign such petitions shall be qualified to circulate the same, and there shall be attached to the completed petition the affidavit of some person who circulated, or assisted in circulating such petition, that he believes the signatures thereon are genuine and that the signers knew the contents thereof before signing the same. The completed petition shall be filed with the county clerk who shall, within fifteen (15) days thereafter, carefully examine the same and the county records showing the qualifications of the petitioners, and attach thereto a certificate under his official signature and the seal of his office, which certificate shall set forth:

(1) The total number of persons who are registered electors.

(2) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(3) Whether such qualified signers constitute more or less than twenty per centum (20%) of the registered electors of the county.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 188, L. 1931; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 158, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted "and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes" from the end of subdivision (1); substituted "registered electors of the county" at the end of subdivision (3) for "registered electors whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes"; and made a minor change in phraseology.

16-2026. (4630.12) Registration. Upon the adoption of the resolution calling for the election, the county clerk must cause to be published in the official newspaper of the county a notice, signed by him, stating that registration for such bond election will close at noon on the fifteenth day prior to the date for holding such election and at that time the registration books shall be closed for such election. Such notice must be published at least ten (10) days prior to the day when such registration books will be closed.

After the closing of the registration books for such election the county clerk shall promptly prepare lists of the registered electors of such voting precinct who are entitled to vote at such election, and shall prepare precinct registers for such election, as provided in section 23-3012, and deliver the same to the judges of election prior to the opening of the polls. It shall not be necessary to publish or post such list of qualified electors.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted from the beginning of the section a sentence reading "In all county bond elections hereafter held only qualified registered electors residing within the county, who are taxpayers upon property therein and whose names appear upon the last completed assessment roll for state, county and school district taxes, shall have the right to vote"; deleted "who are taxpayers upon property within the county and whose names appear on the last completed assessment roll for state, county and school district taxes, and" before "who are entitled to vote" in the first sentence of the second paragraph; and substituted a reference to section 23-3012 for a reference to section 23-515.

16-2032. (4630.18) Sale of bonds. The board of county commissioners shall meet at the time and place fixed in the notice to consider bids for the bonds. The bonds shall be sold at not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery, and each bidder shall specify the form of bonds to be issued, whether amortization or serial, and the rate of interest at which he will purchase the bonds. A bid for amortization bonds shall have the preference over a bid for serial bonds, all other things being equal, and in determining the kind of bonds to be issued the board shall take into consideration not only the rate of interest demanded on each kind, but also all other known elements affecting the interests of the county, and for the board shall accept the bid which they shall judge most advantageous to the county. No attorney fees, brokerage or other fees, or commission of any kind shall be paid to any person or corporation for assisting in the proceedings, or in the preparation of the bonds, or in negotiating the sale thereof. The board is authorized to reject any or all bids and to sell the bonds at private sale if they deem it for the best interests of the county; provided, however, that such bonds shall not be sold at less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery.

16-2041. (4630.27) County bond funds. The county treasurer of each county shall keep in his books a special and separate sinking and interest fund account for each series or issue of outstanding bonds issued by his county, and each such fund must at all times show the exact condition thereof. All taxes collected for interest and principal on county bonds shall be placed to the credit of the sinking and interest fund for which the same were levied, and such fund shall not be used for any purpose other than the payment of principal and interest on such bonds so long as any of such bonds remain outstanding. Provided, however, that interest from investment of moneys of the sinking and interest fund accounts of the bonds of any series or issue may, in the discretion of the board of county commissioners, be used as it accrues to fulfill or complete the specific project for which the bonds were issued. When all bonds of any series or issue, with the interest thereon, have been fully paid, or called in for payment, and there remains in the sinking and interest fund for such series or issue any amount not required for the payment of such bonds and interest, or not used as above provided, such excess amount and all amounts subsequently collected for such fund shall be transferred to the general fund of the county, or to the sinking and interest fund of any other series or issue of bonds outstanding that the board of county commissioners may designate.

Such amortization bonds shall conform in all respects to the definition of amortization bonds as set forth in section 16-2012, and shall bear interest at such rate as may be agreed upon between the board of county commissioners and the state board of land commissioners. Such amortization bonds may be issued and exchanged for such outstanding bonds without submitting the question of issuing the same to an election, and it shall not be necessary to publish any notice of sale of such bonds. This section shall not be construed so as to deprive boards of county commissioners of the right to advertise, sell and issue refunding bonds in the manner provided by this act.

Cross-References

16-2050. (4639.1) Investment of special moneys in county warrants—investment of school district or county high school moneys. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, whenever the county has under its control any moneys, for which there is no immediate demand, in any special fund subject to deposit which in the judgment of the board of county commissioners it would be advantageous to invest in county warrants, the county commissioners are authorized in their discretion to direct the county treasurer to purchase county warrants of the same county, thereafter issued against funds in which there is not sufficient money to pay such county warrants at the time of issuance, and in case of such purchase the county commissioners shall designate the fund or funds, to be so invested, and shall fix the amount thereof, and shall also designate the county warrant or warrants which are to be purchased by such funds. The county clerk and recorder shall thereupon cause to be attached to or stamped, written or printed upon the warrants so ordered to be purchased a notice to the effect that the county will exercise its preference right to purchase such warrant. The county treasurer shall thereafter when such county warrant is presented to him, purchase the same out of the proper fund as designated by the board of county commissioners, and the warrant so purchased shall be registered as other county warrants, and bear interest as provided by law. When the designated amounts have been invested the county treasurer shall notify the county clerk and recorder. Public funds realized from the sale of bonds by a county for the purpose of constructing public buildings, or for other construction, may be invested in any time or savings deposits, United States certificates of indebtedness, United States treasury notes or United States treasury bonds having a maturity date of one (1) year or less when emergency conditions, beyond the control of the county commissioners, exist which preclude the construction of the projects for which the bonds were issued at the time such investments are made. Interest earned from such investments, including interest on the sale of bonds accrued in the period between the date of issue and the time of purchase, shall be credited to the sinking fund of the county, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (6) of section 16-2618.

(2) Whenever the county has under its control any moneys realized from the sale of bonds by a school district or county high school for the purpose of construction, for which there is no immediate demand, which in the judgment of the governing body of the school district or county high school it would be advantageous to invest in any time or savings deposits or in short-term obligations of the United States of America, such governing body may in its discretion direct the county treasurer to make such investments. Interest earned from such investments, except interest on the sale of bonds accrued in the period between the date of issue and the time of purchase which must be credited to the sinking fund, may be credited to the sinking fund of the said school district or county high school, provided that in the event construction of said buildings is delayed for a period longer than six (6) months due to court action or other causes beyond the control of the trustees, the trustees may direct that interest earned be credited to the fund from which the money was withdrawn. The trustees may authorize expenditures from interest earned, except as provided above, for furnishing and equipping the buildings for which the bonds were sold.

(3) No provision of this section may be construed to prevent the investment of county, school district, or county high school moneys under the state unified investment program established in Title 79, chapter 3.

The 1969 amendment added the last sentence to subsection (1); inserted "except interest * * * must be credited to the sinking fund" after "such investments," substituted "may be credited" for "shall be credited," deleted "notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (6) of section 16-2618" at the end of the second sentence and added the proviso; and added the third sentence to subsection (2).

The 1973 amendment added subsection (3).

CHAPTER 23—VOTE NECESSARY ON PROPOSAL TO RAISE MONEY

16-2306. (4722) Form of ballots—voting.

Modification of Project

Referendum ballot for approval or disapproval of bond issue to provide funds for construction of a sports arena was not so misleading as to make a vote meaningless where the ballot provided that the funds were to be used for: (1) construction of a multi-use building; (2) construction cost of which was three million dollars; (3) issuance of bonds not to exceed twenty years; (4) equipping said building; (5) locating the same at the Midland Empire Fairgrounds; (6) a seating capacity of at least 10,000 persons; (7) an arena area of approximately 250 feet by 400 feet. Modification of the dimensions of the arena area from 250 feet by 400 feet to 350 feet by 350 feet was within the discretion of the board of county commissioners. Murphy v. In the event said person is committed to jail by the highway patrol bureau, department of justice, the state of Montana shall upon claim presented for the county by the clerk and recorder pay into the county treasury of the county the actual expenses incurred or the sum of five dollars ($5) per day, whichever is less, for each and every prisoner held in the county jail upon order or commitment of the highway patrol bureau or any department or officer thereof. For the purposes of this act, a day shall be defined as a twenty-four (24) hour period or portion thereof, beginning with the time of incarceration. Such claims upon the highway patrol bureau, department of justice, shall be paid to the various counties out of funds appropriated for that purpose. If in the opinion of the sheriff any prisoner, while detained, requires medication, medical services or hospitalization, the expense of the same shall be borne by the agency or authority at whose instance the prisoner is detained when the agency or authority is not the county wherein the prisoner is being detained. The county attorney shall initiate proceedings to collect any charges arising from such medical services or hospitalization for the prisoner involved if it is determined the prisoner is financially able to pay.

16-4205. Hearing—objections to district—creation of district. At the time fixed for said hearing, the commissioners shall determine whether or not the petition complies with the requirements hereinbefore set forth, and whether or not the notice required herein has been published and posted as required. Said hearing may be adjourned from time to time for determination of facts, but no adjournment shall exceed two (2) weeks in all from and after the date originally noticed and published for the hearing. Upon reconvening, the commissioners shall define and establish such boundaries as are advisable. Provided,

If any such petition for enlargement of an existing district is presented, the board of county commissioners shall set a time for hearing thereon and shall cause notice thereof to be given in the manner provided by section 16-4204. If, upon such hearing, the commissioners believe it to be to the best interests of the area and those resident therein that such area be annexed to the district, they shall by an order duly made and entered on their minutes, declare the area in question to be annexed to the district, and such annexed area shall thenceforth be considered a part of such district for all purposes as thereof originally included therein. If fifty-one per cent (51%) or more of the qualified electors of the area proposed to be annexed to the district file their objection to the creation of such district, the commissioners shall not act on such petition. If such additional area is added, such territory shall be subject to the tax authorized by this act together with the pre-existing area of the district. Such tax shall be uniform for the area added and the territory in the district as enlarged.

If the district is partly in one (1) county and partly in another county, notice must be posted in each county but not three (3) places in each county, and notice must be published in the official newspaper of each county. If upon such hearing, the commissioners find such petition to be sufficient and that the district is not indebted in any amount beyond the funds immediately available to extinguish all of its debts and obligations, and that there is good reason for the dissolution of such district, the commissioners shall enter upon their minutes an order dissolving such district. The effective date of such dissolution shall be set by the commissioners at such time within the fiscal year as best conforms with the operations of the county budget providing that before the dissolution shall be effective for all purposes, the mosquito control board of the district shall certify to the commissioners that all debts and obligations of the district have been paid, discharged, or irrevocably settled together with legal proof thereof. 16-4302. Petition to board of county commissioners. Proceedings for creation of a hospital district shall be initiated by a petition, signed by not less than thirty per centum (30%) of the qualified electors of the proposed hospital district, who are taxpayers upon property within the proposed hospital district and whose names appear on the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes. The petition may consist of one (1) sheet or several sheets identical in form and fastened together after being circulated and signed so as to form a single, complete petition before being delivered to the county clerk. The petition shall give the post-office address and voting precinct of each petitioner. Only persons who are qualified to sign such petitions shall be qualified to circulate the same, and there shall be attached to the complete petition the affidavit of some person who circulated or assisted in circulating the petition, that he believes the signatures thereon are genuine and the signers knew the contents thereof before signing the same. The complete petition, addressed to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the proposed district is situated, shall be filed with the county clerk, who shall within fifteen (15) days thereafter, carefully examine the same and the county records showing the qualifications of the petitioners, and attach it to a certificate under his official signature and the seal of his office, which certificate shall set forth:

(3) Whether such qualified signers constitute more or less than thirty per cent (30%) of the registered electors of the proposed hospital district who are taxpayers upon property thereon and whose names appear on the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes. The county clerk shall present the petition and his certificate to the board of county commissioners at its first meeting held after he has attached his certificate. The board shall thereupon carefully examine the petition and, if it is found that the petition is in proper form and bears the requisite number of signatures of qualified petitioners, the board shall by resolution call a hearing on the creation of such hospital district. A notice of such hearing shall be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the territory within the boundaries of the proposed hospital district, once each week for at least two (2) weeks, the last publication to be at least two (2) weeks before the hearing. If there is no newspaper having general circulation within the boundaries of the proposed hospital district, the notice of hearing shall be posted in at least three (3) public places within the boundaries of the proposed district for two (2) weeks before the hearing. The notice shall state the time, date, place and purpose of the hearing, describe the boundaries of the proposed hospital district, and state that any person residing in or owning property within the proposed hospital district may appear in support of or in opposition to the petition at such hearing.

16-4304. Reference of creation of district at election. The board of county commissioners, upon completion of the hearing hereinabove provided for, shall thereupon proceed by resolution to refer the question of the creation of such district to the persons qualified to vote on such proposition. Said board, in its resolution of reference, may make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it may deem advisable, without, however, including any additional lands not described in the petition, and it shall call an election, upon the question of the creation of the district.

The board must, in its resolution, designate whether a special election shall be held, or whether the matter shall be determined at the next general election. If a special election is ordered, the board must, in its order, specify the date for such election, the voting places, and shall appoint and designate judges and clerks therefor. The election shall be held in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws; provided that if a special election is held the polls shall be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., on the day appointed for such election. At such election, the ballots must contain the words "Hospital District, Yes" and "Hospital District, No." The judges of the election shall certify to the board of county commissioners the results of said election. No person shall be qualified to vote at such election who has not attained legal age, who is not an owner of property within the boundaries of said district as defined by the board, and whose name does not appear on the last completed assessment roll of the county. Only qualified, registered electors residing within the proposed hospital district, who are taxpayers upon property therein and whose names appear on the last completed assessment roll for state and county taxes shall have the right to vote on the question of the creation of the hospital district.

In the event that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of the creation and establishment of said hospital district, the board of county commissioners shall, within ten (10) days after the election, by resolution certify such result, and proceed with the organization of such district as herein specified. After twenty (20) days from the passage of such resolution, the validity of the creation of such hospital district and the regularity of all proceedings preliminary thereto, shall not be questioned or asserted in any legal action.

The trustees must be elected from among the registered electors qualified to vote at general elections within said district. The first board of trustees shall be elected at the same election held upon the creation of the district, subject to the creation thereof, shall qualify upon the organization of the district, if created, and the trustees may be nominated and have their names appear upon the ballots upon the filing with the board of county commissioners of a petition signed by any five (5) qualified electors of the district. Any elector may sign as many nominating petitions as there are persons to be elected. The trustees elected for the first board shall serve for terms commencing upon their being elected and qualified and terminating one (1), two (2) and three (3) years respectively, from the first Monday in May following their election, and until their respective successors shall be elected and qualify. Annually thereafter there may be elected a trustee to serve for a term of three (3) years and until his successor shall be qualified and such term of three (3) years shall commence on the first Monday in May following the said trustee's election. All elections and nominations for election of trustees thereafter, shall be conducted by said qualified voters in the same manner as provided by the laws of the state of Montana for the election of school trustees of a second or third class school district, provided that wherever in the said laws of the state of Montana it is provided that certain action shall be performed or filings made with the clerk of the school board, the trustees or the board of trustees of the school district or the county superintendent of schools, the same shall, for the purposes of this act, be taken to refer to the clerk of the board of trustees of the public hospital district, the trustees or the board of trustees of the public hospital district or the county clerk, respectively. If there is no nomination petition filed it shall not be necessary to hold an election but the board of county commissioners shall appoint a trustee to fill the term, the term to be the same as if the trustee were elected. The trustees at their first meeting shall adopt bylaws for the government and management of the district, and shall appoint a qualified person to serve as clerk of the said board, who may or may not be one of their number. The trustees shall serve without pay. A vacancy upon the board of trustees, or in the office of clerk shall be filled by appointment by the remaining members and the appointee shall serve until the next ensuing election for trustees.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment, in the first sentence, substituted "registered electors residing in the district" for "persons within the district who have the same qualifications as voters upon the question of

'creation of the district' "; divided the former second sentence into the present second and fifth sentences; in the second sentence, substituted "registered electors qualified to vote at general elections" for "freeholders residing within said district"; and rearranged the order of the sentences.

The 1971 amendment substituted "may" for "shall" in the sixth sentence; inserted the present eighth sentence, providing for the appointment of a trustee for a hospital district when no nominations are submitted; and made minor changes in punctuation and phraseology.

16-4308. Powers of district. A hospital district shall have all powers necessary and convenient to the acquisition, betterment, operation, maintenance and administration of such hospital facilities as its board of trustees shall deem necessary and expedient. Without limitation on the foregoing general grant of powers, a hospital district, acting by its board of trustees, may:

(1) Employ nursing, administrative, and other personnel, legal counsel, engineers, architects, accountants, and other qualified persons, who may be paid for their services by monthly salaries, hourly wages, and pension benefits, or by such fees as may be agreed upon;

(2) Cause reports, plans, studies, and recommendations to be prepared;

(3) Lease, purchase, and contract for the purchase of real and personal property by option, contract for deed, conditional sales contract, or otherwise, and acquire real or personal property by gift;

(4) Lease or construct, equip and furnish necessary buildings and grounds and maintain the same;

(5) Adopt, by resolution, rules and regulations for the operation and administration of any and all hospital facilities under its control, and for the admission of persons thereto;

(6) Impose by resolution, and collect charges for all services and facilities provided and made available by it;

(7) Levy taxes as hereinafter prescribed;

(8) Borrow money and issue bonds as hereinafter prescribed;

(9) Procure insurance against liability of the district or its officers and employees or both, for torts committed within the scope of their official duties, whether governmental or proprietary, and against damage to or destruction of any of its facilities, equipment, or other property;

(10) Sell or lease any of its facilities or equipment as may be deemed expedient;

(11) Cause audits to be made of its accounts, books, vouchers, and funds by competent public accountants. Such a hospital district must admit to its facilities persons without regard to race, color, or sex, but such obligation shall not prevent the board of trustees of such hospital district from establishing reasonable minimum rates for hospital quarters, services and supplies; indigents needing such services, and for the rendition of which provision is made by the laws of Montana, must be admitted to such public hospitals, on terms and rates prescribed or authorized by law. A hospital district may borrow money by the issuance of its bonds to provide funds for payment of part or all of the cost of acquisition, furnishing, equipment, improvement, extension and betterment of hospital facilities, and to provide an adequate working capital for a new hospital, but the amount of bonds issued for such purpose and outstanding at any time shall not exceed five per cent (5%) of taxable property therein, as ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the issuance of such bonds. Such bonds shall be authorized, sold, issued and provision made for their payment in the manner and subject to the conditions and limitations prescribed for bonds of second or third class school districts by sections 75-3903 through 75-3934. Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude the provisions of sections 69-5301 through 69-5313 allowing the state to apply for and accept federal funds.

16-4309. Budget and tax levy. The board of hospital trustees shall, annually, present their budget to the board of county commissioners at the regular budget meetings as prescribed by law, and therewith certify the amount of money necessary and proper for the ensuing year. The board of county commissioners must, annually, at the time of levying county taxes, fix and levy a tax, in mills, upon all property within said hospital district clearly sufficient to raise the amount certified by the board of hospital trustees. The tax so levied for all hospital district purposes other than payment of bonded indebtedness shall not in any year exceed three (3) mills on each dollar of taxable valuation of property within said district.

The 1969 amendment inserted "for all hospital district purposes other than payment of bonded indebtedness" after "The tax so levied" in the last sentence.

16-4310. Tax collections and funds. The procedures for the collection of the tax shall be in accordance with the existing laws of the state of Montana. The funds collected under the tax levy shall be held by the county treasurer who shall be, ex officio, the treasurer for the hospital district and such treasurer shall keep a detailed account of all tax moneys paid into the fund, of all other moneys from any source received by the district, and of all payments and disbursements from the fund. Funds shall be paid out on warrants issued by direction of the board of trustees, signed by the majority of its membership.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment substituted the caption "Tax collections and fines" for "Regulations"; and deleted the former first sentence which read, "The trustees shall make proper rules and regulations for the management of such hospitals."

16-4311. Withdrawal of portion of district, petition for. Any portion of a public hospital district may be withdrawn therefrom as in this section provided, upon receipt of a petition signed by fifty-one per centum (51%) of the taxpayers, or more, residing in and owning property within the area desired to be withdrawn from any public hospital district, on the grounds that such area will not be benefited by remaining in said district. The board of county commissioners shall, upon the filing of such a petition, fix a time for the hearing of such withdrawal petition which time shall not be more than four (4) weeks after the receipt thereof. The board shall, at least two (2) weeks prior to the time so fixed, publish a notice of such hearing in two (2) successive issues of a newspaper published in the county. No petition for withdrawal shall be entertained or acted upon by the board, unless the same is filed before the first Monday in March of any year. Any person interested may appear at said hearing and present objections to the withdrawal of said portion from said district. The board shall consider the petition and all objections thereto, and pass upon the merits thereof, and make its order in accordance therewith. Any withdrawal shall be effective as of March 1 following the issuance of the withdrawal order. Such order is subject to review by the district court of the county, and appeal may be taken from the final judgment of such district court to the supreme court of Montana. All taxable property within the withdrawn area shall remain subject to taxation for any bonded indebtedness of the hospital district existing as of the effective date of the withdrawal, to the same extent as it would have been subject if not withdrawn.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment inserted the seventh sentence and added the last sentence.

16-4312. Alteration of boundaries—annexation. The boundaries of any such public hospital district may be altered and outlying districts be annexed from territory contiguous thereto in the following manner: A petition signed by ten per centum (10%) or more freeholders within the territory proposed to be annexed, or by a majority of such freeholders if there are less than twenty-five (25) residing within the area proposed to be annexed, designating the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed and asking that it be annexed to said public hospital district, shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which said public hospital district is situated. At the first regular meeting after the presentation of said petition, said board of county commissioners shall cause notice of said petition to be published in two (2) successive issues of a newspaper published in the county prior to the date fixed by said board for the hearing of said petition, which date shall be not less than four (4) weeks after the filing of such petition. Upon the date fixed for such hearing or continuance thereof, said board shall take up and consider said petition and any objections which may be filed to the inclusion of any additional area or territory in said district. Said board of county commissioners shall have the power by order entered on its minutes to grant said petition either in whole or in part, and by order entered on its minutes to alter the boundaries of said public hospital district and to annex thereto all, or such portion of said area or territory described in said petition as will be benefited thereby. This territory shall become and be a part of such public hospital district on the date fixed in the order of annexation, and shall be subject to the taxes authorized by this act, including taxes for any pre-existing indebtedness, together with the pre-existing area of said district, and such taxes shall be uniform for the whole area and territory in the district, as enlarged.

The 1969 amendment, in the last sentence, inserted "on the date fixed in the order of annexation," substituted "taxes" for "tax" in two instances, and inserted "including taxes for any pre-existing indebtedness."

16-4313. Dissolution of district. At any time after five (5) years from the date any public hospital district is created, such district may be dissolved upon presentation to the board of county commissioners of a petition signed by at least fifty-one per centum (51%) of the owners of property lying within such district as shown by the last completed assessment roll. Upon the filing of such petition, the board of county commissioners shall set a time for hearing the same and shall cause notice thereof to be posted in at least three (3) separate public places within said district for at least two (2) weeks prior to the hearing, and which notice shall, also, be published for at least two (2) successive issues in a newspaper published in the county prior to such hearing. If upon such hearing the commissioners find such petition to be sufficient and that the district is not indebted in any amount beyond funds immediately available to extinguish all of its debts and obligations and that there is good reason for the dissolution of such district, the commissioners shall enter upon their minutes an order dissolving such district. Such order shall be filed, of record, and the dissolution shall be effective for all purposes six (6) months after the date of filing said order of dissolution, providing that at or before such time the board of trustees of said district certifies to the board of county commissioners that all debts and obligations of the district have been paid, discharged or irrevocably settled, together with legal proof thereof. Any assets of the district remaining after all debts and obligations of the district have been paid, discharged or irrevocably settled, shall become the property of the county.

Under the elected executive plan an ordinance or resolution shall become effective upon approval by the county executive, expiration of such ten (10) days without approval or veto, or the overriding of a veto.

16-5018. Performance of duties in absence of county executive or manager. In case of absence or disability of the county executive or manager as determined by the board of county commissioners, his duties shall be performed during his absence or disability by whomsoever the board of county commissioners designates by resolution.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 123, L. 1973.

16-5019. Compensation established by county board—manager—executive. (1) The board of county commissioners shall establish a schedule of compensation for officers and employees which shall provide uniform compensation for like service, and such compensation shall be commensurate with and comparable to the compensation for a like service in commercial business. The schedule of compensation may establish a minimum and maximum for any class, and an increase in compensation, with the limits provided for by any class, may be granted at any time by the county manager, county executive or other appointing authority upon the basis of efficiency and seniority records. None of the provisions of the law of this state with regard to the appointment or compensation of deputy county officers shall apply hereto.

(2) In the manager plan, the compensation of the county manager shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners.

(3) In the elected county executive plan, the compensation of the county executive shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners one (1) year prior to the county executive's term of office. In the first year, after adopting the county executive form of county government, the compensation for the county executive shall be one hundred fifty per cent (150%) of that amount established for a member of the board of county commissioners in that county, figured on the basis of the commissioners working full time.

MONTANA REVISED CODES

TITLE 17—DAMAGES AND RELIEF

CHAPTER 2—COMPENSATORY RELIEF—DAMAGES—INTEREST—EXEMPLARY DAMAGES

17-201. (8659) Person suffering detriment may recover damages.

Disability Insurance Policy

Insured was entitled to sue insurance company for actual damages for default on policy requiring it to pay car installments upon insured's disability as well as for exemplary damages since default was oppressive, malicious, or fraudulent, and in violation of statute requiring prompt payment of claim. State ex rel. Larson v. District Court, 149 M 131, 423 P 2d 598, distinguished in 157 M 40, 482 P 2d 567.

17-204. (8662) Person entitled to recover damages may recover interest, etc.

Pre-judgment Interest

Pre-judgment interest on a wrongful death claim is forbidden. Wyant v. Dunn, 140 M 181, 368 P 2d 917; Daly v. Swift & Co., 90 M 52, 300 P 265; Ryan v. Ford Motor Co., 334 F Supp 674.

Time Interest Commences Running

Interest commenced running upon filing of complaint against surety company on bond where no demand had been made on surety until filing of complaint; such interest was due notwithstanding surety's contention that since damages were not certain until time of filing of judgment, it could not be charged with interest from time of filing of complaint. Lapke v. Hunt, 151 M 450, 443 P 2d 493.

17-205. (8663) In actions other than contract.

Conflicts

The conflicts principle requiring application of the law of the place of the tort for questions of pre-judgment interest has been followed by most courts. Ryan v. Ford Motor Co., 334 F Supp 674.

17-208. (8666) Exemplary damages, etc.

Attractive Nuisance

In attractive nuisance case, parents of deceased child were not entitled to exemplary damages in absence of proof of willful disregard of duty or indifference on part of contractor which would permit inference of malice; exemplary damages are extraordinary in nature and are allowed as punishment where something more than mere negligence is alleged and proven. Gagnier v. Curran Constr. Co., 151 M 468, 443 P 2d 894.

Counterclaim

On counterclaim by debtor against bank suing on note of debtor, evidence showing that bank converted funds and property of debtor to satisfy obligations of debtor's son for which debtor was not responsible and evidence showing bona fide intent of debtor to pay note was sufficient to warrant award of exemplary damages to debtor. Security State Bank of Harlem v. Kittleson, 149 M 183, 425 P 2d 72.

Fraud in Contract

Fact that alleged trickery by carpet seller arose during the contracting for the sale and installation of the carpeting did not make it "arise from the contract" within this section; the action was in tort, independent of the contract, and exemplary damages were not barred by this section. Paulson v. Kustom Enterprises, Inc., 157 M 188, 483 P 2d 708.

Insurance Policy Default

Insured was entitled to sue insurance company for actual damages for default on policy requiring it to pay car installments upon insured's disability as well as for exemplary damages since default was oppressive, malicious, or fraudulent, and in violation of statute requiring prompt payment of claim. State ex rel. Larson v. District Court, 149 M 131, 423 P 2d 598, distinguished in 157 M 40, 482 P 2d 467.

Insurance Settlement

Where fraud of the insurer and agent in settling an automobile insurance claim by "cost of repair" and not "total loss" is alleged but no provision of the Insurance Code was violated, the insured was not entitled to exemplary damages. State ex rel. Cashen v. District Court, 157 M 40, 482 P 2d 567, distinguished in 157 M 181, 483 P 2d 709, 716.

Slander

Where homeowner's slanderous statements that builder had cheated him were made to numerous people in community over two-year period and where speaker stated that "he was going to tack his [builder's] hide to the wall," jury had basis for finding sufficient malice to justify award of punitive damages. McCusker v. Roberts, 152 M 513, 452 P 2d 408.

Water Rights Dispute

In action concerning disputed water rights plaintiff was not entitled to punitive damages under this section since defendants were not found to be guilty of oppression, fraud or malice; further, exemplary or punitive damages cannot be recovered in absence of award of actual damages. Smith v. Krutar, 153 M 325, 457 P 2d 459.

CHAPTER 3—MEASURE OF DAMAGES

17-301. (8667) Measure of damages for breach of contract.

Sale of Land

In computing damages for sale of land constituting constructive fraud in that representations of acreage exceeded actual acreage, buyer was not entitled to damages for loss of profits based on number of cows which total ranch would support but was entitled to damages for missing acreage computed from contract value on per acre basis without distinction between deeded and leased land or fenced or open land. Hardin v. Hill, 149 M 68, 423 P 2d 309.

17-302. (8668) Damages must be certain.

Profits

Where a contractor had lost his bonding capacity, and thereby future profits, because of a breach of contract by the state, and his accountants testified in detail as to his past earnings, net income, depreciation taken, etc., for 22 years, the jury's award of $78,000 was not too speculative as computed for the next 3 years, as the profits were reasonably foreseeable. Laas v. Montana State Highway Commission, 157 M 121, 483 P 2d 699.

CHAPTER 4—DAMAGES FOR WRONGS

17-401. (8686) Breach of obligation other than contract.

Aggravation of Pre-existing Injury

Measure of damages in tort action includes damages for aggravation of preexisting condition, but injured party is not entitled to recover damages which would have resulted from his previous condition even without aggravation; however, where it was reasonable to suppose that in absence of accident, intervertebral disc would have herniated within not more than two years, still injured party was entitled to damages resulting from hastening of back condition, including pain and suffering during additional period of disability reasonably caused by accident. Kegel v. United States, 289 F Supp 790.

CHAPTER 8—SPECIFIC RELIEF—PERFORMANCE OF OBLIGATIONS

17-801. (8714) In what cases compelled.

Inadequate Relief by Pecuniary Compensation

Under principle that monetary damages are presumed inadequate as remedy in contract for purchase of land, purchaser was entitled to specific performance notwithstanding seller's contention that presumption was rebutted by testimony of purchaser that he could ascertain damages if not allowed to obtain the property. Brown v. Griffin, 150 M 498, 436 P 2d 695.

17-804. (8717) Distinction between real and personal property.

Rebuttable Presumption

Under principle that monetary damages are presumed inadequate as remedy in contract for purchase of land, purchaser was entitled to specific performance notwithstanding seller's contention that presumption was rebutted by testimony of purchaser that he could ascertain damages if not allowed to obtain the property. Brown v. Griffin, 150 M 498, 436 P 2d 695.

TITLE 18—DEBTOR AND CREDITOR

Chapter
4. Debt adjusters, 18-401 to 18-403.

CHAPTER 1—DEBTOR AND CREDITOR—DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

18-104. (8601) Payments in preference.

Contingent Liability

Debtor's sale of property to pay all creditors except one did not violate statute in light of fact that excepted debt was contingent liability which debtor could reasonably anticipate would not become due and owing. White v. Nollmeyer, 151 M 387, 443 P 2d 873.

Negligence

In action to recover damages for reduced yield of dryland alfalfa seed allegedly caused by negligence of defendants in allowing weeds from defendant's field to blow across fields of plaintiff during windstorm, trial court erred by not directing verdict for defendant since evidence failed to show breach of duty by defendant and therefore did not establish prima facie case of negligence. Mang v. Eliasson, 153 M 431, 458 P 2d 777, explained in 156 M 477, 482 P 2d 599.

Property

Under this section, "property," as used in section 67-808, includes both real and personal property. State ex rel. Tucker v. District Court of Thirteenth Judicial District in and for Stillwater County, 155 M 202, 468 P 2d 773.

20-208. (7655) Extent of his liability for negligence.

Aetna Life & Casualty Co. v. Stan-Craft Corp., — M —, 499 P 2d 776.

Chapter
1. Dissolution of marriage—divorce, 21-103.

CHAPTER 1—DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE—DIVORCE

Section
21-103. Causes for divorce.

21-103. (5736) Causes for divorce. Absolute divorces, or separations from bed and board, or decrees for separate maintenance, may be granted for any of the following causes:

1 to 6. * * * [Same as parent volume.]

7. Conviction of felony;

8. Irreconcilable differences, which have existed and persisted for a period of six months before the commencement of an action and which have caused the irremediable breakdown of the marriage. This cause need not be pleaded in the particular.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment added subdivision 8.

Property Division

Property division may not be decreed in same suit in which husband is denied divorce and wife is granted separate maintenance. Stapleton v. Stapleton, — M —, 488 P 2d 1144, following Decker v. Decker, 56 M 338, 185 P 168 and Boggs v. Boggs, 119 M 540, 545, 177 P 2d 869, 872.

21-138. (5770) Orders respecting custody of children.

Modification of Amount of Award

District court was free to modify original decree to provide for child-support payments which were lower than those set forth in separation agreement. Gessell v. Jones, 149 M 418, 427 P 2d 295.

Modification of Decree

Evidence that mother had, since time of divorce, remarried, overcome previous emotional difficulties, and quit her job in order to provide for time and attention needed to raise child, supported modification of divorce decree, in best interests of child, so as to grant custody to mother. McCullough v. McCullough, — M —, 498 P 2d 1189.

Notice

It was improper to terminate custody at a hearing on contempt for nonsupport when respondent had not been given notice that custody would be at issue. State ex rel. Shelhamer v. District Court, — M —, 494 P 2d 928.

21-139. (5771) Support of wife and children, etc.

Alimony—Modification of Decree

Trial court acted properly in ordering husband, who had stopped paying alimony because of alleged changes in financial standing, to pay back alimony in full, since under this section modification of alimony applies only to future installments. Porter v. Porter, 155 M 451, 473 P 2d 538.

Joint Tenancy Property

Pursuant to M. R. Civ. P., Rules 18 (a) and 54 (c), it was proper for divorce court to divest wife of her interest in joint tenancy property and provide for payment of alimony in lieu thereof. Libra v. Libra, 157 M 252, 484 P 2d 748, overruling Emery v. Emery, 122 M 201, 200 P 2d 251 and affirming rule of Johnson v. Johnson, 137 M 11, 349 P 2d 310.

Modification of Decree for Support

Under this section court of sister state entering valid custody order retains continuing jurisdiction to modify such award after party has changed domicile to this state since change in child's domicile does not, in itself, deprive court of sister state of its jurisdiction; courts of either state may possess jurisdiction resulting in concurrent jurisdiction of matter. Corkill v. Cloninger, 153 M 142, 454 P 2d 911.

Orders as to Property

Equal division of the property accumulated during the marriage was not unreasonable and was within the court's power even though the husband had made greater contributions during the marriage and most of the property was held in his name. Cook v. Cook, — M —, 495 P 2d 591.

21-142. (5774) Property may be subjected to support, etc.

Survival of Support Obligation.

District court may make support obligation a continuing one that survives the father's death and is enforceable against his estate. Horning v. Estate of Lagerquist, 155 M 412, 473 P 2d 541.

TITLE 22—DOWER

Chapter
1. Dower, 22-108.

CHAPTER 1—DOWER

Section
22-108. Renunciation and form of.

22-108. (5820) Renunciation and form of. When a woman is entitled to an election under this chapter, she shall be deemed to have taken such devise, unless, within six months after the authentication or probate of the will, she shall deliver or transmit to the district court of the proper county a written renunciation, which may be in the following form, to wit: "I, A B, widow of C D, late of the county of ....., state of Montana, do hereby renounce and quit all claims to the benefit of any bequest or devise made to me by the last will and testament of my said deceased husband, which has been exhibited and proved according to law (or otherwise, as the case may be), and I do elect to take in lieu thereof my dower, or legal share of the estate of my said husband," which said letter of renunciation shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court, and shall operate as a complete bar against any claim which such widow may afterwards set up to any provision which may have been thus made for her in the will of any testator, in lieu of dower; and by thus renouncing all claims as aforesaid, such widow shall thereupon be entitled to dower in the lands or share in the personal estate of her husband.

History: En. Ch. 36, p. 38 et seq., L. 1866, March 21, 1866; this act set aside by act of Congress, March 2, 1867. This section en. Sec. 8, p. 65, L. 1876; omitted from Rev. Stat. 1879 and Comp. Stat. 1887; re-en. Sec. 235, Civ. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 3715, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 5820, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 150, L. 1969.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment shortened the time for renunciation from one year to six months.

Invalid Renunciation

Widow's renunciation of her husband's will was not valid, even though widow purchased family home from executor and executed a deed quitclaiming all interest in real and personal property of the estate, and even though there may have been no fraud, misrepresentation or breach of confidential relationship, in view of evidence that widow did not know her rights, did not understand terms of will and did not understand the significance of signing the quitclaim deed. DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

"General Election"

A general election is one held for the election of officers throughout the state. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 591, 144 P 162.

"Special Election"

A special election is one held to supply a vacancy in a public office, or one in which is submitted to the electors a proposition to raise money for any public improvement. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 591, 144 P 162.

"Vacancy"

The word vacancy as applied to a public office has no technical meaning, and it is not to be taken in a strict technical sense in every case. It may be said that an office is vacant when it is empty and without an incumbent who has a right to exercise its functions and take its fees or emoluments even though the vacancy is not a corporal one. "An office without an incumbent is vacant." LaBorde v. McGrath 116 M 283, 292, 149 P 2d 913.

23-2602. Elections by secret ballot. All elections shall be by secret ballot.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 8, L. 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment inserted "secret" before "ballot" at the end of the section.

23-2603. Determination of candidate elected. The person receiving the highest number of votes for any office at an election is elected to that office.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-2604. General election, when to be held. A general biennial election shall be held throughout the state in every even-numbered year on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

making a special or additional levy for any purpose, the polls shall open at 12 noon and be kept open continuously until 8 p. m. Amendments

Chapter 120, Laws of 1971, deleted "Except as provided in section 23-2702" from the beginning of subdivision (1); substituted "of the minimum age for voting prescribed by the constitution of the state of Montana" in former subdivision (1) (a), now (1) (b), for "twenty-one (21) years of age"; added to former subdivision (1) (a), now (1) (b), a provision for voting in federal elections by 18-year-olds; substituted "has met the residence requirements for voting provided in the constitution of the state of Montana" in former subdivision (1) (b), now (1) (c), for "must have resided in the state one (1) year"; added to former subdivision (1) (b), now (1) (c), a provision for presidential voting by persons who have resided in the state for thirty days; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Chapter 158, Laws of 1971, substituted "No person may be entitled to vote" and "unless" in the preliminary paragraph of subdivision (1) for "every person, if registered by law, is entitled to vote" and "if"; inserted a new subdivision (1) (a); redesignated subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of subdivision (1), respectively, as subdivisions (b), (c) and (d); and substituted "of the minimum age for voting prescribed by the constitution of the state of Montana" in subdivision (1) (b) for "twenty-one (21) years of age."

The 1973 amendment substituted "elections" in the preliminary paragraph of subdivision (1) for "general and special elections for officers which are elective, and upon questions submitted to the vote of the people"; substituted "eighteen (18) years of age or older" in subdivision (1) (b) for references inserted by the 1971 amendments to the state constitution and to federal voting; substituted the present subdivision (1) (c) for references inserted by Ch. 120, Laws of 1971, to the state constitution and to presidential voting by new residents; substituted "while he is serving a sentence in a penal institution" at the end of subdivision (2) for "unless he has been pardoned"; and substituted "to be of unsound mind" in subdivision (3) for "insane."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 40, Laws 1973 read "Section 11-716, R. C. M. 1947, is repealed."

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 120, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1971.

Racial Discrimination Prohibited

Congress is empowered, as it did in the Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, 42 U. S. C. § 1973aa, to prohibit use of literacy tests or other devices used to discriminate against voters on account of their race in all state and national elections. Oregon v. Mitchell, 400 US 112, 27 L Ed 2d 272, 91 S Ct 260.

Residence Requirements

As it did in the Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, 42 U. S. C. § 1973aa-1, Congress can prohibit states from disqualifying voters in elections for presidential and vice-presidential electors because they have not met state residency requirements, and can set residency requirements and provide for absentee balloting in presidential and vice-presidential elections. Oregon v. Mitchell, 400 US 112, 27 L Ed 2d 272, 91 S Ct 260.

Voting for Deceased Candidate

The casting of a ballot at an election of public officers is an affirmative, not a negative, act—an act done with intention of voting for someone; hence if it is the purpose of voters to defeat a certain candidate, that purpose can be accomplished only by voting for some person in opposition to him, and not by voting for a person who died some weeks before election with the expectation that the vote cast for him would be counted as opposed to the person sought to be defeated; one who has died is no longer a person for whom, under section 2, article IX of the constitution, a voter may cast his ballot. State ex rel. Wolff v. Guerkink, 111 M 417, 426, 109 P 2d 1094, 133 ALR 304.

23-2701.1. Repealed.

Repeal

Section 23-2701.1 (Sec. 1, Ch. 158, L. 1971), relating to legislative policy and purpose of election laws according to former constitution, was repealed by Sec. 58, Ch. 100, Laws 1973, and Sec. 9, Ch. 454, Laws 1973.

23-2702, 23-2703. Repealed.

Repeal

Sections 23-2702 and 23-2703 (Secs. 7, 8, Ch. 368, L. 1969), relating to qualifications of electors at elections on incurring state indebtedness, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 120, Laws 1971.

Compiler's Notes

Sections 3 and 4, Ch. 158, Laws of 1971, purported to amend these sections. However, the purported amendments are void under the provisions of section 43-515.

23-2704. Notice and closing of registration for elections on incurring of state indebtedness other than for refunding or levy of tax. (1) If the question of state indebtedness, issuance of bonds or debentures other than for refunding, or the levy of a tax for state purposes, is submitted at an election other than a general biennial election, the registrar of each county shall publish in the official county newspaper, a notice signed by him, stating that registration will close at noon on the fortieth (40th) day prior to the date of the election unless the act providing for the submission of the question fixes a different time for the giving of notice. The notice shall be published ten (10) days or more prior to the date when registration will be closed unless the act providing for submission of the question fixes a different time for closing registration.

(2) If the question is to be submitted at a general biennial election, notice and the closing of registration shall be governed by the laws applying to general biennial elections. The provisions of section 37-107, R. C. M. 1947 apply to the printing and distribution of copies of the proposed law.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Objection Waived

The objection that a measure creates a state debt, levy, or liability, and that therefore it should have been placed upon a separate ballot, is waived if not raised before the election. State ex rel. Graham v. Board of Examiners, 125 M 419, 239 P 2d 283, 290.

23-2705. Privilege from arrest. Electors are privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections and in going to and from voting places except in cases of treason, felony, or breach of the peace.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Cross-Reference

Section
23-2801. Advertisement of questions to be submitted.
23-2802. Publication and printing of amendments to constitution.

23-2801. Advertisement of questions to be submitted. Questions to be submitted to the people of the county or city must be advertised by publication in at least one (1) newspaper within the county or city once a week for two (2) successive weeks. One (1) of the publications must be upon the last day the newspaper is issued before the election.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-2802. Publication and printing of amendments to constitution. If a proposed constitutional amendment or amendments are submitted to the people, the secretary of state shall:

(1) Have the proposed amendment or amendments published in full twice each month for two (2) months previous to the election at which they are to be voted upon by the people in not less than one (1) newspaper commonly circulated in each county.

(2) Have a pamphlet printed containing an exact copy of the proposed amendment or amendments, an exact copy of existing constitutional provisions to be revised, and the amendment or amendments in the form in which it or they will be printed on the official ballot. The printed pamphlets shall be distributed as provided in section 37-107, R. C. M. 1947.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 38, L. 1973.

Compiler's Notes

In a letter to the secretary of state dated March 23, 1970, the attorney general of Montana ruled that, despite this section, the secretary of state is required to publish proposed constitutional amendments once each week for three months, as required by sec. 9, article XIX, constitution of 1889. But see secs. 8 and 9 (2), article XIV, constitution of 1972.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment changed the publication requirement in subdivision (1) from once each week for four weeks to twice each month for two months; substituted "election at which they are to be voted upon by the people" in subdivision (1) for "next general biennial election"; inserted "commonly circulated" near the end of subdivision (1); and made minor changes in phraseology.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Referendums

Legislature, by repealing section 537, R. C. M. 1935 and leaving in effect section requiring publication of proposed constitutional amendments, indicated its intent to dispense with publication prior to general election of legislative acts referred to the people by the legislature, or the governor's proclamation that such act would be voted upon at such election. Nordquist v. Ford, 112 M 278, 283, 114 P 2d 1071.

CHAPTER 29

PROCLAMATIONS AND PUBLICATIONS

Section
23-2901. Election proclamation by the governor—contents.
23-2902. Publication and posting by county commissioners.
23-2903. Election proclamation by county commissioners.
23-2904. Copies of election laws to be furnished registrar—registrar to distribute to precincts.

23-2901. Election proclamation by the governor—contents. Sixty (60) days or more before a general election, the governor shall issue an election proclamation and transmit a copy to each board of county commissioners. The proclamation shall contain:

(1) A statement of the time of the election and the offices to be filled;

(2) An offer of rewards stating: "There is a reward of one hundred dollars ($100) for the arrest and conviction of any person violating any of the provisions of sections 23-4701 through 23-4724, R.C.M. 1947. Rewards will be paid until the total amount expended reaches the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Compiler's Notes

Sections 23-4701 through 23-4724 were originally numbered 94-1401 through 94-1424. For text, see bound Volume Eight under the latter sections.

Office Not Mentioned

The governor issued his proclamation giving notice of a general election and omitted therefrom the mention of an election of three judges for the second judicial district, and called for the election of two judges. Upon mandamus proceedings against the governor, the relator claimed that three judges should have been mentioned in the proclamation, and that he was elected and entitled to receive from the governor a commission as judge. As it failed to appear that the electors voted for more than two candidates for judgeships, the petition was dismissed. State ex rel. Breen v. Toole, 32 M 4, 8, 79 P 403.

Sufficiency of Notice

A statement in the proclamation of the governor giving notice of a general election, that among other officers there was to be elected "also a district judge, in any judicial district where a vacancy may exist," was not such a notice of the necessity of filling a vacancy by election. State ex rel. Patterson v. Lentz, 50 M 322, 343, 146 P 932.

The governor's proclamation should state the offices to be filled, especially where a state office, such as a judgeship, held by his appointee, is to be filled; but, if the people have actual notice that a judge is to be elected and indicate their choice, no insufficiency of notice, in the governor's proclamation, of a vacancy in that office, in any particular district, or other informality in the election, will suffice to defeat their will, as expressed by their votes. State ex rel. Patterson v. Lentz, 50 M 322, 343, 146 P 932.

23-2902. Publication and posting by county commissioners. When a proclamation prescribed by section 23-2901 is received, the commissioners shall have a copy published in a newspaper published in the county if a newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation therein, and shall post a copy ten (10) days or more before the election at each polling place.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-2903. Election proclamation by county commissioners. When a special election is ordered by the commissioners, they must issue an election proclamation containing the statement contained in section 23-2901 (1). The statement must be published and posted in the same manner as a proclamation issued by the governor.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Notice Not Proclamation

The notice of election does not take the place of the election proclamation. Evers v. Hudson, 36 M 135, 154, 92 P 462.

Public Improvements

Prior section had no reference to elections held for raising money for public improvements. The power conferred in this behalf is exercised under special provisions on the subject, found in that part of the codes relating to county government. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 592, 144 P 162.

Vacancies

In case of vacancies in county offices, boards of county commissioners have the power, and it is their duty, to call and provide for the holding of special elections to fill them. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 592, 144 P 162.

23-2904. Copies of election laws to be furnished registrar—registrar to distribute to precincts. The secretary of state shall publish copies of the election laws and laws which relate to elections. He shall transmit sufficient copies to each registrar. The registrar shall furnish each election precinct in his county with two (2) copies.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 385, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 15, 1971.

Durational Residency Requirements

Durational residency requirements of 3 months in county and one year in state as conditions precedent to voting violate the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment; unreasonableness of the classification was established by the fact that the registration books in Tennessee were not closed until 30 days before the election and this was ample time to complete whatever administrative tasks were necessary to ensure the purity of the ballot box. Dunn v. Blumstein, 405 US 330, 31 L Ed 2d 274, 92 S Ct 995.

23-3017. Registration while registry closed preceding election. During the time when the registry is closed preceding any election, a person may register and the registrar shall keep his registry card in a separate file until the official register is again open. At that time, all cards in the temporary file shall be placed in their proper position in the official register.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3018. Name on precinct register prima facie evidence of right to vote—elector's identity—election judges' duties as to precinct register. (1) A person shall not vote at an election mentioned in this act unless his name appears on election day in the copy of the official precinct register furnished by the registrar to the election judges. The fact that his name appears in the copy of the precinct register is prima facie evidence of his right to vote.

(2) If the election judges have good reason to believe, or if they are informed by a qualified elector that the person offering to vote is not the person registered in that name, he shall not be allowed to vote until he has proved his identity by the oath of two (2) reputable electors of the precinct in which he is registered.

(3) The election judges in each precinct at every general or special election in a precinct register certified to them by the registrar shall:

(a) Mark a cross (X) upon the line opposite the name of the elector;

(b) Require the elector to sign his name upon one of the precinct registers;

(c) Require an elector, who is not able to sign his name, to produce two (2) electors who shall make an affidavit before the election judges in a form prescribed by the secretary of state. One of the election judges shall write on the affidavit the elector's name, note his inability to sign, and the names of the electors making affidavits. The affidavits shall be returned to the registrar with the other election records.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Failure To Sign

Failure of the election judges of a precinct to require the electors to sign the registry books before voting at a primary election was the fault of the judges and not of the electors, and therefore their votes were legal and properly counted. Thompson v. Chapin, 64 M 376, 383, 209 P 1060.

23-3019. Joinder of parties in proceedings to compel registrar to enter name in precinct register. In any action or proceeding instituted in a district court to compel the registrar to enter the name of any elector in the precinct register, as many persons may be joined as plaintiffs for cause of action and as many persons as there are causes of action may be joined as defendants.

History: En. Sec. 38, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3020. Erroneous omission of name from precinct register—certificate. (1) An elector whose name is erroneously omitted from a precinct register or other election register may secure from the registrar a certificate of the error stating the precinct in which he is entitled to vote and present the certificate to the election judges which will entitle him to vote.

(2) The certificate shall be marked "voted" by the election judges and returned by them with the precinct register.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3021. Registration by naturalized citizen. When a naturalized citizen applies for registration, he must produce a certificate of naturalization or a certified copy upon which the registrar must enter the date and county where presented. The registrar must also enter the applicant's name.

History: En. Sec. 40, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3022. Residence, rules for determining. For registration or voting, the residence of any person shall be determined by the following rules as far as they are applicable.

(1) The residence of a person is where his habitation is fixed, and to which, whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning.

(2) A person may not gain or lose a residence while a student at any institution of learning, while kept involuntarily at any public institution not necessarily at public expense, while confined in any public prison, or while residing on a military reservation.

(3) A person in the armed forces of the United States may not become a resident in consequence of being stationed at a military facility in the state. A person may not acquire a residence by reason of being employed or stationed at a training or other transient camp maintained by the United States within the state.

(4) A person does not lose his residence if he goes into another state, or other district of this state, for temporary purposes with the intention of returning unless he exercises the election franchise in the other state or district.

(5) A person may not gain a residence in a county if he comes in for temporary purposes without the intention of making that county his home.

(6) If a person moves to another state with the intention of making it his residence, he loses his residence in this state.

(7) If a person moves to another state with the intention of residing there for an indefinite time, he loses his residence in this state even though he intends to return to this state at some future period.

(8) The place where a man's family resides is presumed his place of residence. However, a man who takes up or continues his residence at a place other than where his family resided with the intention of remaining is a resident of the place where he resides.

(9) A change of residence can only be made by the act of removal joined with intent to remain in another place. There can only be one residence.

(10) The term of residence must be computed by including the date of election.

History: En. Sec. 41, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 394, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted "while employed in the service of the United States or of this state" after "lose a residence" in subdivision (2); and made a minor change in punctuation.

Acts and Intent of Voter

The residence of a voter is to be determined from his acts and intent; but this fact, like any other fact involved in a civil action or proceeding, may be established by circumstantial evidence, and any declarations of the voter touching the subject, if a part of the res gestae, or any declarations in disparagement of his right to vote, if made at or before the election, may be received in evidence. Sommers v. Gould, 53 M 538, 544, 165 P 599.

Inapplicable to Licensing of Automobiles

Section prescribing the conditions determining the right to vote with respect to residence of the voter had no bearing upon the situs of one's property (an automobile) or the ownership thereof for purpose of taxation, or licensing. Valley County v. Thomas, 109 M 345, 386, 97 P 2d 345.

Presumption

Predecessor to subdivision (8) was held to be in reality a rule of evidence. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 602, 101 P 153.

Residency Requirements

Durational residency requirements of 3 months in county and one year in state as conditions precedent to voting violate the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment; unreasonableness of the classification was established by the fact that the registration books in Tennessee were not closed until 30 days before the election and this was ample time to complete whatever administrative tasks were necessary to ensure the purity of the ballot box. Dunn v. Blumstein, 405 US 330, 31 L Ed 2d 274, 92 S Ct 995.

23-3023. Printing and posting of list of electors shown on precinct registers. (1) The registrar shall have a list printed of all registered electors shown on the precinct registers of the county or city ten (10) days or more preceding any election.

(2) The list shall show the name of the elector in full, the number and street of his residence if he resides within a city, his post-office address if he resides outside a city, and the registry number.

(3) A copy of the list of registered voters shall be posted at the polling place. Sufficient copies of the lists shall be retained by the registrar and furnished to an elector upon request.

(4) If no declarations of nomination have been filed forty (40) days before a primary election of city offices, the city clerk shall immediately notify the registrar in writing and the list of registered electors for the city shall not be printed.

(6) The expense of printing this list shall be paid by the county or city in which the election is to be held.

(5) Combine into one (1) precinct register the names of all electors in the several precincts where the precincts in city elections, or elections in school districts of the first class, include more than one (1) county precinct.

(6) If no declarations of nomination have been filed forty (40) days before a primary election for city offices, the city clerk shall immediately notify the registrar in writing, and the precinct register or registers shall not be prepared.

(3) The commissioners may change the boundaries of precincts but not between January 1 and December 1 in any year during which a general biennial election will be held, except that the commissioners may change the boundaries of precincts in the year during which a general biennial election will be held when the changes are required to make precinct boundaries conform to legislative district boundaries following the adoption of reapportionment plans under article V, section 14, of the 1972 Montana constitution. In those instances, the changing of precinct boundaries must be accomplished within sixty (60) days of the filing of the final reapportionment plan.

(a) All changes must be certified to the registrar three (3) days or less after the change is made.

(b) All election precincts shall be designated by numbers, names, or both.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Changing Designation

Where a board of county canvassers refused to canvass election returns from a precinct on the ground that it appeared upon the face of the returns that the election had not been held at the place designated by the board of county commissioners, and on application for writ of mandate to compel them to act, nothing was shown affirmatively by pleadings or otherwise that the judges of election at the precinct had not pursued this section giving them authority to change the place of election upon two days' notice if for any reason it cannot be held at the place appointed, it will be presumed that official duty was regularly performed by them and that they did change it, and the writ will issue commanding action. State ex rel. Moore v. Patch, 65 M 218, 225, 211 P 202.

CHAPTER 32

Legislative assembly was not empowered to provide for nomination and election of delegates to constitutional convention under article XIX, sec. 8 of the 1889 constitution solely by nonpartisan means, since this would be a substantial change from manner of election and nomination provided for under this chapter. DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Time for Filing Acceptance by Write-in Candidate

Under prior statute requiring write-in candidate to file within ten days after "election," the term "election" meant the day of election and not the day on which the canvass of the ballots was completed, hence a candidate for house of representatives who filed acceptance 18 days after election was not entitled to a writ of mandate to compel the county clerk to include his name on the general election official ballot. State ex rel. Wulf v. McGrath, 111 M 96, 97, 106 P 2d 183.

23-3305. Deadline for filing nominating declarations — persons with whom filed. Nominating declarations shall be filed not later than 5 p. m. forty (40) days before the date of the primary election. Declarations for nomination to an office filled by election throughout the state, as judge of a district court, to an office filled by election in more than one (1) county, or as a member of the legislative assembly shall be filed with the secretary of state. Declarations for nomination to an office filled by election in one (1) county, or district or city shall be filed with the registrar or city clerk.

History: En. Sec. 60, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3306. Register of candidates—public record—disposition of poll-books, tally sheets, ballots, etc. (1) The secretary of state, registrar, and city clerk shall keep a "Register of Candidates for Nomination at the Primary Nominating Election." (b) The name of his political party;

(c) The date of receiving the declaration for nomination signed by the candidate;

(d) Other information as may aid in arranging the official ballot.

(2) Immediately after the canvass of votes of the primary election, the officer shall enter in the register the date of entry, the name of each candidate nominated, the office for which he is nominated, and the name of the party making the nomination.

(3) When filed, the registers, declarations of nomination, letters and notices, and other documents required by law are public records and open to inspection under proper regulation. Certified copies shall be available upon payment of the fee.

(4) The registrar shall keep all pollbooks, tally sheets, ballots, ballot stubs, and other documents for one (1) year, and then he shall destroy them.

The names of the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor shall be arranged by the surname of the candidate for governor. When two (2) or more persons are candidates for nomination for the same office, the registrar shall divide the ballot to provide a rotation of the names of the candidates as follows:

(a) Divide all county ballot forms into sets equal in number to the greatest number of candidates for nomination or election to any office;

(b) Arrange the sets so that candidates' names are rotated by removing one name from the top of the list for each nomination or office and place the name or number at the bottom of the list for each successive set of ballot forms; however, in printing ballots for use in any one (1) precinct, only one (1) set shall be used and they shall be identical;

(c) If an elector writes the name of a person upon a ballot, and the person's name appears as a candidate upon another ballot, the ballot shall count for the person only as a candidate of the party upon whose ticket his name is written;

(e) If a person fails to be nominated upon the party ticket contained in his nominating declaration, his name shall not be printed upon any ballot with party designation;

(f) This act does not preclude an elector from having his name printed upon the ballot as an independent candidate, and no candidate shall have his name printed on more than one (1) ticket.

(3) Ballots shall be printed on white paper in the form of the Australian ballot and the candidates of each party shall be printed on a separate ticket.

(4) After preparing his ballot, the elector shall detach it from the remaining tickets and fold it so that the face is concealed and the official stamp is seen;

(a) The elector shall fold the remaining tickets, vote the marked ballot without leaving the polling place, and deposit the remaining tickets in a separate box marked as the blank ballot box;

(b) Immediately after the recount period, the election judges shall, without examination, destroy the tickets deposited in the blank ballot box.

(1) year, or fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500).

(2) If a candidate for nomination is guilty of any act which is wrongful or unlawful, or acts at the primary which would be sufficient to cause his removal from office if committed at the regular general election, he shall, upon conviction, be removed from office in the same manner as though the act had been committed at a regular general election, even though he may have been regularly elected and was not guilty of a wrongful or unlawful act at the election at which he was elected to his office.

History: En. Sec. 77, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3318. Certificates of nomination by individuals or parties not appearing on preceding general election ballot—requisites—applicability. Except as provided in subsection (6) of this section, nominations for public office by an individual or a political party which did not appear on the ballot in the next preceding general election may be made by executing a certificate of nomination.

(1) The certificate must be in writing and contain:

(b) His residence, his occupation, and his business address.

(2) If a certificate is filed by a political party which did not appear on the ballot in the next preceding general election, it must contain the party name and in five (5) words or less the principle which such body represents.

(3) The certificate must be signed by electors residing within the state and district, or political division in which the officer or officers are to be elected. Each elector signing a certificate shall add to his signature his place of residence, and his business address.

(4) The number of signatures must be five per cent (5%) or more of the total vote cast for the successful candidate for the same office at the next preceding general election.

(5) Except as provided in subsection (6), such certificates shall be filed on or before the filing deadline for the primary election as established by law. the filing of certificates of nomination by candidates for municipal offices.

The 1973 amendment inserted "general" before "election" throughout the section; substituted "Except as provided in subsection (6), such certificates shall be filed on or before the filing deadline for the primary election as established by law" for "The candidates for nomination shall file the certificates ninety (90) days prior to the date of the general election" in subsection (5); and inserted "90 days prior to the date of the general election" at the end of the first sentence in subsection (6).

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 59, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 24, 1971.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Error in Certificate

Under the law governing conventions and primary meetings, an error in the party name on the certificate of nomination rendered it void. State ex rel. Scharnikow v. Hogan, 24 M 397, 401, 62 P 683.

The inadvertent failure to include the name of a convention nominee for a certain office in the certificate of nominations renders the certificate insufficient. State ex rel. Galen v. Hays, 31 M 227, 231, 78 P 301.

Party Candidate

It is by means of the certificate of nomination that the county clerk is informed how to prepare the official ballot for the electors. The secretary of state cannot certify a candidate nominated by electors, as the candidate of a political party, for clearly he is not such a candidate and has no place in a group of candidates certified as nominated by a regular political party convention or organization, under the name of the party making such nomination. State ex rel. Woody v. Rotwitt, 18 M 502, 510, 511, 46 P 370.

Time of Filing

Prior law requiring certificates of nomination to be filed with the secretary of state not more than sixty nor less than thirty days before election was mandatory and a certificate of original nominations made at a party convention could not be filed less than thirty days before election. State ex rel. Galen v. Hays, 31 M 227, 230, 78 P 301.

23-3318.1. Determination of number of signatures required in census divisions. In the case of candidates for the Montana House of Representatives, the Montana Senate, and the Montana Constitutional Convention who may be required to run in districts embracing census enumerator divisions located in more than one county, the secretary of state shall, for those counties split along census enumerator divisions, determine the number of signatures needed for nominating petitions of independent candidates in such districts. The determination shall be based on the most recent federal census population figures for the district.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 6, 2nd Ex. L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to authorize the secretary of state to determine the number of signatures needed for nominating petitions of independent candidates; and providing an effective date.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 6, 2nd Ex. Laws 1971 read "This act is effective on its passage and approval and shall remain in effect until such time as the procedures in section 23-3318, R. C. M. 1947, can be followed."

23-3319. Certificates of nominations to be preserved—certification of candidates' names and descriptions—statement of votes received by candidate. (1) The secretary of state, registrars, and city clerks shall preserve all certificates of nominations for one (1) year. All certificates shall be open to public inspection under rules adopted by the various offices.

(2) Forty-five (45) days or more before an election, the secretary of state shall certify to the registrars the name and description of each person nominated, as specified in the certificates of nomination filed with him.

(3) Each election board shall transmit to the secretary of state a statement of the number of votes cast for a person as the candidate for the independent body by which he was nominated.

History: En. Sec. 79, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3320. Parties governed by act—right to use of party name—printing of candidates' names on ballots—parties that may nominate by certificate. (1) Every political party which received three per cent (3%) or more of the total vote cast for governor at the next preceding general election in the county, district, or state for which nominations are proposed to be made, shall nominate its candidate for public office in the county, district or state under this act.

(2) Every political party, and its regularly nominated candidates, members and officers, has the sole and exclusive right to the use of the party name. No candidate for office may use any word of the name of any other political party or organization other than that by which he is nominated.

(3) An independent or nonpartisan candidate shall not use any word of the name of any existing political party or organization in his candidacy.

(4) The names of candidates for public office nominated under this act shall be printed on the official ballots for the ensuing election as the only candidates of the respective parties for public office in the same manner as the names of the candidates nominated by other methods are required to be printed on the official ballots.

(5) Any political party that did not receive three per cent (3%) or more of the total vote cast for governor, as provided in subsection (1) of this section, and any new political party about to be formed, may make nominations for public office as provided in section 23-3318.

History: En. Sec. 80, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Presidential Electors Are Candidates for Public Office

Candidates for presidential electors were candidates for public office, within the meaning of prior section. State ex rel. Foster v. Mountjoy, 83 M 162, 168, 271 P 446.

Use of Term "Independent"

Assuming (but not deciding) that an existing political party may use the term "Independent" in its party name, such use cannot deprive another candidate from employing that term in designating the character of his candidacy for the same office, and section prohibiting an independent candidate from using any word of the name of an existing political party has no application in such circumstances. State ex rel. Wheeler v. Stewart, 71 M 358, 361, 230 P 366.

23-3321. Declining nomination—vacancies before and after primary. (1) Twenty (20) days or more before the election, a person nominated for public office may decline the nomination by a writing sent to the office with whom his nominating declaration is filed. In city elections, the declination shall be made ten (10) days or more before the election.

(2) If a vacancy occurs in the office of a candidate in case of death or removal from the state or district before the date of the primary, the vacancy shall be filled by the affected political party.

(3) When a vacancy occurs in the office of a candidate after the primary and before the general election in any district however constituted, the vacancy shall be filled as follows:

(a) The vacancy shall be filled by a committee of three (3) members selected from each county or district by the county central committees of the county or district of the affected political party.

(b) The secretary of the committee shall transmit a certificate to the secretary of state with the information contained on the original certificate plus the cause of the vacancy, the name of the person nominated, the office to be filled, and the name of the person for whom the nomination was made.

(c) When the certificate is filed with the secretary of state accompanied by the proper filing fee he shall insert the name of the person nominated to fill the vacancy.

(d) If the secretary of state has certified the nominations to the registrars, he shall immediately certify to the registrars the name of the person nominated to fill the vacancy, the office to be filled, the party or political principle he represents, and the name of the person for whom the nominee is substituted.

(4) A vacancy in the position of candidate for governor or lieutenant governor shall not affect the candidacy of the other joint candidate.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "any district however constituted" for "a multi-county district" in subsection (3); inserted "or district" after "from each county" in subdivision (3) (a); inserted "of the county or district" after "central committees" in subdivision (3) (a); and inserted "accompanied by the proper filing fee" in subdivision (3) (c).

The 1973 amendment added subdivision (4).

Cross-Reference

Inducement to accept or decline nomination, sec. 94-1456.

Defective Proceedings

An election will not be declared void by reason of nonprejudicial defects in the manner in which nomination was declined where question was raised after election. Stackpole v. Hallahan, 16 M 40, 51, 40 P 80.

Write-in Candidates

Where a successful write-in candidate at a nominating election failed to file his acceptance within ten days after election day, his subsequent resignation did not result in a vacancy which the county central committee of his party could fill. State ex rel. Wilkinson v. McGrath, 111 M 102, 106 P 2d 186.

Where a candidate for re-election to a county office died 24 days before election, his death known generally to electors, but his name placed on ballot and majority voted for him supposing to retain his widow, appointed to fill the vacancy, until the next general election, a write-in candidate whom they intended to defeat, receiving the highest vote cast for any living person, held, on his application for writ of mandate to compel the county canvassing board to reconvene and cause certificate of election issued to him, that write-in candidate elected and entitled to the office. State ex rel. Wolff v. Geurkink, 111 M 417, 426, 109 P 2d 1094, 133 ALR 304.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Death after Election

Former law did not empower county central committee to make an original nomination of a candidate to an office to be filled at a special election where the officer-elect died after election and before induction into office. State ex rel. Smith v. Duncan, 55 M 376, 177 P 248, distinguished in 116 M 283, 291, 149 P 2d 913.

Time for Filling Vacancies

When a convention has made a nomination, and has authorized its committee to fill any vacancy that may occur, the filling of the vacancy by the committee upon the death or resignation of the candidate, or because the original certificate of nomination was or became insufficient or inoperative, may be made at any time before the day of election. State ex rel. Scharnikow v. Hogan, 24 M 397, 402, 62 P 683; State ex rel. Galen v. Hays, 31 M 227, 231, 78 P 301.

If there are no such measures, this heading shall be eliminated.

(5) Following each except the last column, the words "VOTE IN THE NEXT COLUMN" shall appear.

(a) Clerk of the district court;

(b) County commissioner;

(c) County clerk and recorder;

(d) Sheriff;

(f) County auditor;

(g) Other offices in the order designated by the registrar.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment combined former subdivisions (1) (d) and (1) (e); and redesignated the succeeding items in subdivision (1).

23-3514. Blank space and margin. (1) Below the names of candidates for each office there must be enough blank spaces to contain as many written names of candidates as there are persons to be elected.

(2) There must be a margin on each side of at least one-half (½) inch in width, and a reasonable space between the names, so that the voter may clearly indicate the candidate for whom he wishes to cast his ballot.

History: En. Sec. 97, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3515. Stub, size and contents. (1) The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub, and separated by a perforated stub.

(2) The stub shall extend the entire width of the ballot, and have instructions printed on it.

(3) Upon the face of the stub shall be printed, in type called brevier capitals, the following:

(a) "This ballot should be marked with an 'X' in the square before the names of each person or candidate for whom the elector intends to vote. The elector may write in blank spaces, or paste over another name, the name of a person for whom he wishes to vote, and vote by marking an 'X' in the square before the name."

(b) "If a ballot contains a constitutional amendment, or other question to be submitted to a vote of the people, it is voted on by marking an 'X' in the square before the amendment or question."

(4) On the back of the stub shall be printed or stamped by the registrar or other officer, the consecutive number of the ballot, beginning with number one (1) and increasing in regular numerical order to the total number of ballots required for the precinct.

History: En. Sec. 98, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3516. Number of ballots to be provided for each precinct. (1) The registrar must provide each election precinct with sufficient ballots for the electors registered plus sufficient copies to cover destroyed ballots.

Compiler's Notes

Sections 23-4707, 23-4711, 23-4712, 23-4713, 23-4714, and 23-4715, referred to in subdivision (4) (d), were originally numbered 94-1407, 94-1411, 94-1412, 94-1413, 94-1414, and 94-1415. For text, see bound Volume Eight under the latter numbers.

The compiler has substituted the reference to "chapter 35" for a reference to "chapter 6" in subsection (5).

23-3602. Proclamation prior to opening and closing polls. Before the polls are opened or closed that fact must be proclaimed at the place of election.

History: En. Sec. 102, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3603. Delivery of official ballots to elector. (1) The election judges must designate two (2) of their number to deliver ballots to electors.

(2) Before delivery, the election judges shall stamp the words "official ballot" on the back and near the top of the ballot. They shall also stamp other words required by section 23-3503.

(3) The election clerks shall enter on the poll lists the name of the elector and the number of the stub attached to the ballot given him.

(4) Each elector shall receive one (1) ballot from the election judges.

History: En. Sec. 103, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Stamping of Official Ballot

Where ballots had been delivered to electors by the judges of election with the official stamp apparently in the place in which the law requires it to be, although in reality it was on the stub instead of on the ballot proper, the act of the judges in removing the stamp with the stub—thus leaving the ballot without the stamp—did not render the ballot void. Harrington v. Crichton, 53 M 388, 164 P 537.

23-3604. Sufficient booths to be provided—only one person to occupy booth—may be ejected after occupying booth for unreasonable time. (1) All officers who designate polling places shall:

(a) Provide in each polling place a sufficient number of booths. The officers must furnish each booth with a door or curtain to screen the voter from observation;

(b) Furnish the booths adequately to enable the elector to prepare his ballot;

(c) Furnish at least one (1) booth for every fifty (50) electors registered in the precinct.

(2) No more than one (1) person may occupy a booth at one (1) time, and no person may occupy a booth longer than is reasonably necessary to prepare his ballot, after which the election judges may eject him.

History: En. Sec. 104, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3605. Prohibited conduct. (1) An election officer shall not do any electioneering on election day.

(2) A person shall not do any electioneering on election day, within any polling place, in any building in which an election is being held, or within two hundred (200) feet of the building where the polling place is located.

(3) A person shall not obstruct the entries to a polling place.

(4) An election officer, sheriff, constable, or other peace officer may clear the passageway, prevent any obstruction, and arrest any person obstructing the passageway to a polling place.

(5) A person shall not remove a ballot from the polling place before the closing of the polls.

(6) A person shall not show the contents of his ballot to any other person after it is marked.

(7) A person shall not solicit the elector to show the contents of his ballot; nor shall any person, except the election judge, receive from any elector a ballot prepared for voting.

(8) An elector shall not receive a ballot from any other person than one of the election judges, nor shall any person other than an election judge deliver a ballot to an elector.

(9) An elector shall not vote any ballot except one received from the election judges.

(10) An elector shall not place any mark upon his ballot by which it may be identified as the one voted by him.

(11) An elector who does not vote a ballot delivered to him shall, before leaving the polling place, return the ballot to the election judges.

History: En. Sec. 105, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3606. Method of voting. (1) On receipt of his ballot, the elector must immediately retire to one of the booths and prepare his ballot.

(2) He shall prepare his ballot by marking an "X" in the square before the name of the person or persons for whom he intends to vote.

(3) If the ballot contains a constitutional amendment, or other question to be submitted to the vote of the people, he shall mark an "X" in the applicable square indicating his vote either for or against the amendment or question.

(4) The elector may write in the blank spaces, or paste over any other name, the name of any person for whom he wishes to vote, and vote for that person by marking an "X" before the name.

(5) After preparing his ballot the elector must fold it so the face of the ballot will be concealed and the endorsements may be seen, and hand it to the election judges who shall announce the name of the elector and the printed or stamped number on the stub in a loud tone of voice. The judge must announce the voter's name and record the name in the pollbook. If the voting is in a city, the voter's residence shall also be announced and recorded in the pollbook.

(6) If the elector is entitled to vote, and if the printed or stamped number is the same as that entered on the pollbooks as the number on the stub, the judge shall receive the ballot, and remove the stub in sight of the elector depositing each ballot in the ballot box and each stub in a box for detached ballot stubs.

(7) Any elector who spoils his ballot may, on returning the spoiled ballot, receive another in place of it.

History: En. Sec. 106, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Deposit of Ballot

Act of voting is not completed until the ballot is deposited in the ballot box. Goodell v. Judith Basin County, 70 M 222, 233, 224 P 1110.

Error by Election Officer

A ballot properly marked, but from which the stub has not been detached by the ballot judge, should be counted; a voter is not to be disfranchised by the errors or wrongful acts of election officers. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 599, 101 P 153.

Marking of Ballot

In an election contest, the court properly refused to count for a candidate ballots marked as follows: (1) Where the cross was placed after the candidate's name and entirely without his party column; (2) where perpendicular lines were drawn through the names in one party column, but no cross was placed before the candidate's name; and (3) where his name was written in one party column, but no cross marked in the square before the name. In neither instance was there substantial, nor any, compliance with the provisions of predecessor section. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

In an election contest, the court properly refused to count a ballot for a candidate which was marked by crossing out all the names in other party columns, but which failed to show an "X" before his name. While the intention of the voter is generally a very material consideration, he must express his intention substantially as indicated by the statute. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

Where the crossmark was placed after the candidate's name but within his party column, the ballot was void, since the elector did not substantially comply with the requirement of prior section relative to placing the mark before the name. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

Any mark within the square before the candidate's name, which can be said to be a crossing of two lines, will answer the requirements of the statute that the elector must place an "X" in such square; and in the absence of anything to indicate a purpose on his part to identify his ballot by the use of a third line within the square, a defect in the mark is not sufficient to vitiate the ballot. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153, explained in 109 M 390, 393, 396, 96 P 2d 922.

Statutory provision that a ballot should be marked by an "X" in the square is directory and not mandatory, and in the absence of a further provision that unless so marked the ballot shall not be counted, a ballot upon which the elector marked all squares with a check mark (✓) instead of an "X" should have been counted for contestant, there being nothing to indicate an attempt to mark the ballot for identification purposes. Peterson v. Billings, 109 M 390, 395, 96 P 2d 922.

Voting an Affirmative Act

The casting of a ballot at an election of public officers is an affirmative, not a negative, act—an act done with intention of voting for someone; hence if it is the purpose of voters to defeat a certain candidate, that purpose can be accomplished only by voting for some person in opposition to him, and not by voting for a person who died some weeks before election with the expectation that the vote cast for him would be counted as opposed to the person sought to be defeated; one who has died is no longer a person for whom, under section 2, article IX of the constitution, a voter may cast his ballot. State ex rel. Wolff v. Geurkink, 111 M 417, 426, 109 P 2d 1094, 133 ALR 304.

23-3607. No person except election judge to put ballot or other object in a ballot box—penalty. No person, except an election judge shall put a ballot, any paper resembling a ballot, or anything other than a ballot in a ballot box. A person violating this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. An election judge who knowingly permits a violation of this act is guilty of a felony.

History: En. Sec. 107, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3608. Putting ballot in box. If the name of an elector appears in the official register of the precinct, or if the person offering to vote produces a proper registry certificate and his vote is not rejected upon a challenge, the election judge must immediately and publicly in the presence of all the judges, place the ballot in the ballot box without opening or examining it.

History: En. Sec. 108, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3609. Judges may aid disabled elector. (1) The election judges shall aid an elector, who because of physical disability or inability to read or write, needs assistance in marking his ballot.

(2) The elector shall be assisted by two (2) judges who represent different parties. The disabled elector may request that a qualified elector he designates also aid him in voting. The election judges must certify on the official register opposite the disabled elector's name that the ballot was marked with their assistance and the name of any other elector designated. Neither the judges nor a person who aided the elector may reveal information regarding the ballot.

(3) The election judges shall require the declaration of disability by the elector under oath. They are authorized to administer the oath.

(4) No elector, other than the one who is unable to vote, may divulge to anyone within the polling place the name of any candidate for whom he intends to vote, or ask or receive the assistance of any person within the polling place in the preparation of his ballot.

(5) Instead of assistance, as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the elector may request the assistance of any qualified elector whom he designates to the judges to aid him in the marking of his ballot, and the judges must certify on the official register opposite the name of such disabled elector that it was so marked with their assistance.

History: En. Sec. 109, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Evidence

Where it appeared in an election contest that a voter's ballot had been endorsed by the judges of election, as required by law, it was necessary to show that it could not thereby be identified, in order to let in, as secondary evidence, testimony as to how he voted. Lane v. Bailey, 29 M 548, 560, 75 P 191.

Need Not Certify Reason for Assistance

A ballot bearing the endorsement: "Voted by H. and M. (judges election) for illegibility of voter," was not void on the ground that the reason given for assisting the voter was not one recognized by law, since section does not require the judges to certify the reason for assisting an elector, and the words "for illegibility of voter" were therefore surplusage; and in the absence of a showing why they gave assistance, it will be presumed that they regularly performed their official duties. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 599, 101 P 153.

23-3610. Marking precinct register book before elector votes—procedure. (1) The election judges at every primary, general or special election shall, in the precinct register book, mark a cross (X) upon the line opposite to the name of the elector.

(2) Before an elector is permitted to vote, the election judges shall require the elector to sign his name on the place designated in the precinct register.

(3) The election judges shall require an elector not able to sign his name to produce two (2) electors who shall make an affidavit before the election judges, or one (1) of them, in a form prescribed by the secretary of state.

(4) The affidavit shall be filed by the election judges, and returned to the registrar with the returns of the election. One (1) of the judges shall write the elector's name, note the fact of his inability to sign, and the names of the two (2) electors.

(5) If the elector fails or refuses to sign his name, and if unable to write fails to procure two (2) electors who will take the oath required, he shall not be allowed to vote.

(6) Immediately after the canvass of the returns, the election judges shall deliver to the registrar the official register, sealed, with the election returns and pollbook which have been used for the election.

(7) Each precinct shall keep a list of persons voting, and the name of each person who votes shall be entered in it and numbered in the order voting. This list is known as the pollbook.

History: En. Sec. 110, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 254, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "primary" in subsection (1).

23-3611. Grounds of challenge. A person offering to vote may be orally challenged by any elector of the county, upon the following grounds:

(1) That he is not the person whose name appears on the register or checklist;

(2) That he has been adjudicated insane or is confined to a state institution;

(3) That he has voted before that day;

(4) That he has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned.

History: En. Sec. 111, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Cross-References

Challenges at nominating elections, sec. 94-1446.

23-3612. Proceedings on challenges for want of identity, having voted before, and conviction of felony. (1) If the challenge is on the ground that the person is not the person whose name appears on the official register, the election judges shall administer the following oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you are the person whose name is entered on the official register and precinct list."

(2) If the challenge is on the ground that the person has voted before that day, the judges shall administer this oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you have not before voted this day."

(3) If the challenge is on the ground that the person has been convicted of a felony, the judges shall administer the following oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you have not been convicted of a felony."

History: En. Sec. 112, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3613. Challenges, how determined. (1) Challenges on the grounds that the person is not the person whose name appears on the official register or that the person has before voted that day are determined in favor of the person challenged by his taking the oath tendered.

(2) A challenge that the person has been convicted of a felony and not pardoned must be determined in favor of the challenged on his taking the oath tendered, unless the conviction is proved by producing an authenticated copy of the record, or by oral testimony of two (2) witnesses.

(a) If a person convicted of a felony states he was pardoned, he must exhibit his pardon or certified copy to the election judges.

(b) If the pardon is found sufficient, the election judges shall administer this oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you have not been convicted of any felony other than that for which a pardon is now exhibited."

(c) After taking the oath, the person must be allowed to vote if otherwise qualified, unless a conviction of some other felony is proved.

History: En. Sec. 113, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3614. If a person refuses to be sworn, vote to be rejected. If a person challenged refuses to take the oath tendered, or refuses to be sworn and to answer the questions touching the matter of residence, he shall not be allowed to vote.

History: En. Sec. 114, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3615. Trial of challenges. Challenges for causes other than those specified in this chapter must be tried and determined by the election judges at the time of the challenge.

History: En. Sec. 115, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3616. Proceedings upon determination of challenges. If the challenge is determined against the person offering to vote, the ballot shall, without examination, be destroyed by the election judges in the presence of the person offering the challenge. If determined in his favor, the ballot must be deposited in the ballot box.

History: En. Sec. 116, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3617. List of challenges to be kept. The election judges shall require each election clerk to keep a list showing:

(1) The names of all persons challenged;

(2) The grounds of each challenge;

(3) The determination of the election judges upon the challenge.

History: En. Sec. 117, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3618. Poll watchers—announcement of voter's name. The election judges shall permit one (1) poll watcher from each political party to station himself close to the poll lists in a location that does not interfere with election procedures. At the time that each elector signs his name, one (1) of the election judges shall pronounce the name loud enough to be heard by the poll watchers. A poll watcher who does not understand the pronunciation has the right to request that the judge repeat the name. Poll watchers shall also be permitted to observe all of the vote-counting procedures of the judges and all entries of the results of the elections.

History: En. Sec. 118, Ch. 368, L. 1969.
